According to a 2016 Wall Street Journal article, Wealthy Investors Stage Revolt Against Advisors, investors have never been less happy with their financial advisors. 81 percent of investors with $1 million or more in investible assets plan to take money away from their current advisor. An even larger number - 86% - plan to tell other investors to avoid their advisor. The most surprising finding is that poor performance is not the reason for investor discontent. Of those clients whose investment returns have beaten pre-determined benchmarks, half planned to take money away from their advisor. In other words, good numbers cant overcome bad service.

At Hyre Personal Wealth Advisors, providing an "A+ Client Experience" is our number one goal. We're extremely proud of our qualifications:

- Comprehensive, holistic, and team-based approach
