

Ji sang Oh

Investment Advisor Representative

Ji sang Oh is an Investment Advisor Representative with Lighthouse Financial Network, LLC, located in Melville, NY. Before that, Ji grew a profitable online business as an entrepreneur providing quality products and services to computer technicians around the world.

Ji made a choice to cut off from his successful business after his parents were stricken with unexpected sickness. After major costly operations, Ji's parents were forced into early retirement-with no proper retirement in place. Ji's vision now is to set up other families and businesses avoid the same hardships his family went through by careful long-term planning on personal level.

Ji works closely with individuals, families, and business owners to advise them to reach their financial goals, and help them protect against uncertainty of life. Ji works closely with a team of experienced financial professionals, CPAs, and attorneys to help assist clients in making a proper solution to any problem. From accumulating wealth to preserving it, Ji believes that honesty, and transparency is the key to building a trustful long-term relationship with his clients.

Ji resides in Atlantic Beach with his dog, Cesar. He's an active environmentalist in his neighborhood, cleaning up washed up plastic along the beach on daily basis while walking his dog. His hobbies include, Boxing, baseball, and hopes to compete in the NY Golden Gloves in the near future.
