Item 4 – Advisory Business

Sunbelt Securities, Inc. (“Sunbelt”) was formed in 1995 as a corporation organized under the laws of the State of Texas. Sunbelt is not a publicly traded corporation and no one owns 25% or more of the company.

Sunbelt is registered as a broker/dealer and as an investment adviser with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (“SEC”). Sunbelt is a member of the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority (“FINRA”), the Municipal Securities Rulemaking Board (“MSRB”) and the Securities Investor Protection Corporation (“SIPC”). Registered Persons affiliated with Sunbelt Securities, Inc. recommend certain securities for which they receive a commission, markup or markdown. Registered Persons, affiliated with Sunbelt Securities, Inc., who offer various advisory services for which they receive a fee are called Investment Advisory Representatives (“IARs”). For purposes of this document, Sunbelt Securities, Inc. (“Sunbelt”) refers to its registration as a Registered Investment Adviser. The advisory services offered through Sunbelt Securities, Inc. are described in this Disclosure Brochure.

There are risks associated with any investment or advisory service. There are no guarantees of the success of any particular investment or strategy and it is possible that some or all of the principal could be lost. Past performance is not a guarantee of future performance; Clients invest at their own risk.

Tax implications are a critical component of any investment strategy. Therefore, depending on the strategy that a Client chooses to implement, it is possible that any trading activity could result in a taxable event and lower investment return. Investments may have tax or legal consequences, so Clients should contact their own tax professionals and attorneys to help answer questions about specific situations or needs.

When investing in mutual funds, variable annuities and alternative investments, Clients are strongly encouraged to review the applicable prospectus. Mutual funds, variable annuities and certain variable annuity riders may impose certain restrictions on the frequency, timing and dollar amount of transactions and may impose penalty fees based upon short-term trading patterns. These restrictions may impact the services provided by the IAR or a Third Party Money Manager/Sub-Advisor.

As of December 31st, 2017, the total amount of assets managed by Sunbelt’s IARs on a discretionary basis is $300,874,654 and $0 on a non-discretionary basis. Discretion means that an IAR does not need prior permission to conduct transactions or render advisory services in Client accounts.

Sunbelt’s IARs may offer the following services to their Clients:

- A. Sunbelt Rep Directed Wrap Fee Program;
- B. Financial Planning and Non-Asset Management Services; and
- C. Recommendation of Third Party Money Managers/Sub-Advisors.

Below is specific information about each service.

A. The Sunbelt RD Wrap Fee Program

- The Sunbelt Rep Directed Wrap Fee Program (“Sunbelt RD”) is a wrap program designed to provide investment advisory services to the Client by a Sunbelt IAR through an Investment Advisory Agreement - Wrap (“Agreement”) and to assist in the determination of an asset allocation utilizing selected securities designed to meet the Client’s individual investment needs and goals. Generally, the Client must invest a minimum of $25,000.00 to open a Sunbelt RD account, however this requirement can be waived at the discretion of Sunbelt.
- Each IAR tailors the advisory services within Sunbelt RD accounts to the individual needs of his/her Clients by obtaining information regarding the Clients' individual objectives, goals and risk tolerance and developing an investment strategy or selecting a portfolio designed to work toward the particular Client's needs. The Client may impose restrictions on investing in certain types of securities by informing the IAR of their wishes.

- A wrap pricing structure allows the Client to pay an inclusive fee for account management, brokerage, and clearance. A portion of the fee is paid to the IAR and to Sunbelt for the respective services of each. Clients should consider that, depending upon the level of the wrap fee charges, the amount of portfolio activity in their accounts, the value of services that are provided under the investment program and other factors, the wrap fee may or may not exceed the aggregate cost of services if they were to be provided separately. Generally, wrap programs are relatively less expensive for actively traded accounts; however, wrap programs may result in higher overall costs to the Client in accounts that experience infrequent trading activity.
- Clients opening an Sunbelt RD should receive a copy of the Sunbelt RD Wrap Fee Program Brochure. The Sunbelt RD Wrap Fee Program Brochure contains additional information concerning wrap programs in general and the Sunbelt RD program in specific, including disclosure of fees payable by the Client.

