Redhawk provides investment advice and portfolio management services to individuals, trusts, estates, charitable organizations, foundations, endowments, corporations, captive insurance companies (“CIC” or “CICs”), qualified retirement plans, or other businesses not listed above (collectively referred to herein as “Client” or “Clients”). Redhawk’s services include the review of Client investment objectives and goals, recommending investment products such as cash, model portfolios, stocks, mutual funds, exchange-traded-funds (“ETFs”), bonds, annuities, alternatives, and preparing a written Investment Policy Statement (“IPS”). Redhawk’s investment advice is tailored to meet the Clients’ needs and investment objectives. Clients may impose restrictions on investing in certain securities or types of securities (such as a product type, specific companies, specific sectors, etc.) by providing a signed and dated written notification, of which an e-mail is also an acceptable form of notification.

Redhawk provides investment advisory and other financial services through independent financial advisors who have either affiliated with Redhawk or have a solicitor’s agreement with the independent financial advisor’s registered investment advisory firm (“Financial Advisor” or “Financial Advisors”). Redhawk provides discretionary and non-discretionary investment advisory services to its Clients through various managed account programs and wrap programs. Wealth Management

As part of the financial planning process, the Financial Advisor conducts a personal discussion with the Client and completes a risk tolerance assessment to determine the Client's goals and objectives. The Financial Advisor then determines the appropriate investment or investments that is in the best interest of the Client. Redhawk’s investment recommendations are not limited to any specific product or service offered by a broker dealer, registered investment advisors, or insurance company and will generally include advice regarding the following securities:

- Exchange-listed securities
- Securities traded over-the-counter
- Corporate debt securities (other than commercial paper)
- Options
- Commercial paper
- Certificates of deposit
- Municipal securities
- Mutual fund shares
- Exchange Traded Funds (“ETFs”)
- Unit Investment Trusts (“UITs”)
- Collective Investment Trust (“CITs”)
- United States governmental securities
- Structured products
- Gold and Silver

Redhawk continuously monitors the performance of accounts managed by third-party money managers and will assume discretionary authority to hire or fire the money manager where such action is deemed appropriate and in the best interest of the client. Because some types of investments involve certain additional degrees of risk, they will only be implemented/recommended when consistent with the Client's stated investment objectives, tolerance for risk, liquidity, and best interest. To ensure that the initial determination of an appropriate portfolio remains in the best interest of the Client and that the account continues to be managed in a manner consistent with the Client's financial circumstances, the Financial Advisor will:

1. Conduct a Client review, at least annually, to determine whether there have been any changes in the Client's financial situation or investment objectives, and whether the Client wishes to impose investment restrictions or modify existing restrictions.
2. Ensure that they be available to consult with the Client.
3. Maintain Client suitability information and the IPS in each Client's file.

Financial Advisors have several choices for Client accounts and can utilize several investment platforms that are in the best interest of their Client including:

Legacy Account – An account that is customized for the Client. Redhawk executes the trades based on direction from either the Financial Advisor or Client. The Client will enter into a Redhawk Unified Managed Account (“RUMA”) agreement. The Client pays all transaction and trading costs and there isn’t a minimum account balance that is required for this account.

Managed Account – Includes various third-party money managers, mutual funds, and ETFs selected and monitored by Redhawk. Redhawk has full oversight over the investments and Redhawk executes the trades on behalf of the Client based on direction from the third-party money manager. The Client will enter into a Redhawk Unified Managed Account (“RUMA”) agreement. The minimum account balance for a managed account is $5,000 and the Client pays for all trading and transaction costs.

Wrap Account – An account that is invested in an asset allocation strategy managed by Redhawk. This account is an all-in-one fee account that includes the investment management fee, Financial Advisor fee, and all transaction and trading costs. The Client does not pay for the trading and transaction costs. The minimum account balance for a Wrap account is $250,000 and more details on the wrap account can be found in our ADV Part 2A – Appendix 1.

