

Kessler Investments, Inc. is proud to introduce its newest team member, Nicholas Rumke. Nick is a recent graduate of Olivet Nazarene University in Bourbonnais, Illinois and a former resident of Bel Air, Maryland. His degree in Economics and Finance as well as Business Administration has provided a great foundation for his new position as Director of Planning with Kessler Investments. Nick will be assisting client's with designing a plan for them to reach financial independence.

Nick might already seem familiar to some as he interned at Kessler Investments this past summer. When asked why he chose to accept a position with Kessler Investments he said he enjoyed seeing the positive impact he could make on a person's life being able to work directly with them.

Nick also liked the idea of being able to become part of a small community. He appreciated how intertwined the Kessler Team was with their local community through Masons, Rotary, the Athol Area YMCA and the North Quabbin Chamber of Commerce, as well as many other activities. He is looking forward to diving right in becoming part of the community. Nick has already joined in on a local tradition by paddling in the 56th Annual River Rat Race with Bill Kessler and is an active member of the Athol Area YMCA.

If you are interested in meeting with the Kessler Team to create your own plan for financial independence you may visit their offices at 2070 Main Street Athol, MA or by calling 978-249-2837.
