We've Teamed Up with 5 "Research All-Stars"

Dear Clients:

We are very pleased to announce that our broker/dealer, Commonwealth Financial Network®, has recently been recognized by Financial Advisor and Private Wealth magazines for the second time for having an all-star research team. Commonwealth's Brad McMillan, Vice President, Chief Investment Officer; Simon Heslop, Vice President, Asset Management; Brian Price, Director, Asset Management; Fred DeBaets, Senior Fixed Income Analyst; and Jim McAllister, Senior Investment Research Analyst were selected based on nominations from readers. Nominated by readers, the 5 are among the top 8 nominees out of more than 600 research managers throughout the country; of the 8 firms named, Commonwealth is the only firm with 5 individual all-stars.

We are fortunate to have a strong partnership with Commonwealth that includes access to its all-star Investment Research team. Team members provide us with support in offering timely and valuable guidance to our clients relative to the economy, markets, and individual investment strategies. We are proud to have this award-winning "bench" behind us, which only further benefits you as we help you pursue your financial success.

As always, we encourage you to contact us at 313-343-0800 to discuss your investment portfolio.

Sincerely,

Lina Bowman, MBA