B. Financial Planning and Non-Asset Management Services Program

- Sunbelt's Financial Planning and Non-Asset Management Services Program ("Financial Planning Services") do not involve the active management of Client accounts, but instead focus on a Client's overall financial situation. Financial planning typically involves helping individuals determine and set long-term financial goals, through investments, tax planning, asset allocation, risk management, retirement planning and other areas.
- Upon execution of the Financial Planning Agreement, the Client's IAR will provide financial planning services in the form of a written financial plan. Area(s) that may be addressed include, but are not limited to:
 - Cash Flow Analysis;
 - College Planning;
 - Tax Planning;
 - Liability Review;
 - Retirement Planning;
 - Insurance Review; and/or
 - Estate Planning.
- Following are important items that Financial Planning Services Clients should be aware of:
 - The U.S. Department of Labor uses the term "fiduciary" to describe persons who provide advice and/or services to Employee Retirement Income Security Act ("ERISA") qualified retirement plans. Persons or organizations requesting these types of services are strongly advised to consult with attorneys and tax advisors who are familiar with ERISA regulations that affect retirement accounts to ensure that the retirement plan follows all applicable regulations. While Sunbelt's IARs may offer some advice, they may not act as an administrator of the retirement plan itself.
 - When Sunbelt IARs advise Clients on securities and/or accounts which are not held at Sunbelt, the IAR offers advice only. The accounts are not discretionary—the IAR will not be able to make any changes within the account(s). Clients may request that their chosen IAR advise them on asset allocation within those accounts. As Sunbelt and the IAR are unable to view the accounts directly, the Client must provide the IAR with updated account statements, listings of available choices within the account and the amount and regularity of contributions. In these situations, the IAR will provide the Client(s) with allocation advice; however the Client is responsible for completing the transactions within the account. The Client may not give user names and passwords to the IAR for accounts.
 - Financial Planning Services offered by IARs should not be considered comprehensive and Clients are advised to consult with other professionals including but not limited to accountants, tax advisors, attorneys, insurance professionals, etc. for a more comprehensive review and evaluation of the effects of advice offered by the IAR on a Client's particular situation.

- Services provided through Financial Planning Services are based on the Client's financial situation at the time and are based on the financial information disclosed by the Client to the IAR. Clients are advised that certain assumptions may be made with respect to interest and inflation rates and the use of past trends and performance of the market and economy. Past performance is in no way an indication of future performance. Sunbelt cannot offer any guarantees or promises that the Client's financial goals and objectives will be met. As the Client's financial situation, goals, objectives or needs change, the Client should notify the IAR promptly.

C. Recommendation of Third Party Money Manager/Sub-Advisor

- After gathering information about a Client's financial situation, investment objectives, risk tolerance and other data, an IAR of Sunbelt may assist the Client in selecting a particular Third Party Money Manager/Sub-Advisor. IARs may utilize a number of factors in determining a prudent Third Party Money Manager/Sub-Advisor including but not limited to performance, investment objectives, fees and methods of analysis, and comparing those factors to the Client's goals and objectives (determining risk tolerance and investment styles).
- Sunbelt's IARs may refer a Client to one of various Third Party Money Managers/Sub-Advisors for asset management services. Third Party Money Manager/Sub-Advisors may have differing minimum account requirements and a variety of fee ranges. All securities transactions are decided upon and executed by the Third Party Money Manager/Sub-Advisor. IARs may contact the Client periodically and may review the Client's financial situation, objectives, and restrictions and communicate information to the Third Party Money Manager/Sub-Advisor; and may assist the Client in understanding and evaluating the services provided by the Third Party Money Manager/Sub-Advisor.
- Clients who are referred to a Third Party Money Manager/Sub-Advisor are directed to the disclosure document for the Third Party Money Manager/Sub-Advisor and any separate written agreement(s) between the Client and the Third Party Money Manager/Sub-Advisor for more complete information regarding the terms and conditions of the Client's relationship with the Third Party Money Manager/Sub-Advisor.
- Each Third Party Money Manager/Sub-Advisor maintains its own separate execution, clearing and custodial relationships.
- When Clients are referred to Third Party Money Manager/Sub-Advisors, the IAR does not manage the Client's assets. The assets are directly managed by the selected Third Party Money Manager/Sub-Advisor.

Item 5 – Fees and Compensation

Clients should note that the same or similar service to those described in Item 4 above may be available elsewhere at a lower cost to the Client.

This section of the Brochure lists additional information concerning fees and compensation for all investment advisory services available through Sunbelt with the exception of the Sunbelt RD, which are disclosed in the Sunbelt RD Wrap Fee Program Brochure.

A. Educational Workshops/Seminars

- Sunbelt and the IAR may receive compensation for the sale of securities or other investment products provided or sold to the Client following the seminar, including but not limited to: investment company securities, variable products or other assets purchased within advisory accounts. Additionally, these products may have additional internal expenses such as custodial fees, account maintenance fees and/or a portion of fund manager fees that the Client will pay indirectly through the cost of the fund. In these instances, this compensation will be in addition to any advisory fee and will result in increased costs to the Client. This practice presents a perceived conflict of interest. To combat these conflicts, Sunbelt has implemented policies that are described in Item 5 under each applicable advisory program and/or service.
- Clients have the option to purchase investments recommended by Sunbelt's IARs through other persons who are not affiliated with Sunbelt.

