Douglas C. Radcliffe, owner of Invest Central of San Antonio, qualified as a Court of the Table producer to attend this year's Million Dollar Round Table (MDRT) Annual Meeting, which took place June 10-13 in Anaheim, California.

Approximately 7,500 top producers from 80 countries attended what's become known as one of the greatest gatherings of financial professionals worldwide, showcasing innovative sales ideas in the life insurance-based and financial services fields.

The MDRT Annual Meeting offers some 100 speakers and this year featured, among many leading experts, Peter Ricchiuti, former assistant treasurer for the state of Louisiana and revered financial market professor at the A.B. Freeman School of Business at Tulane University, as well as prolific author Nick Murray, who has written 11 books for financial services professionals including, "Simple Wealth, Inevitable Wealth."

"This is a useful forum for learning about what financial issues and solutions are being explored around the world, that are of particular relevance to our clients," Radcliffe says.

Admittance to the prestigious Million Dollar Round Table draws from the top six percent of the life insurance and financial services industries. Members must qualify yearly based on carefully outlined production criteria.

As a Court of the Table qualifier, Doug Radcliffe tripled the minimum performance required for basic eligibility.
