1. ADVISORY BUSINESS

FIRM DESCRIPTION

Integrated WealthCare, LLC (“IWC” or the “Firm”), a North Carolina Limited Liability Company, was founded in 2006 as a multi-specialty wealth management firm, dedicated to serving the unique needs of physicians and medical professionals. IWC is based in Durham, North Carolina and will commence operations as a registered investment advisor upon registration with the SEC. Currently, IWC offers investment advisory services through Capital Wealth Management, LLC. However, upon successful registration with the SEC, IWC will terminate the relationship with Capital Wealth Management, LLC and will provide investment advisory services to clients directly through IWC.

Michael Shayne Ruffing is the sole owner of IWC.

TYPES OF ADVISORY SERVICES

Integrated WealthCare maintains a system of supervision whereby each advisor is supervised by the home office. Additionally, while advisors may, occasionally, meet with a client at a satellite office/office of convenience, the use of such locations must adhere to the requirements set forth in the Communications with the Public chapter of this Manual. Regardless of where an advisor may be physically located, he or she is required to process all business through the home office and remain under the supervision of the home office.

INVESTMENT ADVISORY SERVICES

We provide discretionary portfolio management services to our clients, based on the specific needs and objectives of such persons and the suitability of products and services. IWC shall be granted full discretion and authority to manage the client’s account. Accordingly, we are authorized to perform various functions without further approval from the client, such as the determination of securities to be purchased or to be sold without permission from the client prior to each transaction. We do not act as a custodian of client assets, and the client always maintains control of their assets.

Prior to engaging us to provide any of the aforementioned investment advisory services, we require a written investment management agreement (“IMA”) signed by the client prior to the engagement of services. The IMA outlines the services and fees the clients will incur pursuant to the IMA with IWC.

Upon signing the IMA, we will gather the client’s financial information and work with them to complete a Risk Tolerance Questionnaire, which will help us identify, quantify, and understand our client’s unique risk tolerance. The information gathered in the Risk Tolerance Questionnaire will be used to develop the client’s Investment Policy Statement (“IPS”). The IPS outlines the client’s investment philosophy, identifies the appropriate investments and portfolio construction, and specifies any restrictions or prohibitions expressed by the client for their portfolio and / or assets. The IPS is not a contract; it is the foundational framework which will guide us in exercising discretion over the client’s accounts.

IWC’s investment advisory services include, but are not limited to, the following:

- Investment Strategy
- Asset Allocation
- Regular Portfolio Monitoring
- Personal Investment Policy
- Security Selection

As noted, IWC's asset management services are designed to offer portfolio construction and ongoing management of accounts with defined investment strategies to meet the client's personal investment goals and objectives. We evaluate the current investments of each client with respect to risk tolerance levels and time horizon. Risk tolerance levels may be documented in the IPS. IWC is responsible for providing ongoing re-balancing and continuous monitoring of our clients' securities holdings.

INVESTMENT ADVISORY SERVICES FOR BUSINESS RETIREMENT PLANS

IWC offers investment advisory services specifically tailored to the needs and special circumstances of businesses, including their pension and retirement plans. These services are generally provided in conjunction with other professionals and include investment management services for pension and profit-sharing plans, 401(k) plans, 403(b) plans, SEP IRA plans, SIMPLE IRA plans, non-qualified deferred compensation plans, asset protection plans, executive salary continuation plans, cross-purchase and stock redemption agreements, and employee advisory services.

We also provide general investment advisory services specifically tailored to the needs of a trustee or other fiduciary, including but not limited to, meeting the definition of "fiduciary" under the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 ("ERISA") or an employee benefit plan subject to ERISA.

FINANCIAL PLANNING SERVICES

We provide our clients with an in-depth analysis of their current financial situation, as well as detailed recommendations relating to the client's financial goals. These services are provided on a non-discretionary basis. Financial planning services do not involve the active management of client accounts, but instead focus on a client's overall financial situation. Financial planning can be described as helping individual to determine and set their long-term financial goals through investments, tax planning, asset allocation, risk management, retirement planning, and other areas. The role of the financial planner is to find ways to help the client understand their overall financial situation and help the client set financial objectives.