B. Financial Planning Services

- Compensation for Financial Planning Services is structured as a fee that is negotiable at the sole discretion of the IAR depending upon a number of factors including, but not limited to, the amount of the assets being reviewed, the nature and extent of account relationships between Sunbelt and its affiliates with the Client, the type and complexity of services requested and other factors that the IAR deems relevant. The fee for the services shall be a total fixed fee which cannot exceed $3,000.00. The fee may be payable annually, semi-annually or quarterly.
- The Client may pay the fee either by writing a personal check (made payable to, "Sunbelt Securities, Inc.") or by granting written permission to debit the fees from an existing account at Sunbelt. The Client may select whether or not they wish to be billed or wish to have the fees debited from an existing account.
- In the event that the Client elects to act on any recommendations made by the IARs, acting in their capacity as Registered Persons of Sunbelt, the Investment Adviser Representative may receive additional commissions, markups, markdowns or advisory fees if the Client chooses to implement any plan recommended and purchases a product or opens an account. This practice presents a perceived conflict of interest. To combat these conflicts, Sunbelt has implemented policies that are described in Item 5 under each applicable advisory program and/or service.
- Payment for services is due according to the terms noted in the Financial Planning Agreement.
- Services must be rendered within six (6) months of payment if the upfront payment of any fee option is selected.
- For services that will be provided for a flat fee, or one-time only services, the Financial Planning Agreement will no longer be in effect once the services have been completed by the IAR and the Client has paid for the services.
- For ongoing Financial Planning Services, Sunbelt, the IAR or the Client may, upon written notice to the others, end the Financial Planning Agreement. In the event of cancellation, Sunbelt and/or the Investment Adviser Representatives may decide the amount to be charged to the Client based upon the time and resources expended. Generally, Clients will be charged for the portion of work performed and any unearned fees will be refunded to the Client, as applicable.
- Sunbelt and the IAR may receive compensation for the sale of securities or other investment products provided or sold to the Client following the provision of Financial Planning Services. This compensation will be in addition to any financial planning fee and will result in increased costs to the Client. This practice presents a perceived conflict of interest. To combat these conflicts, Clients to whom Sunbelt offers financial planning services are informed that they are free to select any broker/dealer, investment advisory firm or insurance agency for implementation of the advice and recommendations provided by Sunbelt's IAR.

- Clients have the option to purchase investments recommended by Sunbelt’s IARs through other persons who are not affiliated with Sunbelt.

C. Third Party Money Manager/Sub-Advisor

- Sunbelt’s IAR will receive a portion of the fee charged by the Third Party Money Manager/Sub-Advisor.
- Clients should be aware that Third Party Money Manager/Sub-Advisors may not be willing to negotiate their fees and Sunbelt is not authorized to negotiate a Third Party Money Manager/Sub-Advisor’s fees.
- Fees charged to the Client by Third Party Money Manager/Sub-Advisors are debited directly from the Client’s account. Compensation for Third Party Money Manager/Sub-Advisor accounts generally consists of: i) Management and advisory fees shared by the Third Party Money Manager/Sub-Advisor, Sunbelt and its IARs; ii) Transaction costs for the underlying securities; and iii) Custody fees.
- Some Third Party Money Manager/Sub-Advisors’ fees may be separate from any advisory fee charged by Sunbelt.
- Fees paid by the Client to Third Party Money Manager/Sub-Advisors are established and payable according to the Third Party Money Manager/Sub-Advisor’s fee schedule. Third Party Money Manager/Sub-Advisor accounts can only be closed by following the process described in the Third Party Money Manager/Sub-Advisor’s disclosure documentation. Refunds of pre-paid fees may be obtained by the Client as noted in the Third Party Money Manager/Sub-Advisor’s Client agreement.
- Investment company securities and variable life products have internal expenses such as custodial fees, internal administrative fees and/or a portion of fund manager fees that the Client will pay indirectly through the cost of the fund. This compensation will be in addition to any advisory fee and will result in increased costs to the Client. This practice presents a perceived conflict of interest. To combat these conflicts, Sunbelt’s IARs will provide, at the time of opening a Third Party Money Manager’s/Sub-Advisor’s account, the Client with the applicable Third Party Money Manager’s/Sub-Advisor’s disclosure statement and account documentation, explaining the role and fees of Sunbelt, its IARs and the Third Party Money Manager/Sub-Advisor.
- Clients have the option to purchase investments recommended by Sunbelt’s IARs through other persons who are not affiliated with Sunbelt.

Item 6 – Performance-Based Fees and Side-by-Side Management

Advisory fees that are based upon a share of capital gains or capital appreciation of assets of an advisory Client are commonly referred to as “performance-based fees.” Sunbelt does not collect nor does it permit its IARs to accept performance-based fees. Sunbelt does not engage in side-by-side management.

Item 7 – Types of Clients

Sunbelt, through its IARs, offers investment advisory services to retail, entity and institutional Clients. Prior to opening an investment advisory account or engaging an IAR for any service through Sunbelt, Clients must complete a Sunbelt Brokerage Application and/or Customer Profile Form and any additional account documentation, contracts and/or agreements.

Sunbelt RD accounts require a minimum investment of $25,000. This may be waived at the discretion of Sunbelt. No minimum investment is required for educational workshops/seminars and Financial Planning Services.

Clients wishing to participate in a Third Party Money Manager/Sub-Advisor program are advised to review the account opening documentation, as the minimum investment amounts vary for each program specific to that Third Party Money Manager/Sub-Advisor.

All types of advisory programs offered through Sunbelt may require that Clients maintain these minimum investment amounts after the account opening in order to continue receiving the services chosen by the Client.

Item 8 – Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

Sunbelt IARs use various methods of analysis and investment strategies. Methods and strategies will vary based on the Sunbelt IAR providing advice. Models and strategies used by one IAR may be different than strategies used by other IARs. Some Sunbelt IARs may use just one method or strategy while other IARs may rely on multiple. Sunbelt does not require or mandate a particular investment strategy be implemented by its IARs.

