

“What fools these mortals be.” — Shakespeare

If you have your alarm clock reset by a mischievous teen or see an incredible, too-good-to-be-true story online, you know you’ve been April Fooled. One slightly more obscure holiday this month is “National Stress Awareness Day” on April 16. (Is it any coincidence that it falls immediately after taxes are due?) Use these 10 relaxation techniques to help you unwind and manage life’s myriad challenges. And since a change of scenery can also relieve stress, check out the article about some of the events going on at our National Parks this spring.

Interested in retiring sooner rather than later? This article explores 9 ways to help you reach your retirement goals. Finally, I’ve included an updated version of the video The Best Time to Invest. As cliché as it may seem, the tortoise always outlasts the hare in the race for financial freedom. Just a gentle reminder that no matter what external forces are at work, keep your head down, breathe and focus on that finish line.

Happy spring everyone!

Warm Regards,
Bridger
