Four SageView Advisors Named to NAPA's 2018 Class of "Young Guns", the Top Retirement Plan Advisors Under 40

January 9, 2018 – Four advisors from SageView Advisory Group, an independent Registered Investment Advisory firm providing retirement plan consulting services to clients throughout the United States, have been named among the top young advisors in the country by the National Association of Plan Advisors (NAPA) for 2018.

Ken Barnes (Richmond, VA), Vanessa Larareo (Boston, MA), David Shnapek (Woodside, CA), and Todd Stewart (Knoxville, TN), were named to the 2018 Top Retirement Plan Advisors Under 40 list.

Established in 2014, this list is based on applications received from nominees designated by NAPA Broker-Dealer/RIA Firm Partners. Those applications are vetted by a blue ribbon panel of senior advisor industry experts based on a combination of quantitative and qualitative data submitted by the nominees, as well as a broker-check review, and voted on by thousands in the retirement plan industry. These “Young Guns” are widely seen as the future leaders of the retirement plan advisor industry, according to the publication.

This year there was a 10% increase in nominations bringing the total to over 600. Due to “quantity of qualifying advisors” NAPA acknowledged 75 top young retirement plan advisors in the industry. “We are thrilled to have four advisors represented in this year’s class of young advisors. All four associates have the type of work ethic and talent we aim to attract and develop at SageView. Their dedication to their clients is impressive and we look forward to seeing them continue to grow in their roles,” said Randy Long, CEO.

These Top Retirement Plan Advisors Under 40 will be featured in a future issue of NAPA Net the Magazine and acknowledged at the 2018 NAPA 401(k) Summit in Nashville, TN, April 15-17. SageView would like to thank everyone who supported SageView in the voting process and congratulate all the nominees and winners!