Further, Sunbelt has no requirements for using a particular analysis method and Sunbelt IARs are provided flexibility (subject to Sunbelt's supervision and compliance requirements) when developing their investment strategies. Each IAR affiliated with Sunbelt selects from a variety of sources from which they obtain information and data concerning securities, which they use to formulate their individual investment strategy(ies). Clients are advised to become familiar with the sources of information used by their IAR and to ask any questions that they may have regarding those information sources. Prior to investing Clients should ensure that they understand and agree with the method(s) of analysis and investment strategy(ies) used by their IAR.

The following sections provide brief descriptions of some (not all) of the more common methods of analysis and investment strategies that are used by Sunbelt IARs.

A. Methods of Analysis

- Fundamental. Fundamental analysis is a method of evaluating a company or security by attempting to measure its intrinsic value. In other words, trying to determine a company's or security's true value by looking at all aspects of the business, including both tangible factors (e.g., machinery buildings, land, etc.) and intangible factors (e.g., patents, trademarks, "brand" names, etc.). Fundamental analysis also involves examining related economic factors (e.g., overall economy and industry conditions, etc.), financial factors (e.g., company debt, interest rates, management salaries and bonuses, etc.), qualitative factors (e.g., management expertise, industry cycles, labor relations, etc.), and quantitative factors (e.g., debt-to-equity and price-to-equity ratios). The end goal of performing fundamental analysis is to produce a value that an investor can compare with the security's current price in hopes of figuring out what sort of position to take with that security (underpriced = buy, overpriced = sell or short).
- Technical. This method of evaluating securities analyzes statistics generated by market activity, such as past prices and volume. Technical analysts do not attempt to measure a security's intrinsic value, but instead use charts and other tools to identify patterns that can suggest future activity. Technical analysts believe that the historical performance of stocks and markets are indications of future performance.

- Charting. Charting is the set of techniques used in technical analysis in which charts are used to plot price movements, volume, settlement prices, open interest and other indicators, in order to anticipate future price movements. Users of these techniques, called chartists, believe that past trends in these indicators can be used to extrapolate future trends.
- Cyclical. This method of analysis focuses on the investments sensitive to business cycles and whose performance is strongly tied to the overall economy. The stock price of a cyclical company will often rise just before an economic upturn begins, and fall just before a downturn begins. Investors in cyclical stocks try to make the largest gains by buying the stock at the bottom of a business cycle, just before a turnaround begins.

Prior to investing, Clients should ensure that they understand and agree with the method(s) of analysis used by their IAR.

B. Investment Strategies

- Long Term Purchases. Investments held at least a year.
- Short Term Purchases. Investments sold within a year.
- Short Sales. A short sale is generally the sale of a stock not owned by the investor. Investors who sell short believe the price of the stock will fall. If the price drops, the investor can buy the stock at the lower price and make a profit. If the price of the stock rises and the investor buys it back later at the higher price, the investor will incur a loss. Short sales require a margin account.
- Margin Transactions. When an investor buys a stock on margin, the investor pays for part of the purchase and borrows the rest from a brokerage firm. For example, an investor may buy $5,000 worth of stock in a margin account by paying for $2,500 and borrowing $2,500 from a brokerage firm.
- Option Writing including covered options, uncovered options, or spreading strategies. Options are contracts giving the purchaser the right to buy or sell a security, such as stocks, at a fixed price within a specific period of time.
- Tactical Asset Allocation. Allows for a range of percentages in each asset class (such as Stocks = 40- 50%). These are minimum and maximum acceptable percentages that permit the investor to take advantage of market conditions within these parameters. Thus, a minor form of market timing is possible, since the investor can move to the higher end of the range when stocks are expected to do better and to the lower end when the economic outlook is bleak.
- Strategic Asset Allocation. Calls for setting target allocations and then periodically rebalancing the portfolio back to those targets as investment returns skew the original asset allocation percentages. The concept is akin to a “buy and hold” strategy, rather than an active trading approach. Of course, the strategic asset allocation targets may change over time as the Client’s goals and needs change and as the time horizon for major events such as retirement and college funding grow shorter.
- Market Timing Services. Some Sunbelt IARs may provide a market timing service as a, or as part of, an investment strategy. In general, market timing is a strategy where the Sunbelt IAR will try to identify the best times to be in the market and when to get out. This service is designed to take advantage of stock market fluctuations by being invested based on the anticipated market direction. Clients should be aware that this strategy is considered an aggressive, higher-risk investment strategy.
- Modern Portfolio Theory. Proposes that investing in a predetermined asset mix derived from the efficient frontier (dictated to achieve a specific Client objective within a certain risk tolerance) and rebalancing with discipline, the portfolio is diversified across the various asset classes to mitigate unnecessary risk. This also provides for a portfolio that can operate without reliance on market timing and security selection; however, as with all equity investments positive returns are not guaranteed. In conjunction to investing in a diversified portfolio, each portfolio is constructed to meet specific parameters set forth in the individual Client's investment needs and goals. These parameters can include, but are not limited to, tax efficiency, concentrated stock positions and management history.

Prior to investing, Clients should ensure that they understand and agree with the investment strategy(ies) used by their IAR.