Our financial planning service may include the following:

- Detailed Net Worth Statement
- Current Asset Allocation Analysis
- Asset Allocation Recommendation
- Investment Policy Statement
- Detailed Retirement Plan
- Detailed Emergency Fund Plan
- Detailed Survivor Needs Plan
- Detailed Disability Needs Plan
- Summary Long-Term Care Plan
- Summary Insurance Audit Report

An inherent conflict exists between the interests of IWC and the interests of the client. The client is under no obligation to act upon IWC's recommendations. Should the client elect to act on any recommendation made by IWC, the client is under no obligation to affect the transaction through the Firm.

CONSULTING SERVICES

We provide miscellaneous consulting services, which covers a broad range of services not related to other services as outlined in this Brochure. Examples of miscellaneous consulting services may include researching costs basis, conducting market research, advising on the purchase or sale of a business, etc.

TAILORED RELATIONSHIPS

At IWC, we offer the same suite of services to all our clients. The management services and recommendations offered by IWC are based on the individual needs of our clients and the suitability of products and services. Specific client financial plans and their implementation are dependent upon the client's IPS which outlines each client's current situation (income, objectives, and risk tolerance levels) and is used to construct a client specific plan to aid in the selection of a portfolio that matches restrictions, needs, and targets. Currently, we do not allow clients to impose restrictions on investing in certain securities or types of securities.

WRAP FEE PROGRAMS

IWC does not participate in and is not a sponsor of wrap fee programs.

Wrap Fee Programs are arrangements between broker-dealers, investment advisers, banks and other financial institutions, and affiliated and unaffiliated investment advisers through which the clients of such firms receive discretionary investment advisory, execution, clearing and custodial services in a "bundled" form. In exchange for these "bundled" services, the clients pay an all-inclusive (or "wrap") fee determined as a percentage of the assets held in the wrap account.

ASSETS UNDER MANAGEMENT

When calculating regulatory assets under management, an investment adviser must include the value of any advisory account over which it exercises continuous and regular advisory or management services. As of April XX, 2021, IWC reports $0.00 in client assets on a discretionary basis and $0.00 on a non-discretionary basis.

2. FEES AND COMPENSATION

FEE SCHEDULE

INVESTMENT ADVISORY SERVICES

Upon engagement, IWC will charge clients a $XX account setup fee and an investment management fee for its investment advisory services. The investment management fee is an annual fee based on a percentage of the value of the client's assets under management, including all cash and other assets in the account (valued at liquidation value) (the "Account Value"), as follows:

INVESTMENT ADVISORY SERVICES
TOTAL ASSETS UNDER MANAGEMENT	ANNUAL FEE
Less than $1,000,000	1.25%
$1,000,001 to $2,000,000	1.00%
$2,000,001 and above	.50%

The account setup fee and investment management fee charged is subject to negotiation with each client based on the client's characteristics and may differ from client to client.

FINANCIAL PLANNING SERVICES

IWC's financial planning services are offered on an annual flat fee basis. The estimated and actual billed fee is based on the scope and complexity of each individual client. Our annual financial planning fees range from $XXX to $XXX, and our hourly rate is $XXX per hour. Should the scope of services require it, IWC may charge its clients a separate planning fee for financial product due diligence services. At the outset, we will establish and disclose to the client all applicable fees, fee payment arrangements, and terms of the engagement in the client agreement executed between IWC and the client prior to providing any financial services. If additional services or changes to the engagement which exceeds the estimated fee is required, IWC will notify the client as soon as possible to discuss the necessary additional fees. The financial planning services fees may be negotiable based on the complexity and scope of the services, as well as the client's financial situation and objectives.

CONSULTING SERVICES

IWC's consulting services are offered on an hourly fee basis. The current hourly fee rate is $XXX per hour. The consulting services fees are negotiable on a case-by-case basis.

