SPURSTONE ANNOUNCES THE LAUNCH OF THEIR NEW ARCHITECTURE-THEMED BRAND

AVON, CT (June 18, 2019) — Spurstone Advisory Services, LLC, is proud to announce the launch of their new image and website, which positions them as the Architects of Executive Wealth.

Spurstone launched the new brand across their website this month, featuring a new look and architecture-themed messaging to illustrate their expertise and to highlight the clarity, precision, and control they offer to stock-compensated corporate executives through custom-designed plans.

“The architectural design component of our new brand really fits who we are and is something our clientele can identify with,” says partner Tim Golas. “The concept of hiring a reputable architect to build your home — your most important and most impactful project of your life — makes sense to successful families.”

This year, Spurstone also celebrates its tenth year of empowering executives and providing specialized advice, and the firm has now consulted on over 1,000 executive wealth design plans.

“Our focus has always been on the needs of our clients,” says partner Ted De Groot. “Our evolution and rebranding emphasize that our growth and our model dynamic is designed for that corporate executive and offers them a team who supports their ongoing needs.”
