Strategy Sector Comparison

Past performance is no guarantee of future results and investing has risks. The information is subject to change without notice. This strategy is available by subscription is well. Holdings are subject to change at any time because of screening. If a holding fails, it will be replaced by the next largest company that passes the screening and is not currently part of the portfolio. This portfolio as shown does not have a cash position. In practice, the portfolio usually does hold some cash depending on the client’s need. You should carefully consider your risk tolerance, time horizon, and financial objectives before making investment decisions. By investing, you run the risk of losing money or losing buying power (where your money does not grow as fast as the cost of living). Risk can be classified into many different categories, and by knowing those categories you can better manage expectations and avoid or reduce certain kinds of risk.