PAYMENT OF FEES

INVESTMENT ADVISORY SERVICES + INVESTMENT ADVISORY SERVICES FOR BUSINESS RETIREMENT PLANS

Unless other specified, fees are charged quarterly in advance. The client's first billing cycle will be prorated based on the number of days the client's account was open and how much was funded into the account during their first quarter. In determining the fee on the accounts, IWC will measure the value of the client's assets under management on the last day of the month immediately preceding the billing cycle. Fees due to IWC are typically deducted by IWC directly from the client's account under management and will be paid to IWC. The client will provide written authorization permitting the fees to be paid directly from the account. Both IWC's advisory agreement and the custodial/clearing agreement may authorize the custodian to debit the account for IWC's management fees and to directly remit that fee to IWC in compliance with regulatory procedures.

FINANCIAL PLANNING SERVICES

IWC will bill the client for their financial planning services based on the scope of services rendered. Payment must be remitted within ten (10) days from receipt of invoice.

OTHER FEES AND PAYMENTS

There may be additional fees or charges that result from the maintenance of or trading within a client's account. These are fees that are imposed by third parties in connection with investments made through a client's account, such as custodial and investment fees. Please see Item 12 of this brochure regarding broker/dealers and brokerage fees.

PREPAYMENT OF FEES

INVESTMENT ADVISORY SERVICES + INVESTMENT ADVISORY SERVICES FOR BUSINESS RETIREMENT PLANS

IWC's investment advisory services fees are due quarterly and paid in advance. If the client does not receive this Brochure at least forty-eight (48) hours prior to signing the IMA with IWC, the client may terminate the agreement within five (5) business days of signing the IMA without incurring any penalties. The client and IWC may voluntarily terminate the engaged advisory services for any reason with thirty (30) days written notice to the other party delivered by certified or registered mail. The date of receipt of the written notice will be the effective date of termination.

Upon termination of advisory services, we will conduct a fee reconciliation that will determine whether a refund is owed to the client, or if there are outstanding fees due from the client. The refund amount will be calculated as the difference between the total number of calendar days in the month in which the termination took place and the number of calendar days worked (the number of calendar days between the first day of the termination month and the effective date of termination), then multiplied by the monthly assets under management fee converted into a daily rate (the total number of calendar days in the termination month) and the refund will be credited to the client's fee reconciliation statement.

FINANCIAL PLANNING SERVICES

IWC's financial planning services fees are due annually. Depending on the complexity of the scope of services, fifty (50) percent of the fees may be invoiced in advance. Either party may terminate the financial planning services engagement prior to the completion of the engaged services with 30-days prior written notice to the other party. IWC will prorate the financial planning services fee and will issue an invoice for any outstanding fees as of the effective date of termination. If any fees were collected in advance, IWC will refund any unearned fees as of the effective date of termination.

CONSULTING SERVICES

IWC's consulting services fees are paid in stages. Fifty (50) percent of the agreed upon fees are due in advance. Either party may terminate the consulting services engagement prior to the completion of the engaged services with 30-days prior written notice to the other party. IWC will prorate the consulting services fee and will issue an invoice for any outstanding fees as of the effective date of termination. For fees collected in advance, IWC will refund any unearned fees as of the effective date of termination.

OTHER COMPENSATION

Neither IWC nor its supervised persons accepts any compensation for the sale of securities or other investment products, including asset-based sales charges or services fees from the sale of mutual funds. IWC does not charge for the publication of periodicals or wealth education services.

3. PERFORMANCE-BASED FEES AND SIDE-BY-SIDE MANAGEMENT

PERFORMANCE-BASED COMPENSATION

IWC does not assess Performance Fees.

Performance-Based Fees (“Performance Fees”) are based on a share of the capital gains or capital appreciation of the assets of a client. Our fees are calculated as described in Item 5 above.

SIDE-BY-SIDE MANAGEMENT

IWC does not assess Side-By-Side Management.

“Side-by-Side Management” refers to a situation in which the same adviser manages accounts that are billed based only on a percentage of assets under management and at the same time manages other accounts for which fees are performance-based.