Open Investment Platform (“OIP”) – An account that enables the Financial Advisor to have full-discretion and fiduciary oversight of the Client’s account. The Financial Advisor must execute the Redhawk IAR OIP Agreement with Redhawk, and the Financial Advisor is responsible to execute the Redhawk Discretionary Investment Advisory Agreement with each Client. This agreement will give Redhawk the authority to deduct the Redhawk administration fee and Financial Advisor fee on a monthly basis. For this account, the Financial Advisor is responsible for executing trades and managing the account on behalf of the Client. The Client pays for all trading and transaction costs.

Retirement Plans

ERISA Section 3(21) Investment Advisor and 3(38) Investment Management Services

For employer-sponsored retirement plans, Redhawk provides its investment advisory services as an investment advisor as defined under Section 3(21) and as an investment manager as defined under Section 3(38) of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended (“ERISA”).

When serving as an ERISA 3(21) investment advisor, the plan sponsor and Redhawk share fiduciary responsibility. The plan sponsor retains ultimate decision-making authority for the investments and may accept or reject the recommendations in accordance with the terms of a separate ERISA 3(21) Investment Advisor Agreement between Redhawk and the plan sponsor. Redhawk provides the following services to the plan sponsor:

- Screen investments and make recommendations.
- Monitor the investments and suggests replacement investments when appropriate.

Redhawk provides the following services to the plan sponsor:

- Select the investments.
- Monitor the investments and replace investments when appropriate.
- Provide a quarterly monitoring report.
- Develop a customized IPS.

Redhawk's goal in identifying the plan's investment options is to provide a range of options that will enable plan participants to invest according to varying risk tolerances, savings, time horizons, or other financial goals. The plan's investment options may consist of ETFs, CITs, mutual funds, model portfolios, or other similar investment funds. The investment funds from which Redhawk will select from will be those that are available on the plan recordkeeper's investment platform.

Redhawk will prepare an IPS for the plan. The purpose of the IPS is to provide guidelines for making investment-related decisions in a prudent manner. It outlines the underlying philosophies and processes for the selection, monitoring, and, replacement of the investment options offered by the plan. On a quarterly basis, Redhawk will perform on-going monitoring of the investment options within the plan. The ongoing monitoring of investments is a regular and disciplined process. Monitoring confirms that the criteria remain satisfied and that an investment option continues to be appropriate. The process of monitoring investment performance relative to specified guidelines will be consistently applied and Redhawk will provide the Client with a quarterly monitoring report.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Termination of the Investment Advisory Relationship: Clients may terminate investment advisory services obtained from Redhawk, without penalty, upon written notice within five (5) business days after entering into the investment advisory agreement with Redhawk. Except for Wrap accounts, the Client is responsible for any fees and charges incurred by the Client from third parties as a result of maintaining the account such as transaction fees for any investment transactions executed and account maintenance or custodial fees. Thereafter, a Client agreement may be canceled at any time, by either party, for any reason upon receipt of thirty (30) days written notice.

Mutual Fund and ETF Fees: All fees paid to Redhawk for investment advisory services are separate and distinct from the fees and expenses charged by mutual funds and ETFs to their shareholders. These fees and expenses are described in each fund's prospectus. These fees will generally include a management fee, redemption fees, other fund expenses, and a possible distribution fee. If the fund also imposes sales charges, a Client may pay an initial or deferred sales charge as further described in the prospectus. A Client could invest in a mutual fund or ETF directly without Redhawk's services and in that case, the Client would not receive the services provided by Redhawk which are designed, among other things, to assist the Client in determining which mutual fund or ETF are most appropriate to each Client's financial condition and objectives. Accordingly, the Client should review both the fees charged by the funds, Redhawk's fees, and the Financial Advisor fees to fully understand the total amount of fees to be paid by the Client and to thereby evaluate the investment advisory services being provided.

