FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Clear Harbor Asset Management Named to 2015 Financial Times 300 Top Registered Investment Advisors

June 18, 2015 –Clear Harbor Asset Management is pleased to announce that it has been named to the Financial Times 300 Top Registered Investment Advisors as of June 18, 2015. The list recognizes top independent RIA firms from across the U.S. More than 2000 elite RIA firms were invited to apply for consideration.

Aaron Kennon, Chief Executive Officer of Clear Harbor Asset Management commented: “On behalf of the Clear Harbor team, we are thrilled to receive this recognition and thank our clients for recognizing the value of our financial partnership in the ever-evolving financial landscape. Additionally, I applaud the hard work of all employees and partners of the firm for working so diligently to grow the resources of the organization and provide our clients with best-in-class wealth management services.”

Vice Chairman of Clear Harbor and head of our Washington D.C. office, Tim Schantz further commented: “It is indeed an honor to have a global publication of the FT’s repute recognize Clear Harbor for its excellence in the field. As the firm moves beyond its base in New York, we are all encouraged and excited by this affirmation of our qualities, growth, and overall direction.”

The 2015 Financial Times Top 300 Registered Investment Advisors is an independent listing produced by the Financial Times (June, 2015). The FT 300 is based on data gathered from RIA firms, regulatory disclosures, and the FT’s research. As identified by the FT, the listed reflected each practice’s performance in six primary areas, including assets under management, asset growth, compliance record, years in existence, credentials and accessibility. Neither the RIA firms nor the employees pay a fee to the Financial Times in exchange for inclusion in the FT 300.