C. Risk of Loss

Investing in securities involves risk of loss of principal that Clients should be prepared to bear. All securities are subject to some level of risk which could cause the value of the Client's securities to decrease in value, and in some cases, could result in a loss of the Client's entire investment. Furthermore, Clients must understand that past performance is not indicative of future results. Therefore, current and prospective Clients should never assume that future performance of any specific investment or investment strategy will be profitable. Further, depending on the different types of investments there may be varying degrees of risk. Clients need to be prepared to bear investment loss including loss of original principal.

Because of the inherent risk of loss associated with investing, Sunbelt and its IARs cannot represent, guarantee or even imply that our services and methods of analysis can or will predict future results; successfully identify market tops or bottoms; or insulate a Client from losses due to market corrections or declines.

The following are some types of risk that could affect the value of a Client's portfolio:

- Alternative Investment Risk: Alternative investments, including private placements, are subject to substantial risks, including the absence of a public market, limited transferability, lack of liquidity, payment of significant fees to the general partner(s), and the potential for total investment loss. The alternative investment's ability to achieve its objectives and to pay its distributions (when applicable) depends on the sponsor's ability to appropriately invest, manage and/or operate the underlying investments within the offering.
- Business Risk: Whether because of management or unfortunate circumstances, some businesses will inevitably fail. This is especially true during economic recessions. For example, a company stock may become worthless in the event of a bankruptcy, which would result in a loss of capital to the shareholders.
- Currency or Exchange Rate Risk: Foreign securities face the uncertainty that the value of either the foreign currency or the domestic currency will increase or decrease; either of which may cause the value of the Client's portfolio to fluctuate.
- ETF and Mutual Fund Risk: When investing in an ETF or a mutual fund, there are additional expenses based on a Client's pro rata share of the ETF's or mutual fund's operating expenses, including the potential duplication of management fees. The risk of owning an ETF or mutual fund generally reflects the risks of owning the underlying securities the ETF or mutual fund holds. Leveraged and inverse ETFs may not be suitable for all investors and have unique characteristics and risks.
- Foreign Risk: Foreign markets can be more volatile than the U.S. market due to increased risks of adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market or economic developments and can perform differently from the U.S. market. Special risks associated with investments in foreign companies include exposure to currency fluctuations, less liquidity, less developed or less efficient trading markets, lack of comprehensive company information, political instability and differing auditing and legal standards.
- Inflation Risk: Uncontrolled inflation reduces the buying power of a dollar and may cause uncertainty among individual investors, possibly resulting in corporations backing away from projects which could further reduce the value of corporate equities.

- Interest Rate Risk: If the Federal Reserve pushes interest rates higher, the market prices of bonds may be affected. When interest rates rise, the market price of bonds falls.
- Issuer-Specific Risk. The value of a specific security can be more volatile than the market as a whole and can perform differently from the value of the market as a whole. The value of securities of smaller issuers can be more volatile than that of larger issuers. The value of certain types of securities can be more volatile due to increased sensitivity to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market or economic developments.
- Liquidity Risk: Certain investments lack liquidity or the ability to access their principal quickly, without incurring substantial penalties, or the inability to sell the investment until sometime in the future.
- Margin Risk: Margin values could significantly increase if the position goes against the Client.
- Market Risk: The risk that changes in the overall market will have an adverse effect on individual securities, regardless of the issuer's circumstances.
- Opportunity Risk: Clients or IARs may choose a conservative product to invest in, which could cause the Client to miss out on market upswings which may have increased the value of securities with higher risk. The opposite is also true; market downturns could cause the Client to lose a significant amount of principal invested in higher risk securities, when their funds could have been invested in lower risk options.
- Options Risk: Holding options for long-term periods could weaken and/or reduce the value of the underlying stock, or create the possibility of a worthless position.
- Portfolio Turnover Risk: Portfolio turnover refers to the rate at which investments are replaced. The higher the rate, the higher the transaction and brokerage costs associated with the turnover which may reduce the return, if any, unless the securities traded can be bought and sold without corresponding commission costs. Active trading of securities may also increase a Client's realized capital gains or losses, which may affect a Client's tax obligation.
- Regulatory Risk: Legislative, regulatory and/or judicial changes that impact businesses can drastically change entire industries.
- Reinvestment Risk: Clients may be unable to make additional purchases of a security already in their portfolio at the same rate at which the original purchase was made.
- Short Sale Risk: Positions have unlimited capability to increase in value, which in turn increases the Client's risk, as they would be required to purchase the securities at a high rate in order to cover the short sale.
- Transactional Cost Risk: The Client may incur significant transactional charges in an actively traded account. Frequent trading can decrease the value of a Client's account due to increased brokerage and transaction costs. In addition, frequent trading may cause taxable events to occur, which could increase the Client's tax burden.

Clients should understand and be willing to accept these and other types of risks before choosing to invest in securities or receive investment advisory services. Prior to investing, Clients should ensure that they have discussed and understand the types of risk(s) associated with the method(s) of analysis and investment strategy(ies) used by their IAR.

