WWM INVESTMENTS SPONSORS 3rd ANNUAL SPIN FOR SENIORS EVENT TO BENEFIT THE COUNCIL FOR JEWISH ELDERLY

CHICAGO, IL, FEBRUARY 26, 2019 – Michael Riback and Kristin Kulasik of WWM Investments participated in the annual Spin for Seniors Event fundraiser for the Council for Jewish Elderly (CJE) at the East Bank Club in Chicago’s River North neighborhood.

Seventy participants “hit the pavement” and raised $6,000 to support CJE, an organization that for 48 years has enhanced the lives of older adults who need help with such things as financial counseling, home-delivered meals, rides on Shalom buses, safe and affordable independent living, memory care and other healthcare services.

Riback and Kulasik were pleased to break a sweat to support this cause.

“This was such a great event to help raise money for the our Chicagoland Seniors. It is an honor to give back to those in need that have helped raise many of my generation, and who toiled away to help make Chicago the great city that it is. As someone whose grandparents received care in their latter years, I could not be happier than to do my part to help others around me,” says Riback, Partner and Wealth Management Advisor at WWM Investments.

“I had a blast! I met some wonderful people, had a great workout, and left feeling proud to have supported the local elderly community,” says Kulasik, Director of Client Relations at WWM Investments.

The mission of CJE SeniorLife is to enhance quality of life and facilitate independence of older adults. WWM Investments is proud to support the mission of CJE.