Additional Fees and Expenses: Clients are also responsible for the fees and expenses charged by custodians and imposed by broker-dealers, including, but not limited to, any trading charges, redemption fees, SEC fees, or transaction charges imposed by a broker-dealer with which an independent investment manager effects transaction for the Client's account(s). Please refer to the "Brokerage Practices" section (Item 12) of this Form ADV for additional information.

Household Fees: The investment management and Financial Advisor fees for wealth management Clients are based on all the accounts that pertain to all members of an immediate family or all related businesses of a company ("Household").

Grandfathering of Minimum Account Requirements: Clients are subject to Redhawk's minimum account requirements and investment advisory fees in effect at the time the Client entered the investment advisory relationship. Therefore, Redhawk's minimum account requirements will differ among Clients.

Investment Advisory Fees in General: Clients should note that similar investment advisory services may be available from other investment advisors for similar or lower fees.

Limited Prepayment of Fees: Under no circumstances does Redhawk require or solicit payment of fees in excess of $1,200 more than six months in advance of services rendered.

Limited Negotiability of Investment Advisory Fees: Although Redhawk has established the fee schedule(s), Redhawk retains the right to negotiate alternative fees on a Client-by-Client basis. Client facts, circumstances and needs are considered in determining the fee schedule. These include the complexity of the Client, assets to be placed under management, anticipated future additional assets; related accounts; portfolio style, account composition, reports, among other factors. The specific annual fee schedule is identified in an agreement between the Financial Advisor and each Client. Redhawk may group certain related Client accounts for the purposes of achieving the minimum account size requirements and determining the annualized fee. Discounts may be offered to family members and friends of associated persons of Redhawk.

Item 8 - Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

METHODS OF ANALYSIS

Redhawk continuously monitors the performance of accounts managed by third-party money managers and will assume discretionary authority to hire or fire the money manager where such action is deemed appropriate and in the best interest of the client. Redhawk uses the following methods of analysis in formulating investment advice and/or managing Client assets.

Redhawk's Investment Committee ("RIC") meets on a weekly basis and operates under a formalized charter and set of policies and procedures outlined under the Redhawk Investment Provider Selection and Monitoring Methodology document. RIC is responsible for the selection, monitoring, and replacement of investments. Redhawk makes available to Clients investments that have varied investment philosophies and strategies that cover fixed income, tactical managers, strategic allocation managers, and alternative investments encompassing a broad range of investment solutions.

Frequency: RIC is aware that the ongoing review and analysis of the investments is just as important as the initial selection. Investment performance will be monitored on a weekly basis, and it is at Redhawk's discretion to take corrective action by either terminating or replacing an investment if deemed appropriate at any time. RIC intends to evaluate investment performance from a long-term perspective and RIC makes available to Financial Advisors a communication that summarizes the opinions of the RIC for each investment offered to Clients.

Selection Criteria: RIC will use the information submitted by the investment company as required under the Redhawk Investment Provider Due Diligence Request for Information ("RFI") document. RIC will review the information and decide using various criteria.

Monitoring: The ongoing monitoring of investments is a regular and disciplined process. Monitoring confirms that the criteria remain satisfied and that an investment continues to be appropriate. The process of monitoring investment performance relative to specified guidelines will be consistently applied and frequent change of investments is neither expected nor desired. Monitoring will utilize some of the same selection criteria used in the selection analysis. Unusual, notable, or extraordinary events will be communicated to the Financial Advisor and Client on a timely basis. Examples of such events include investment manager or team departure, violation of investment guidelines, material litigation against the firm, or material changes in firm ownership structure and announcements thereof.

RIC has established performance objectives for each investment. Investment manager performance will be evaluated in terms of an appropriate market index (e.g., the S&P 500 Index for the large-cap domestic equity manager), the relevant benchmark, or peer group (e.g., the large-cap growth mutual fund universe for a large-cap growth mutual fund). RIC will exercise discretion and reasonable judgment in the monitoring process. In fulfilling RIC's ongoing duty, certain indicators have been selected to assist in determining whether a particular investment remains a suitable investment.