Item 9 – Disciplinary Information

While Sunbelt is committed to high principles of ethical trade and promotes a culture of compliance, Sunbelt is required to disclose all material facts regarding any legal or disciplinary events that may be material to a Client's evaluation of Sunbelt. Below is a list of those material events:

- On September 16, 2011, the State of Kentucky cited Sunbelt in its capacity as a Registered Investment Adviser for failure to properly register an Investment Adviser Representative, when that Representative was acting in such capacity within the State of Kentucky.

- On or before November 30, 2011, Sunbelt paid a $15,770.76 fine to Kentucky.
- Sunbelt has complied with the Order issued by Kentucky and has devoted the time and resources necessary to ensure continual compliance with Kentucky statutes.

Item 10 – Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

Sunbelt is registered as a broker/dealer and as an investment adviser with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (“SEC”). Sunbelt is a member of the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority (“FINRA”), the Municipal Securities Rulemaking Board (“MSRB”) and the Securities Investor Protection Corporation (“SIPC”).

Below is information that all Clients should be aware of concerning areas of potential conflicts of interest:

A. Broker/Dealers

As stated under Item 4, Sunbelt is dually registered as both a broker/dealer and as a registered investment adviser with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (“SEC”). Customers may purchase securities which result in the payment of commissions through Sunbelt in its capacity as a broker/dealer; while Clients receive continuous asset management services and IARs receive a fee for assets under management through Sunbelt in its capacity as a registered investment adviser. This may create a perceived conflict of interest and Clients are advised to clarify the capacity through which individual products or services are offered and the type of payment that will be received.

Clients who receive Financial Planning Services from Sunbelt IARs may purchase securities through Sunbelt. IARs may receive commissions, markups or markdowns as Registered Persons in connection with other securities transactions. This may be perceived as a conflict of interest. However, Sunbelt’s IARs maintain their independence because they have always been committed to their duties to each customer and regulatory obligations. The payment of a commission is not the determining factor when making a recommendation.

Clients are under no obligation to purchase products or services recommended by the IAR or through the IAR or otherwise through Sunbelt. Clients are free to implement recommendations through any broker/dealer or investment adviser. If the Client requests that the IAR recommend a broker/dealer, the IAR will recommend Sunbelt; however, the Client is under no obligation to effect transactions through Sunbelt.

National Financial Services, LLC (“NFS”) executes trades, settles securities transactions and custodies Client assets in general securities accounts, and Sunbelt RD accounts. The commissions and/or transaction fees charged by Sunbelt and NFS may be higher or lower than those charged by other broker/dealer/custodians. Further, the fees charged by Sunbelt and NFS, or any other designated broker/dealer/custodian, may be exclusive or, and in addition to, Sunbelt investment advisory fees paid to IARs.

B. Independent Registered Investment Advisers

In addition to or in lieu of their registration as IARs of Sunbelt, certain Registered Persons have chosen to set up and register their own investment adviser entities. A Sunbelt Registered Person may establish a separate Registered Investment Adviser which is referred to as an Independent Registered Investment Adviser, and a Registered Person who affiliates with such an Independent Registered Investment Adviser is referred to as an Independent IAR. These Independent IARs are dually licensed in states that permit dual licensing and/or registration. An independent IAR may have three different but concurrent roles:

1. As a Registered Person with Sunbelt who may receive commissions for recommending securities;
2. As an IAR of Sunbelt who may receive a fee for rendering advisory services; and
3. As an Independent IAR of an Independent Registered Investment Advisor who may offer services outside of Sunbelt.

However, the Clients are under no obligation to purchase products recommended by their Independent IAR. These Independent Registered Investment Advisers are not affiliated with Sunbelt. Clients should be clear which entity the services are being offered through and that the appropriate Form ADV Part 2A and Brochure Supplement(s) have been obtained. It is important to note that the information of Clients using the services of these Independent Registered Investment Advisers will be shared with Sunbelt for the purpose of surveilling transactions in the Clients' account(s), as is Sunbelt's regulatory requirement.

C. Arrangements with Unaffiliated Investment Advisers

Sunbelt has developed several programs, previously described in Items 4 and 5, designed to allow Sunbelt's IARs to recommend and select unaffiliated investment advisers for Clients. The selected unaffiliated investment advisers will act as either third-party money managers or sub-advisers. Whenever an unaffiliated investment adviser is selected to manage all or a portion of the Client's assets, the outside investment adviser will be paid a portion of the fees the Client is charged and Sunbelt and its IAR will also receive a portion of the fees the Client is charged. Please refer to Item 5 for full details regarding the programs, fees, conflicts of interest and materials arrangements when selecting third-party money managers or sub-advisers. While Sunbelt's IARs endeavor at all times to put the interests of their Clients first as a part of Sunbelt's fiduciary duty, Clients should be aware that the receipt of commissions and additional compensation itself creates a conflict of interest and may affect the judgment of the IAR when making recommendations.

D. Accountant, Accounting Firm, Lawyer or Law Firm

Some IARs may provide tax, accounting and/or legal services through an accounting firm or law firm, as applicable. IARs providing these types of services do so outside of their affiliation with Sunbelt and the services are not offered through Sunbelt or endorsed by Sunbelt. Clients to whom Sunbelt offers advisory services are informed that they are under no obligation to use the accounting or legal services provided by Sunbelt's IARs and may use the account or legal firm and agent of their choosing.