4. TYPES OF CLIENTS

IWC generally provides investment advisory services to individuals, high net-worth individuals, pension and profit-sharing plans, trustee or other fiduciary, and other businesses.

We do not require a minimum account balance. It is our goal to serve the community and provide every client, large or small, with unbiased, uninfluenced, wealth management services.

5. METHODS OF ANALYSIS, INVESTMENT STRATEGIES AND RISK OF LOSS

IWC may utilize one or more of the following methods of analysis when providing investment advice to its clients:

METHODS OF ANALYSIS

IWC may utilize one or more of the following methods of analysis when providing investment advice to its clients:

Fundamental analysis concentrates on factors that determine a company’s value and expected future earnings. It involves analyzing its financial statements and health, its management and competitive advantages and its competitors and markets. Fundamental analysis is performed on historical and present data but with the goal of making financial forecasts. There are several possible objectives: to conduct a company stock valuation and predict its probable price evolution; to make a projection on its business performance; to evaluate its management and make internal business decisions and to calculate its credit risk. This strategy would normally encourage equity purchases in stocks that are undervalued or priced below their perceived value. The risk assumed is that the market will fail to reach expectations of perceived value.

Technical analysis is a method of evaluating securities by relying on the assumption that market data, such as charts of price, volume and open interest can help predict future (usually short-term) market trends. It attempts to predict a future stock price or direction based on market trends. Technical analysis assumes that market psychology influences trading in a way that enables predicting when a stock will rise or fall. Technical analysis methods employ software and other financial data management tools to assess various aspects of the marketplace. The risk is that markets do not always follow patterns and relying solely on this method may not work long term.

Cyclical analysis assumes that markets react in cyclical patterns which, once identified, can be leveraged to provide performance. Cyclical analysis of economic cycles is used to determine how these cycles affect the returns of an investment, an asset class, or an individual company's profits. Cyclical analysis is a time-based assessment which incorporates past and present performance to determine future value. Cyclical risks exist because the broad economy has been shown to move in cycles, from periods of peak performance followed by a downturn, then a trough of low activity. The risks of this strategy are two-fold: (1) the markets do not always repeat cyclical patterns; and (2) if too many investors begin to implement this strategy, it changes the very cycles of which they are trying to take advantage.

INVESTMENT STRATEGIES

IWC uses the varying methods of analysis aforementioned to determine the proper investment strategy for each client. Our strategies are heavily based on each client's personal circumstances, financial goals, and their risk tolerance. We utilize a blend of strategic approaches with tactical and alternative strategies that enable us to allocate client assets by liquidity and time horizon. We focus on what has been proven, over time, to produce results. We believe the most effective means of outperforming the market is to use creative analysis, to research our investments diligently, and to exercise cautious decisiveness.

IWC targets a globally diversified allocation models across a broad spectrum of regions and asset classes, each designed to meet a specific investment goal. Security selection within each model may be comprised of exchange-traded funds ("ETFs"), mutual funds, non-traded alternatives, and/or individual securities that allow for daily liquidity or redemption. Assets in each model portfolios are allocated strategically. IWC conducts proprietary research to generate mathematical targets to identify preferred holdings in each asset class with the most competitive blend of low expense ratios, and high, consistent performance. Model portfolios are rebalanced to their target allocations quarterly, at a minimum, or when our analysis indicates a change is warranted. This use of quantitative analysis reduces human emotion and bias in the investment process.

RISK OF LOSS

Clients need to be aware that investing in securities involves risk of loss of the principal.

Every method of analysis has its own inherent risks. To perform an accurate market analysis IWC must have access to current/new market information. IWC has no control over the dissemination rate of market information; therefore, unbeknownst to IWC, certain analyses may be compiled with outdated market information, severely limiting the value of IWC's analysis. Furthermore, an accurate market analysis can only produce a forecast of the direction of market values. There can be no assurances that a forecasted change in market value will materialize into actionable and/or profitable investment opportunities.

