

In this week's recap: Stocks struggle to find their way amid several noteworthy earnings reports from corporations.

Weekly Economic Update

Presented by Mary Ahearn, CFP®, May 3, 2021

THE WEEK ON WALL STREET

Stocks meandered around a flatline in a busy week of corporate earnings, ending the trading week slightly lower.

The Dow Jones Industrial Average slid 0.50%, while the Standard & Poor's 500 was flat (+0.02%). The Nasdaq Composite index surrendered 0.39%. The MSCI EAFE index, which tracks developed overseas stock markets, rose 0.18%.^{1,2,3}

SEEKING DIRECTION

Though the S&P 500 and Nasdaq established new record highs at the start of the week, stocks struggled to find traction as the week wore on.⁴

Investor sentiment was dampened by rising COVID-19 infections in India and Japan, along with mounting inflation worries. Stocks finally caught some lift from strong quarterly reports issued by two big technology companies and an upbeat first-quarter Gross Domestic Product growth number, sending the S&P 500 to a fresh record high.⁵

Once again, though, stocks failed to follow through, as the market retreated in the final day of trading to close near where it began the week.

EARNINGS TOP EXPECTATIONS

Last week was the biggest week of the first quarter's earnings season with a third of S&P 500 companies reporting, including six of the largest companies.⁶

With expectations high, businesses generally topped Wall Street analysts' estimates; Big Tech companies posted especially noteworthy earnings. Coming into last Friday, with 40% of S&P 500

index companies reporting, earnings-per-share growth (EPS) is now estimated to be 29.3%, well ahead of the 12.2% EPS growth rate that analysts had expected at the start of the year.⁷

TIP OF THE WEEK

Think about setting up a system to record your allowable income tax deductions and credits. Too many people spend too many hours trying to figure out deductions and credits in April.

THE WEEKLY RIDDLE

Forward I am heavy, but backward I am not. What am I?

LAST WEEK'S RIDDLE: A certain month can begin on a Friday and end on a Friday as well. What month is it?

ANSWER: February. In order for a month to start and end with the same day of the week, it has to have a complete number of weeks and have one more day. The only possible month is February which has 29 days in a leap year.