E. Insurance Companies

Sunbelt's IARs may also be licensed life insurance agents with various insurance companies and may sell insurance products to advisory Clients. Therefore, the Client's IAR, in the capacity as a licensed life agent, may be able to implement insurance recommendations for advisory Clients electing to receive this service. In this event, Sunbelt's IARs, in their separate capacities as licensed insurance agents, will receive separate commission compensation for insurance and/or annuity sales.

This practice presents a perceived conflict of interest, as IARs may have an incentive to recommend insurance products be purchased through the IAR, thus increasing the IAR's compensation. Clients to whom Sunbelt offers advisory services are informed that they are under no obligation to use the insurance services provided by Sunbelt's IARs and may use the insurance firm and agent of their choosing.

Item 11 — Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions, and Personal Trading

A. Code of Ethics

Sunbelt has adopted a Code of Ethics (“Code”), the full text of which is available to Clients and prospective Clients upon request. Sunbelt has several goals in adopting this Code. First, Sunbelt desires to comply with all applicable laws and regulations governing its practice. Sunbelt’s senior management has determined to set forth guidelines for professional standards, under which all associated persons of Sunbelt are to conduct themselves. Sunbelt has set high standards, the intention of which is to protect Client interests at all times and to demonstrate its commitment to its fiduciary duties of honesty, good faith and fair dealing with Clients.

B. Participation or Interest in Client Transactions

Independent IARs affiliated with Independent Registered Investment Advisers offer services outside of Sunbelt, may also receive commissions for underlying investments whether sold through Sunbelt or through another broker/dealer. Sunbelt has implemented supervisory procedures to review transactions and note exceptions that may require further inquiry.

Some IARs of Sunbelt may invest in the same securities that they sell/recommend to Clients. They may also make purchases for their own accounts at or about the same time as the purchases/sales are made in Client accounts. This presents a potential conflict of interest, because IARs may be tempted to place their trades before their Clients. IARs are required to act in the best interests of their Clients at all times. Sunbelt’s process for addressing these conflicts is addressed under the “Personal Trading” section below.

C. Personal Trading

IARs associated with the Firm may buy, sell or recommend investment products identical to those purchased, sold or recommended to Clients for their personal account(s). It is the intent of Sunbelt that Clients will receive priority in order executions before the Firm and/or its representatives. As a result, the Firm’s policy is to attempt to always trade client accounts prior to executing trades in IARs’ personal accounts. This investment policy has been established, recognizing that some securities being considered for purchase and/or sale on behalf of Sunbelt’s Clients trade in sufficiently broad markets to permit transactions by Clients to be completed without an appreciable impact on the markets of the securities. Under certain circumstances, exceptions may be made to the policies stated above with written approval of the Firm’s CCO or designee. Records of these trades, including the reasons for the exceptions, will be maintained with Sunbelt’s records. Sunbelt’s policy may not apply to certain types of securities, such as obligations of the U.S. Government, and shares in open-end mutual funds. Open-end mutual funds are purchased or redeemed at a fixed net asset value price per share specific to the date of purchase or redemption. As such, transactions in mutual funds by IARs are not likely to have an impact on the prices of the fund shares in which Clients invest.

Item 12 — Brokerage Practices

A. Selection of Broker/Dealers

Sunbelt believes that Sunbelt and National Financial Services, LLC provide best execution to its Clients. In seeking best execution, the determinative factor is not the lowest possible cost, but whether the transaction represents the best qualitative execution, taking into consideration the full range of a broker/dealers’ services.

B. Research and Other Soft Dollar Benefits

Sunbelt does not have any soft dollar arrangements and receives no benefits or research from any broker/dealer.

C. Brokerage for Client Referrals

Sunbelt's IARs do not receive Client referrals from a broker/dealer or third party. Thus, in selecting or recommending broker/dealers, Sunbelt does not consider whether Sunbelt or its IARs receive Client referrals from a broker/dealer or third party.

D. Directed Brokerage Accounts

Clients should be aware that not all firms require Clients to custody their assets at a specified custodian and may permit the Client to select the broker/dealer of their choice (referred to as "directing brokerage accounts").

Sunbelt does not permit Clients to direct brokerage accounts. As a result, IARs will recommend that a Client in need of brokerage and custodial services utilize National Financial Services, LLC. Transactions are generally executed through NFS, subject to Sunbelt's duty to obtain "best execution," a price that is as favorable to Clients as possible under the prevailing market conditions. While Sunbelt makes every attempt to obtain the best execution possible, there is no assurance that it will be obtained. Clients should consider whether Sunbelt's programs result in costs or other disadvantages to the Client as a result of possibly less favorable trade executions.