Different types of investments involve varying degrees of risk, and it should not be assumed that future performance of any specific investment or investment strategy (including the investments and/or investment strategies recommended or undertaken by IWC) will be profitable or equal any specific performance level(s). IWC does not represent, warrant, or imply that its services or methods of analysis can or will predict future results, successfully identify market tops or bottoms, or insulate clients from losses due to market corrections or declines. Notwithstanding IWC's method of analysis or investment strategy, the assets within the client's portfolio are subject to risk of devaluation or loss. The client should be aware that there are many different events that can affect the value of the client's assets or portfolio including, but not limited to, changes in financial status of companies, market fluctuations, changes in exchange rates, trading suspensions and delays, economic reports, and natural disasters.

All investment programs have certain risks that are borne by the investor. Our investment approach constantly keeps the risk of loss in mind. Investors face the following investment risks:

- Interest-rate Risk: Fluctuations in interest rates may cause investment prices to fluctuate. For example, when interest rates rise, yields on existing bonds become less attractive, causing their market values to decline.
- Market Risk: The price of a security, bond, or mutual fund may drop in reaction to tangible and intangible events and conditions. This type of risk is caused by external factors independent of a security's particular underlying circumstances. For example, political, economic, and social conditions may trigger market events.
- Inflation Risk: When any type of inflation is present, a dollar will be worth more today than a dollar next year, because purchasing power is eroding at the rate of inflation.
- Prepayment Risk: The returns on the collateral for the deal can change dramatically at times if the debtors prepay the loans earlier than scheduled.
- Currency Risk: Overseas investments are subject to fluctuations in the value of the dollar against the currency of the investment's originating country. This is also referred to as exchange rate risk.
- Reinvestment Risk: This is the risk that future proceeds from investments may have to be reinvested at a potentially lower rate of return (i.e. interest rate). This primarily relates to fixed income securities.
- Business Risk: This risk is associated with a particular industry or a particular company within an industry.
- Liquidity Risk: Liquidity is the ability to readily convert an investment into cash. Generally, assets are more liquid if many traders are interested in a standardized product. For example, Treasury Bills are highly liquid, while real estate properties are not.

Risk Factors relevant to specific securities utilized include:

- Equity Securities: The value of the equity securities is subject to market risk, including changes in economic conditions, growth rates, profits, interest rates and the market's perception of these securities. While offering greater potential for long-term growth, equity securities are more volatile and riskier than some other forms of investment.
- Exchange Traded Funds ("ETF"): ETFs are a recently developed type of investment security, representing an interest in a passively managed portfolio of securities selected to replicate a securities index, such as the S&P 500 Index or the Dow Jones Industrial Average, or to represent exposure to a particular industry or sector. Unlike open-end mutual funds, the shares of ETFs and closed-end investment companies are not purchased and redeemed by investors directly with the fund, but instead are purchased and sold through broker-dealers in transactions on a stock exchange. Because ETF and closed-end fund shares are traded on an exchange, they may trade at a discount from or a premium to the net asset value per share of the underlying portfolio of securities. In addition to bearing the risks related to investments in equity securities, investors in ETFs intended to replicate a securities index bear the risk that the ETF's performance may not correctly replicate the performance of the index. Investors in ETFs, closed-end funds and other investment companies bear a proportionate share of the expenses of those funds, including management fees, custodial and accounting costs, and other expenses. Trading in ETF and closed-end fund shares also entails payment of brokerage commissions and other transaction costs.