Replacement/Termination: RIC will consider either replacing or terminating an investment if one or several of the following conditions occur. Each month, the investments are scored by reviewing several key criteria and any company related activities as outlined in the Investment Provider Selection and Monitoring Methodology document. Enclosed below is a summary of our monitoring criteria. The levels consist of:

1. Approved - The investment has been approved by the RIC without any investment restrictions other than a minimum account balance and suitability.
2. Watch List - The investment has been placed on the watch list for any one of the following criteria listed below:
 - a. The investment significantly underperforms without a justifiable rationale.
 - b. The investment fails to achieve performance and risk objectives.
 - c. The investment fails to maintain a consistent investment style.
 - d. The investment fails to satisfy a minimum score for a certain period.
 - e. There is a material change in the Investment Company, investment philosophy, and/or personnel.
 - f. Any legal, Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), and/or other regulatory agency proceedings affecting the investment company's organization.
3. Restricted List - The investment can be placed on the Restricted List for any one of the criteria listed under the Watch List due to the severity of the issue. In addition, the investment can also be placed on the Restricted List for any of the following:
 - a. The investment is no longer offered by the investment provider.
 - b. The RIC may also remove any investment at any time and for whatever reason it deems appropriate, including a determination that the investment is no longer suitable for Clients.

Once an investment is placed on the Restricted List, the RIC will consider either replacing, terminating, or restricting the investment. The following courses of action are available.

- Severity 1 - Keep the investment and limit the amount of new assets that can be placed in the investment. This may have a temporary timeframe or a permanent timeframe.
- Severity 2 - Keep the investment and freeze the assets with the investment and do not allow any new assets to be invested in the investment. This may have a temporary timeframe or a permanent timeframe.
- Severity 3 - Terminate the investment and replace with an investment that is like the terminated investment. Map all the assets to the replacement investment.

INVESTMENT STRATEGIES

Redhawk has agreements in place with investment companies and third-party money managers that have different investment philosophies in order to offer a full array of investments to Clients. The investment strategies need to be appropriate to the needs of the Client and consistent with the Client's investment objectives, risk tolerance, and time horizons, among other considerations. The investments available cover the following investment strategies:

Fixed Income Management

Fixed income investments generally pay a return on a fixed schedule, though the amount of the payments can vary. Individual bonds may be the best-known type of fixed income security, but the category also includes bond mutual funds, ETFs, CDs, and money market funds.

Tactical Asset Allocation Management

An active management portfolio strategy that rebalances the percentage of assets held in various categories in order to take advantage of market pricing anomalies or strong market sectors. This strategy allows portfolio managers to create extra value by taking advantage of certain situations in the marketplace. It is an active strategy since the investment manager may return to the portfolio's original strategic asset mix when desired short-term profits are achieved. The investment manager may use fundamental, technical, and/or macroeconomic analysis in determining when and how to change the investments in the portfolio.

Strategic Asset Allocation Management

A passive portfolio strategy that involves periodically rebalancing the portfolio in order to maintain a long-term goal for asset allocation. At the inception of the portfolio, a target allocation is established based on expected returns. Because the value of assets can change given market conditions, the portfolio constantly needs to be re-adjusted to meet the policy. Asset allocation is an investment strategy that attempts to balance risk versus reward by adjusting the percentage of each asset in an investment portfolio according to the investor's risk tolerance, goals and investment time frame.

Alternative Investments

An investment that is not one of the three traditional asset types (stocks, bonds, and cash). Alternative investments include hedge funds, gold, silver, managed futures, real estate, structured products, commodities, and derivatives contracts. Alternative investments typically have a low correlation with those of standard asset classes.

RISKS

The strategies and investments may have unique and significant tax implications. Redhawk strongly recommends that Clients continuously consult with a tax professional prior to and throughout the investing of Client assets. Investing in securities involves risk of loss that Clients should be prepared to bear. Although investments are selected in a manner consistent with Client's risk tolerances, there can be no guarantee that the investments will be successful. Clients should be prepared to bear the risk of loss.