E. Aggregation

With respect to accounts over which Sunbelt has discretionary authority to buy and sell securities, Sunbelt may, but is not required to, aggregate orders for the purchase or sale of securities for the client's account with orders for the same security for other advisory clients of Sunbelt, including orders for Sunbelt, its affiliates, employees and their related persons. Sunbelt will only aggregate client orders when it believes doing so will likely be in the participating clients' best interests. Sunbelt generally will not aggregate orders of client accounts managed by different financial professionals. A client order that is not aggregated with one or more other client orders may be executed at a less favorable price than an aggregated order. The execution of aggregated orders may be subject to delay for certain reasons, including but not limited to the time required for Sunbelt to review proposed orders for compliance with investment restrictions or investment policy guidelines that clients may have provided to Sunbelt. Accordingly, the aggregation of the client's orders with other client orders may cause the client's orders to be executed later, and at different price, than they would have been had the client's orders not been aggregated with other client orders. Aggregated orders will generally be allocated to a client's account at a price equal to the average price per share. On occasion, an aggregated order will not be fully executed, meaning that the entire order could not be reasonably filled. Any partial fill of such an aggregated order will generally be allocated on a pro-rata basis; de minimis deviations from the allocation statement are permitted in the interest of placing round lots in client accounts. Factors that can affect the decision to include an account in a block transaction include, but are not limited to, available cash in each account, the size of each account and order, client or other restrictions on the portfolio in each account, and the desirability of avoiding odd lots.

For specific information on a Money Manager's procedures to address the aggregation of orders, please refer to their Form ADV, Part IIA disclosure.

Item 13 — Review of Accounts

Each IAR will monitor Client accounts and will conduct a review of accounts periodically. Factors that may stimulate additional reviews include, but are not limited to, significant market corrections, large deposits or withdrawals from an account, substantial changes in the value of a Client's portfolio and a change in the Client's investment objectives or risk tolerance.

In addition to the account reviews conducted by IARs, Sunbelt utilizes the following systems and procedures to supervise Client accounts:

- Unbundled Program and Sunbelt RD accounts are supervised through electronic and manual transactional review systems for supervisory review.
- Other investment advisory products and services are reviewed through a number of internal reports run by Sunbelt.
- Sunbelt periodically examines all places of business. During this examination a sampling of accounts and/or transactions are reviewed by the auditor.

Any discrepancies identified may trigger additional reviews of Client accounts, during which Sunbelt may request that IARs supply information concerning their Clients' accounts and/or portfolios.

As a reminder, on at least a quarterly basis, Clients receive account statements from the qualified custodian at which their account is held. Clients are strongly advised to carefully review all statements upon receipt.

Item 14 — Client Referrals and Other Compensation

Sunbelt has entered into solicitor agreements with independent third party investment advisers, pursuant to which Sunbelt and IARs receive solicitor fees from the third party investment advisers in return for referral of Clients. The IAR provides the referred Client a disclosure statement regarding the role of Sunbelt and the IAR as a solicitor agent, but the IAR does not enter into an agreement with the Client to provide ongoing investment advice. Instead, the Client engages the third party investment adviser for advisory services. This practice presents a perceived conflict of interest, as Sunbelt and its IARs are engaged and paid by the third party investment adviser for the referral. Sunbelt addresses this conflict by providing the Client with a disclosure statement explaining the role and the solicitor fees of Sunbelt and its IARs.

Item 15 — Custody

Because many Clients authorize Sunbelt to debit fees for investment advisory services directly from their accounts, Sunbelt is deemed to have "custody" of Client funds and/or securities. Because Client accounts are actually custodied through NFS, the Client will receive account statements from NFS and not directly from Sunbelt. Clients are strongly urged to review their NFS statement and to compare them to any documentation and/or information supplied by their IAR.

Item 16 — Investment Discretion

Sunbelt's IARs can have discretionary or non-discretionary authority over a Client's Sunbelt RD account.

An IAR that has discretionary authority has full judgment over the selection and amount of securities to be purchased or sold for their account, or the amount of securities to be bought or sold, without obtaining the Client's prior consent or approval.

However, the IAR's investment authority may be subject to specified investment objectives, limited to mutual funds or guidelines and/or conditions imposed by the Client. For example, a Client may specify that the investment in any particular stock or industry should not exceed specified percentages of the value of the portfolio and/or restrictions or prohibitions of transactions in the securities of a specific industry.

Discretion is limited and does not extend to the withdrawal or transfer of funds. Discretion is granted in writing by the Client and is listed on the Agreement, as applicable, at the time of execution of the document.

An IAR that has non-discretionary authority must receive authorization from the Client before effecting each transaction in the Account. This includes the ability to buy, sell, exchange or otherwise trade in any and all stocks and ETFs, bonds and other fixed income securities, mutual funds and any other investments. When authorization is received from the Client, this authorization is valid only on the day the authorization was given. Nondiscretionary authority will remain in place unless and until changed, in writing, via the completion of a new Investment Advisory Agreement where Discretionary authority is granted.

Item 17 — Voting Client Securities

Sunbelt and its IARs will not take any action or give any advice with respect to voting of proxies solicited by, or with respect to, the issuers of securities in which the Client's assets may be invested. Generally, all proxy materials will be sent directly to the Client. All proxy related materials received directly by Sunbelt or its IARs will be forwarded to the Client for direct action and the Client understands and agrees that the Client retains the right to vote all proxies which are solicited for securities held in the investment advisory account.

Item 18 — Financial Information

There are no financial conditions that will reasonably impair Sunbelts ability to meet contractual commitments to its Clients. Sunbelt has never been the subject of a bankruptcy proceeding.