- Mutual Fund Shares: Some of the risks of investing in mutual fund shares include: (i) the price to invest in mutual fund shares is the fund's per share net asset value (NAV) plus any shareholder fees that the fund imposes at the time of purchase (such as sales loads), (ii) investors must pay sales charges, annual fees, and other expenses regardless of how the fund performs, and (iii) investors typically cannot ascertain the exact make-up of a fund's portfolio at any given time, nor can they directly influence which securities the fund manager buys and sells or the timing of those trades.
- Real Estate Related Securities Risk: Investing in real estate related securities includes, among others, the following risks: possible declines in the value of real estate; risks related to general and local economic conditions, including increases in the rate of inflation; possible lack of availability of mortgage funds; overbuilding; extending vacancies of properties; increases in competition, property taxes and operating expenses; changes in zoning laws; costs resulting from cleanup of, and liability to third parties for damages resulting from environmental problems; casualty or condemnation losses; uninsured damages from floods, earth quakes or other natural disasters; limitations on and variations in rents; and changes in interest rates. Investing in Real Estate Investment Trusts ("REITs") involves certain unique risks in addition to those risks associated with investing in the real estate industry in general. REITs are dependent upon management skills, are not diversified, and are subject to heavy cash flow dependency, default by borrowers and self-liquidation.
- Municipal Bond Risk: Municipal securities issuers may face local economic or business conditions (including bankruptcy) and litigation, legislation or other political events that could have a significant effect on the ability of the municipality to make payments on the interest or principal of its municipal bonds. In addition, because municipalities issue municipal securities to finance similar types of projects, such as education, healthcare, transportation, infrastructure and utility projects, conditions in those sectors can affect the overall municipal bond market. Furthermore, changes in the financial condition of one municipality may affect the overall municipal bond market. The municipal obligations in which clients invest will be subject to credit risk, market risk, interest rate risk, credit spread risk, selection risk, call and redemption risk and tax risk, and the occurrence of any one of these risks may materially and adversely affect the value of the client's assets or profits.
- Fixed Income Securities Risk: Prices of fixed income securities tend to move inversely with changes in interest rates. Typically, a rise in rates will adversely affect fixed income security prices. The longer the effective maturity and duration of the client's portfolio, the more the portfolio's value is likely to react to interest rates. For example, securities with longer maturities sometimes offer higher yields, but are subject to greater price shifts as a result of interest rate changes than debt securities with shorter maturities. Some fixed income securities give the issuer the option to call, or redeem, the securities before their maturity dates. If an issuer calls its security during a time of declining interest rates, we might have to reinvest the proceeds in an investment offering a lower yield, and therefore might not benefit from any increase in value as a result of declining interest rates. During periods of market illiquidity or rising interest rates, prices of callable issues are subject to increased price fluctuation.

While this information provides a synopsis of the events that may affect a client's investments, this listing is not exhaustive. Although IWC's methods of analysis and investment strategies do not present any significant or unusual risks, all investment programs have certain risks that are borne by the investor. Our investment approach constantly keeps the risk of loss in mind. Clients should understand that there are inherent risks associated with investing and depending on the risk occurrence; clients may suffer LOSS OF ALL OR PART OF THE CLIENT'S PRINCIPAL INVESTMENT.

RECOMMENDATION OF SPECIFIC TYPES OF SECURITIES

Furthermore, IWC's management and supervised persons are not registered as and do not have an application pending to register as an associated person of the foregoing entities.

IWC does not have any arrangements that are material to its advisory business or its clients with a related person who is a broker-dealer, investment company, other investment advisor, financial planning firm, commodity pool operator, commodity trading adviser or futures commission merchant, banking or thrift institution, law firm, insurance company or agency, pension consultant, real estate broker or dealer, or an entity that creates or packages limited partnerships other than those already disclosed herein.

OTHER INVESTMENT ADVISORS

IWC does not have any material arrangements with other investment advisers that are material to its advisory clients.

8. CODE OF ETHICS, PARTICIPATION OR INTEREST IN CLIENT TRANSACTIONS AND PERSONAL TRADING

Registered investment advisers are required to disclose any legal or disciplinary events that are material to a client's or prospective

DESCRIPTION OF CODE OF ETHICS

All employees of IWC must act in an ethical and professional manner. In view of the foregoing and applicable provisions of relevant law, IWC has adopted a Code of Ethics in its Employee Policies and Procedures Manual to specify and prohibit certain types of transactions deemed to create conflicts of interest (or the potential for or the appearance of such conflicts), and to establish reporting requirements and enforcement procedures relating to personal trading by IWC personnel. IWC Code of Ethics in its Employee Policies and Procedures Manual, which specifically deals with professional standards, insider trading, personal trading, gifts and entertainment, and fiduciary duties, establishes ideals for ethical conduct based upon fundamental principles of openness, integrity, honesty, and trust. We will provide a copy of our Code of Ethics to any client or prospective client upon request.

