Financial center

Project your future college savings and get tips to help close the gaps to make college more affordable.

College search

View and compare price and admission information for all types of schools to help determine which ones may be financial and academic fits.

Scholarship search

Use this powerful search engine to find scholarships that match the students’ interests and academic profile.

Stay on track with the calendar alert system

This unique feature allows users to receive reminders for important standardized test dates and input their own events and deadlines for college and scholarship applications.

Plan, save, and succeed with all your resources in one place

The Resource Center allows you to find all the key resources you'll need—from financial aid to standardized testing—all in one place.

There may be 529 plans offered by the account holder's or beneficiary's home state that offer potential state income-tax or other state benefits to its residents, such as financial aid, scholarship funds, and protection from creditors, that should be considered before investing. Please call 866-626-8529 to obtain a Plan Disclosure Document or prospectus for any of the underlying funds. The Plan Disclosure Document contains complete details on investment objectives, risks, fees, charges, and expenses, as well as more information about municipal fund securities and the underlying investment companies that should be considered before investing. Your clients should read the Plan Disclosure Document carefully prior to investing.
