PCG Wealth Advisors, LLC (PCG) is registered with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission as an Investment Adviser. We have Financial Professionals who offer investment advisory accounts and services and the fees differ from brokerage accounts and services and it is important for the retail investor to understand the differences which are outlined in this document. Free and simple tools are available to research firms and financial professionals at Investor.gov/CRS, which also provides educational materials about broker-dealers, investment advisers, and investing.

What investment services and advice can you provide me?

PCG Wealth Management regularly meets with clients, no less than annually, to provide investment advice, develop strategies and define goals. PCG offers a wrap fee program, non-wrap fee program & financial planning to retail investors. Assets can be managed on a discretionary basis. Discretionary authority allows PCG Wealth Management to buy and sell securities without asking in advance whereas non-discretionary authority would limit us to offering advice but you make the decision to buy or sell. PCG monitors retail investors' investments on an ongoing basis. There is no account minimum and PCG is not limited to proprietary products or types of investments. More detailed information about our services can be found in the most recent Disclosure Brochure www.adviserinfo.sec.gov/firm/brochure/290977.

Our Financial Professionals are registered representatives of LPL Financial LLC ("LPL"), an SEC registered broker-dealer and investment adviser. Your Financial Professional may offer you brokerage services through LPL or investment advisory services through PCG Wealth Management. Brokerage services and investment advisory services are different, and the fees we, and LPL, charge for those services are different. It is important that you understand the differences. In particular, your Financial Professional may earn additional transaction-based compensation and have additional conflicts of interest as a result of providing brokerage services through LPL. You are encouraged to learn more about LPL by reviewing <https://www.lpl.com/disclosures.html> and having a discussion with your Financial Professional. You can also access free and simple tools to help you research firms and financial professionals at Investor.gov/CRS, which also provides educational materials about broker-dealers, investment advisers, and investing.

QUESTIONS TO ASK YOUR PROFESSIONAL: Given my financial situation, should I choose an investment advisory service? Why or why not? How will you choose investments to recommend to me? What is your relevant experience, including your licenses, education and other qualifications? What do these qualifications mean?

What fees will I pay?

We offer two different types of advisory accounts, non-wrap fee programs and wrap fee programs. In a wrap fee program, the asset-based fee will include most transaction costs and fees to the broker/dealer that will hold your assets (called "custody"). You will generally pay an additional transaction fee for an investment bought or sold outside of a wrap fee program. In a non-wrap fee program, the asset-based fee does not include transactions costs and fees to the broker/dealer. Depending upon the frequency of trading in the account, one account type will be more cost effective than the other.

The amount paid to our firm and your Financial Professional generally does not vary based on the type of investment we select on your behalf. PCG Wealth Management strives to use the most cost-effective investment choices but in some instances a transaction fee, known as a ticket charge, will apply. Some investments impose additional fees that will reduce the value of investments over time such as mutual fund expense ratios, 12b-1 fees and variable annuity insurance costs. Certain investments include fees upon sale such as a variable annuity surrender fee or a mutual fund redemption fee. Advisory fees are negotiable, not to exceed 1.6% annually, and based on the scope and complexity of your account, the amount of time and expertise required as well as the account value. The more assets you have in an advisory account, including cash, the more you will pay us. We therefore have an incentive to increase the assets in your account in order to increase your fees. You pay our advisory fee quarterly even if you do not buy or sell during the fee period. The Client may also incur other costs assessed by the Custodian or other parties for account related activity fees, such as wire transfer fees and other fees. Financial planning fees are negotiable based on the nature and complexity of the services to be provided. The maximum financial planning fees are $10,000 for a fixed engagement fee and $500 per hour for hourly engagements.

You will pay fees and costs whether you make or lose money on your investments. Fees and costs will reduce any amount of money you make on your investments over time. Please make sure you understand what fees and costs you are paying.

QUESTIONS TO ASK YOUR PROFESSIONAL: Help me understand how these fees and costs might affect my investments. If I give you $10,000 to invest, how much will go to fees and costs, and how much will be invested for me?

What are your legal obligations to me when acting as my investment adviser? How else does your firm make money and what conflicts of interest do you have?

When we act as your investment adviser, we have to act in your best interest and not put our interest ahead of yours. At the same time, the way we make money creates some conflicts with your interests. You should understand and ask us about these conflicts because they can affect the investment advice we provide you. Here are some examples to help you understand what this means.

We are held to a fiduciary standard that covers our entire investment advisory relationship with you. Our interests can conflict with your interests. We must eliminate these conflicts or tell you about them in a way you can understand, so you that you can decide whether or not to agree to them. Fees and costs affect the value of your account over time. Please ask your Financial Professional to give you personalized information on the fees and costs you will pay.

Certain Professionals are also licensed as an independent insurance professional in which they earn commission-based compensation for selling insurance products, including insurance products they sell to you. Insurance commissions earned by these persons are separate and in addition to our advisory fees

QUESTIONS TO ASK YOUR PROFESSIONAL: How might your conflicts of interest affect me, and how will you address them?

How do your financial professionals make money?

Our Financial Professionals receive compensation by charging a quarterly on-going asset management fee, not to exceed 1.6% annually, based on the value of cash and other investments in your advisory account. Our Financial Professionals can also receive compensation based on a fixed fee or an hourly fee for financial planning depending on the services provided as disclosed in our Disclosure Brochure www.adviserinfo.sec.gov/firm/brochure/290977.