PARTICIPATION OR INTEREST IN CLIENT TRANSACTIONS

IWC does not recommend or effect transactions in securities in which any related person may have material financial interest.

PROPRIETARY/SIMULTANEOUS TRADING

At times, IWC or its affiliated persons may buy or sell securities for its own accounts that it has also recommended to clients. However, any purchase or sale of a security by IWC or a related person will be subject to IWC's fiduciary duty to client accounts. From time to time, representatives of IWC may buy or sell securities for themselves at or around the same time as IWC's client accounts. In any instance where similar securities are bought or sold, IWC will uphold its fiduciary duty by always transacting on behalf of the client before transacting for its own benefit. IWC will always document any transactions that could be construed as conflicts of interest. To mitigate or remedy any conflicts of interest or perceived conflicts of interest, IWC will monitor its proprietary and personal trading reports for adherence to its Code of Ethics.

9. BROKERAGE PRACTICES

SELECTION AND RECOMMENDATION

IWC seeks to recommend a custodian/broker who will hold client assets and execute transactions on terms that, overall, are most advantageous when compared to other available providers and their services.

IWC considers a wide range of factors in selecting a custodian/broker including, among others, the following:

- Timeliness of execution
- Clearance and settlement capabilities
- Ability to place trades in difficult market environments
- Timeliness and accuracy of trade confirmations
- Quality of account statements
- Research, execution facilitation, record keeping, custody and other “value-added” services provided
- Frequency and correction of trading errors
- Financial condition and willingness to commit capital
- Business reputation and integrity
- IWC’s prior experience with the custodian/broker

To this end, IWC has established a brokerage and custodian relationship with Charles Schwab & Co., Inc. (“Schwab”). IWC is independently owned and operated and is not affiliated with Schwab. Schwab will hold client assets in a brokerage account and buy and sell securities only when IWC or the client instructs them to.

Custodian recommendations are based on the client’s account size, investment objectives, trading frequency and overall portfolio strategy. IWC has determined that having the Schwab execute trades is consistent with our duty to seek “best execution” of client trades.

RESEARCH AND OTHER SOFT DOLLAR BENEFITS

IWC does not currently receive “soft dollars.”

Under “soft dollar” arrangements, one or more of the brokerage firms would provide or pay the costs of certain services, equipment, or other items. These soft dollar benefits are attributed to the investment advisor by reducing its expenses; however, the amount of the fee paid to the investment advisor by the client would not be reduced. Making allocations to brokerage businesses with soft dollar arrangements could enhance the ability to obtain research, optimal execution, and other benefits on behalf of clients.

BROKERAGE FOR CLIENT REFERRALS

IWC does not receive client referrals from third parties for recommending the use of specific broker-dealer brokerage services.

DIRECTED BROKERAGE

IWC will recommend/require clients to open an account with Schwab. This arrangement is designed to maximize efficiency and to be cost effective for IWC's clients. By requiring clients to use these specific custodians, which IWC has approved, we seek to achieve "best execution" of client transactions.

IWC does not permit clients to direct the use of a particular brokerage firm.

ORDER AGGREGATION

IWC may, at times, aggregate sale and purchase orders of securities ("block trading") for advisory accounts with similar orders in order to obtain the best pricing averages and minimize trading costs. This practice is reasonably likely to result in administrative convenience or an overall economic benefit to the client. Clients also benefit relatively from better purchase or sale execution prices, lower commission expenses or beneficial timing of transactions or a combination of these and other factors. Aggregate orders will be allocated to client accounts in a systematic non-preferential manner. IWC may aggregate or "bunch" transactions for a client's account with those of other clients in an effort to obtain the best execution under the circumstances.

