ELITE ADVISOR Spotlight

Chad Disbennett

Chad Disbennett, CFP®, a nationally-recognized Retirement Educator, Author, Speaker, and Retirement Coach, has a deep passion.

Disbennett shares his wealth of retirement knowledge and experience with the community as a Retirement Educator through a series of Retirement Education Briefings and as a Speaker for many organizations.

It doesn't take much time with Chad to feel his passion. He is a coach, at heart, with a passion to show people how to make smart decisions about their retirement monies, so that they can more fully enjoy their lifestyle in retirement.

Chad founded Disbennett Wealth Management Group on four simple beliefs. They call them the "Core Four."

"They go beyond beliefs actually," Chad says, "They guide everything we do at the firm. Number one is, 'Our clients profit first.' Period; number two is 'We prevail together;' number three is 'Our integrity is not for sale;' and number four is 'Listening creates possibilities.'"

Disbennett Wealth Management Group delivers an independent, unbiased, high-touch solution to a select group of successful retirees and business owners.

Chad is still a dedicated athlete and approaches his profession with the same dedication to excellence and performance. His dedication to the profession has earned him the designation of Certified Financial Planner®.

Chad has a passion to show people how to make smart decisions about their retirement monies, so that they can more fully enjoy their lifestyle in retirement

Chad and his wife of over fifteen years, Danielle, both love the outdoors, hiking, camping, swimming and anything with their two children, Danica and Cooper.

It won't take you long with Chad to see his passion to coach retirees through a successful retirement.
