1.2 Redhawk Advisors Fees and Expenses

Redhawk charges a single fee based on the value of the Client’s assets. The single fee includes portfolio management, trading commissions, transaction fees, custody service, and Financial Advisor fees (if applicable).

Fees are calculated and deducted on a monthly basis in arrears based on the average daily balance. The monthly payment shall be equal to 1/12 of the fee multiplied by the average daily balance of the Wrap Account as reported by the Custodian. Thereafter, a Client agreement may be canceled at any time, by either party, for any reason upon receipt of thirty (30) days written notice. Redhawk reserves the right to adjust the fee at its full discretion for any Client.

Clients are required to establish brokerage accounts at an independent qualified custodian (“Custodian” or “Custodians”) identified by Redhawk. All identified Custodians are member firms of FINRA and SIPC.

In determining whether to establish an account, a Client should be aware that the overall cost of the Advisory Services may be higher or lower than the Client might incur by purchasing separately the types of securities available through the Advisory Services. In order to compare the cost of the Advisory Services with unbundled services, the Client should consider the turnover rate in Redhawk’s investment strategies, trading activity in the account, standard advisory fees, and brokerage commissions that would be charged at other broker-dealers and investment advisors.

The Client authorizes Redhawk to debit the advisory fee due from the Client’s account. If insufficient cash is available to pay such fees, securities in an amount equal to the balance of unpaid fees will be liquidated to pay for the unpaid balance. Redhawk reserves the right to reduce the fee at its discretion, including for promotional events that may result in complimentary or reduced advisory fees for new Clients, and/or to current Clients. On an annualized basis, Redhawk’s fee for the Advisory Services is based on the following schedules.

The following model portfolio strategies are covered under the following fee schedule:

1.3 Other Fees and Expenses

Mutual Fund and ETF Fees: All fees paid to Redhawk for investment advisory services are separate and distinct from the fees and expenses charged by mutual funds and ETFs to their shareholders. These fees and expenses are described in each fund's prospectus. These fees will generally include a management fee, redemption fees, other fund expenses, and a possible distribution fee. If the fund also imposes sales charges, a Client may pay an initial or deferred sales charge as further described in the prospectus. A Client could invest in a mutual fund or ETF directly without Redhawk’s services and in that case, the Client would not receive the services provided by Redhawk which are designed, among other things, to assist the Client in determining which mutual fund or ETF are most appropriate to each Client's financial condition and objectives. Accordingly, the Client should review both the fees charged by the funds, Redhawk's fees, and the Financial Advisor fees to fully understand the total amount of fees to be paid by the Client and to thereby evaluate the investment advisory services being provided.

Additional Fees and Expenses: Clients are also responsible for the fees and expenses charged by custodians and imposed by broker-dealers, including, but not limited to, any trading charges, redemption fees, SEC fees, or transaction charges imposed by a broker-dealer with which an independent investment manager effects transaction for the Client's account(s). Please refer to the "Brokerage Practices" section (Item 12) of this Form ADV for additional information.

Household Fees: The investment management and Financial Advisor fees for wealth management Clients are based on all the accounts that pertain to all members of an immediate family or all related businesses of a company ("Household").

In addition to the aforementioned, there may be other costs assessed, which are not included in the Advisory Services fees, such as charges for transactions not executed through the Custodian, costs associated with exchanging currencies, wire transfer fees, redemption fees, or other fees required by law.

1.4 Advisor Representative Compensation

3.2 Selection and Evaluation

Redhawk continuously monitors the performance of accounts managed by third-party money managers and will assume discretionary authority to hire or fire the money manager where such action is deemed appropriate and in the best interest of the client. Redhawk uses the following methods of analysis in formulating investment advice and/or managing Client assets.

Redhawk's Investment Committee ("RIC") meets on a weekly basis and operates under a formalized charter and set of policies and procedures outlined under the Redhawk Investment Provider Selection and Monitoring Methodology document. RIC is responsible for the selection, monitoring, and replacement of investments. Redhawk makes available to Clients investments that have varied investment philosophies and strategies that cover fixed income, tactical managers, strategic allocation managers, and alternative investments encompassing a broad range of investment solutions.

Frequency: RIC is aware that the ongoing review and analysis of the investments is just as important as the initial selection. Investment performance will be monitored on a weekly basis, and it is at Redhawk’s discretion to take corrective action by either terminating or replacing an investment if deemed appropriate at any time. RIC intends to evaluate investment performance from a long-term perspective and RIC makes available to Financial Advisors a communication that summarizes the opinions of the RIC for each investment offered to Clients.

Selection Criteria: RIC will use the information submitted by the investment company as required under the Redhawk Investment Provider Due Diligence Request for Information (“RFI”) document. RIC will review the information and decide using various criteria.

Monitoring: The ongoing monitoring of investments is a regular and disciplined process. Monitoring confirms that the criteria remain satisfied and that an investment continues to be appropriate. The process of monitoring investment performance relative to specified guidelines will be consistently applied and frequent change of investments is neither expected nor desired. Monitoring will utilize some of the same selection criteria used in the selection analysis. Unusual, notable, or extraordinary events will be communicated to the Financial Advisor and Client on a timely basis. Examples of such events include investment manager or team departure, violation of investment guidelines, material litigation against the firm, or material changes in firm ownership structure and announcements thereof.

RIC has established performance objectives for each investment. Investment manager performance will be evaluated in terms of an appropriate market index (e.g., the S&P 500 Index for the large-cap domestic equity manager), the relevant benchmark, or peer group (e.g., the large-cap growth mutual fund universe for a large-cap growth mutual fund). RIC will exercise discretion and reasonable judgment in the monitoring process. In fulfilling RIC’s ongoing duty, certain indicators have been selected to assist in determining whether a particular investment remains a suitable investment.

Replacement/Termination: RIC will consider either replacing or terminating an investment if one or several of the following conditions occur. Each month, the investments are scored by reviewing several key criteria and any company related activities as outlined in the Investment Provider Selection and Monitoring Methodology document. Enclosed below is a summary of our monitoring criteria. The levels consist of:

1. Approved - The investment has been approved by the RIC without any investment restrictions other than a minimum account balance and suitability.
2. Watch List - The investment has been placed on the watch list for any one of the following criteria listed below:
 - a. The investment significantly underperforms without a justifiable rationale.
 - b. The investment fails to achieve performance and risk objectives.
 - c. The investment fails to maintain a consistent investment style.
 - d. The investment fails to satisfy a minimum score for a certain period.
 - e. There is a material change in the Investment Company, investment philosophy, and/or personnel.
 - f. Any legal, Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), and/or other regulatory agency proceedings affecting the investment company’s organization.
3. Restricted List - The investment can be placed on the Restricted List for any one of the criteria listed under the Watch List due to the severity of the issue. In addition, the investment can also be placed on the Restricted List for any of the following:
 - a. The investment is no longer offered by the investment provider.
 - b. The RIC may also remove any investment at any time and for whatever reason it deems appropriate, including a determination that the investment is no longer suitable for Clients.

Once an investment is placed on the Restricted List, the RIC will consider either replacing, terminating, or restricting the investment. The following courses of action are available.

- Severity 1 - Keep the investment and limit the amount of new assets that can be placed in the investment. This may have a temporary timeframe or a permanent timeframe.
- Severity 2 - Keep the investment and freeze the assets with the investment and do not allow any new assets to be invested in the investment. This may have a temporary timeframe or a permanent timeframe.
- Severity 3 – Terminate the investment and replace with an investment that is like the terminated investment. Map all the assets to the replacement investment.