TRADE ERROR POLICY

IWC maintains a record of any trading errors that occur in connection with investment activities of its clients. In accordance with SEC recommendations, IWC will bear any losses due to trading errors and the client account will benefit from any gains due to trading errors.

10. REVIEW OF ACCOUNTS

PERIODIC REVIEWS

IWC conducts periodic reviews on a quarterly basis to monitor various things, such as, managed account investment performances and asset allocations. The reviews also consist of determining whether a client's investment goals and objectives are aligned with IWC's investment strategies. The reviews are overseen by the Chief Compliance Officer of IWC.

INTERMITTENT REVIEW FACTORS

Intermittent reviews may be triggered by substantial market fluctuation, economic or political events, or changes in the client's financial status (such as retirement, termination of employment, relocation, inheritance, etc.). Clients are advised to notify IWC promptly if there are any material changes in their financial situation, investment objectives, or in the event they wish to place restrictions on their account.

REPORTS

Clients may receive confirmations of purchases and sales in their accounts and will receive, at least quarterly, statements containing account information such as account value, transactions, and other relevant information. Confirmations and statements are prepared and delivered by the custodian.

11. CLIENT REFERRALS AND OTHER COMPENSATION

ECONOMIC BENEFITS FROM OTHERS

IWC does not receive an economic benefit (such as sales awards or other prizes) from any third party for providing investment advice or other advisory services to its clients.

12. CUSTODY

CUSTODIAN OF ASSETS

Custody means holding, directly or indirectly, client funds or securities, or having any authority to obtain possession of them. IWC has custody due to its authority to deduct advisory fees from client accounts and because it can, subject to a standing letter of authorization, dispose of client funds or securities. IWC will not maintain physical possession of client funds and securities. Instead, client's funds and securities are held by a IWC preferred, qualified custodian.

While IWC does not have physical custody of client funds or securities, payments of fees may be paid by the custodian from the custodial brokerage account that holds client funds pursuant to the client's account application. Prior to permitting direct debit of fees, each client provides written authorization permitting fees to be paid directly from the custodian.

ACCOUNT STATEMENTS

Although IWC is the client's adviser, the client's statements will be mailed or made available electronically by the broker-dealer or custodian. When the client receives these statements, they should be reviewed carefully. Clients should compare asset values, holdings, and fees on the statement to that in the account statement issued the previous period.

13. INVESTMENT DISCRETION

It is IWC's customary procedure to have full discretionary authority in order to supervise and direct the investments of a client's accounts. Clients grant this authority upon execution of IWC's IMA. This authority is for the purpose of making and implementing investment decisions, without the client's prior consultation. All investment decisions are made in accordance with the client's stated investment objectives. Other than management fees due to IWC, which IWC will receive directly from the custodian, IWC's discretionary authority does not give authority to take or have possession of any assets in the client's account or to direct delivery of any securities or payment of any funds held in the account to IWC. Furthermore, IWC's discretionary authority by agreement does not allow it to direct the disposition of such securities or funds to anyone except the account owner.

14. VOTING CLIENT SECURITIES

IWC will not vote proxies which are solicited for securities held in client accounts. IWC will not be required to render any advice with respect to the voting of proxies solicited by or with respect to the issuers of securities in which assets of the client's account may be invested in occasionally. Furthermore, IWC will not take any action or render any advice with respect to any securities held in any client's accounts that are named in or subject to class action lawsuits. IWC will however, forward to the client any information received by IWC regarding class action legal matters involving any security held in the client's account.

15. FINANCIAL INFORMATION

BALANCE SHEET REQUIREMENT

IWC is not the qualified custodian for client funds or securities and does not require prepayment of fees of more than $1,200 per client, six (6) months or more in advance.

FINANCIAL CONDITION

IWC does not have any financial impairment that would preclude the Firm from meeting contractual commitments to clients.

BANKRUPTCY PETITION

IWC has not been the subject of a bankruptcy petition at any time during the last 10 years.
