Is an investment advisory account right for me?

There are different ways you can get help with your investments. You should carefully consider which types of accounts and services are right for you. LifeCourse Capital, Inc. ("LifeCourse") is registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") as an investment adviser. What investment services and advice can you provide me?

LifeCourse provides portfolio management services and personalized financial planning services to retail clients.

Our portfolio management services are conducted on a discretionary basis where we make the decisions on the investments to buy and sell. We determine the type and allocation amount of your investments based on your profile, goals and objectives. We monitor the performance of your investments on a continuous basis and meet with you periodically to review progress and investment objectives. Our investment vehicles consist mainly of ETFs and stocks, corporate and municipal bonds, mutual funds, and some alternatives investments. We offer financial planning services in retirement income planning, estate planning, education plans and business succession. We provide employer retirement plan consulting services where we assist employer plan sponsors with their fiduciary duties and provide portfolio management services on a non-discretionary basis.

Additional information about our services is also available on our website at www.LCCapital.net.

Ask your financial professional

Given my financial situation, should I choose an advisory service? Why or why not? How will you choose investments to recommend to me? What is your relevant experience, including licenses, education, and other qualifications? What do these qualifications mean?

What fees will I pay?

The fee for our investment management services is an annual percentage rate that ranges from .60% to 1.25% and is based on the aggregate value of all of the accounts that you hold with us. Our fees vary based on the types of assets in your investment portfolio (e.g. stocks, bonds or combination). Please see Item 5 of our Form ADV Part 2A.

Our fee is billed quarterly in advance. The quarterly fee is the annual fee percentage adjusted for the number of days in the calendar quarter and is based on the market value of your accounts on the last business day of the previous quarter. Moreover, the more assets that you place with our portfolio management services or the more that your assets increase in value, the more fees you will pay. The custodian of your assets will deduct our advisory fee from your account in accordance with your authorization in the Client Agreement.

In some instances, you may pay transaction-based compensation (ticket charges, commissions or markups/markdowns) to third party brokers in addition to our advisory fee when we buy or sell securities for your account(s).

If we are investing your assets in funds, you will also incur expenses at the fund level. The most common types are mutual funds, index funds, exchange traded funds ("ETFs") and unit investment trusts ("UITs") charge their shareholders various advisory fees and expenses associated with the establishment and operation of the funds.

Our fees for our financial planning services and employer retirement plan services are based on the nature of the services being provided and the complexity of each client's situation. Our basic fee for a financial plan is $600. An additional $100 per hour is charged for complex plans requiring additional time. All fees are agreed upon in advance.

You will pay fees and costs whether you make or lose money on your investments. Fees and costs will reduce any amount of money you make on your investments over time. Please make sure you understand what fees and costs you are paying.

For additional information

Please see our Form ADV, Part 2A brochure specifically Item 5 and Item 2 of our Investment Advisory Agreement.

Ask your Financial Professional

Help me understand how these fees and costs might affect my investments. If I give you $10,000 to invest, how much will go to fees and costs and how much will be invested for me?

What are your legal obligations to me when acting as my investment adviser? How else does your firm make money and what conflicts of interest do you have?

When we act as your investment adviser, we have to act in your best interest and not put our interest ahead of yours. At the same time, the way we make money creates some conflicts with your interests. You should understand and ask us about these conflicts because they can affect the recommendations that we provide you.

Here are some examples to help you understand what this means:

All of the LifeCourse investment advisors are also registered representatives of NEXT Financial Group, Inc., a non-affiliated broker/dealer. Due to the brokerage services provided to us through our relationship with NEXT, we have an incentive to recommend NEXT for products, brokerage and custodial services.

Some of our advisors are registered insurance agents and receive commissions for variable and fixed insurance products.

For additional information,

Please refer to our Form ADV Part 2A brochure Items 10 and 12 and 14.

Ask your Financial Professional

How might your conflicts of interest affect me, and how will you address them?

How do your financial professionals make money?

We make money from investment management fees for our portfolio management services under LifeCourse. We also make money for brokerage services that we provide as registered representatives of NEXT Financial Group, Inc.

Do you or your financial professionals have legal or disciplinary history?

Yes. In May 2007, Stephen Williams, a part-owner of LifeCourse, was subject to a probationary period of twelve months by the State of Georgia – Office of Commissioner of Insurance.