All investments involve the risk of loss, including (among other things) loss of principal, a reduction in earnings (including interest, dividends, and other distributions), and the loss of future earnings. These risks include market risk, interest rate risk, issuer risk, and general economic risk. Regardless of the methods of analysis or strategies suggested for Clients particular investment goals, Clients should carefully consider these risks, as they all bear risks.

- Interest-rate Risk: Fluctuations in interest rates may cause security prices to fluctuate. For example, when interest rates rise, yields on existing bonds become less attractive, causing their prices to decline.
- Market Risk: The price of a security, bond, or mutual fund may drop in reaction to tangible and intangible events and conditions. This type of risk is caused by external factors independent of a security's underlying circumstances. For example, political, economic, and social conditions may trigger market events.

- Concentration Risk: A portfolio that is less diversified across countries, geographic regions, sectors, or industries is generally riskier than more diversified portfolios. A portfolio that focuses on a single country, or a specific region, sector or industry, is more exposed to that country's, regions, sector's or industry's economic cycles, stock market valuations and political risks, among others, compared with a more diversified portfolio. The economies and financial markets of certain regions can be interdependent and may be adversely affected by the same events.
- Inflation Risk: When any type of inflation is present, a dollar today will not buy as much as a dollar next year, because purchasing power is eroding at the rate of inflation.
- Issuer Risk: A portfolio's performance depends on the performance of individual securities to which the portfolio has exposure. Changes to the financial condition or credit rating of an issuer of those securities may cause the value of the securities to decline or become worthless.
- Currency Risk: Overseas investments, even if made by domestically based companies, are subject to fluctuations in the value of the dollar against the currency of the investment's originating country. This is also referred to as exchange rate risk.
- Income Risk: A portfolio's income may decline when interest rates decrease. During periods of falling interest rates an issuer may be able to repay principal prior to the security's maturity ("prepayment"), causing the portfolio to have to reinvest in securities with a lower yield, resulting in a decline in the portfolio's income.
- Reinvestment Risk: This is the risk that future proceeds from investments may have to be reinvested at a potentially lower rate of return (i.e. interest rate). This primarily relates to fixed income securities.
- Liquidity Risk: Liquidity is the ability to readily convert an investment into cash. Generally, assets are more liquid if many traders are interested in a standardized product. For example, Treasury Bills are highly liquid, while real estate properties are not.
- Credit/Default Risk: Debt issuers and other counterparties of fixed income securities or instruments may default on their obligation to pay interest, repay principal or make a margin payment, or default on any other obligation.
- U.S. Economic Risk: The United States is a significant trading partner with other countries. Certain changes in the U.S. economy may have an adverse effect on the economy and markets of other countries.
- Alternative Risk - Investments classified as "alternative investments" may include a broad range of underlying assets including, but not limited to, hedge funds, private equity, venture capital, and registered, publicly traded securities. Alternative investments are speculative, not suitable for all clients, and intended for only experienced and sophisticated investors who are willing to bear the high risk of the investment, which can include: loss of all or a substantial portion of the investment due to leveraging, short-selling, or other speculative investment practices; lack of liquidity in that there may be no secondary market for the fund and none expected to develop; volatility of returns; potential for restrictions on transferring interest in the fund; potential lack of diversification and resulting higher risk due to concentration of trading authority with a single advisor; absence of information regarding valuations and pricing; potential for delays in tax reporting; less regulation and typically higher fees than other investment options such as mutual funds. The SEC requires investors be accredited to invest in these more speculative alternative investments. Investing in a fund that concentrates its investments in a few holdings may involve heightened risk and result in greater price volatility.

These Client account reviews are conducted by the Financial Advisor and submitted to Redhawk's Chief Compliance Officer for review.

REPORTS: In addition to the monthly statements and confirmations of transactions that Clients receive from their broker-dealer, Redhawk provides quarterly reports summarizing account performance and balances.
