

Lincoln Financial Advisors Corporation
Asset Management Programs, Retirement Plan Services and other Advisory Services
Form ADV, Part 2A

July 2, 2018
Lincoln Financial Advisors Corporation
1300 South Clinton St., Suite 150
Fort Wayne, IN 46802
(800) 237-3813

www.lfa-sagemark.com

This brochure provides information about the qualifications and business practices of Lincoln Financial Advisors Corporation. If you have any questions about the contents of this brochure, please contact us at (800) 237-3813 or by sending us an email at lfaria@lfg.com. The information in this brochure has not been approved or verified by the United States Securities and Exchange Commission (the "SEC") or by any state securities authority. Registration as an investment adviser does not imply a certain level of skill or training.

Additional information about Lincoln Financial Advisors Corporation also is available on the SEC's website at www.adviserinfo.sec.gov.

Lincoln Financial Group is the marketing name for Lincoln National Corporation and its affiliates.

Item 2: Summary of Material Changes

This brochure (the "Brochure") for Lincoln Financial Advisors Corporation ("LFA") is dated July 2, 2018, and the last annual update of this Brochure was dated March 31, 2018.

There have been no material changes since the last annual update of this Brochure.

Clients are encouraged to read this Brochure in detail and contact their LFA Representative (as defined below) with any questions. If you would like another copy of this Brochure or any other LFA brochure, please feel free to access and download it from our website at www.lfa-sagemark.com under My Accounts-Disclosures or www.lfg.com/public/individual/adv, or from the SEC's website at www.adviserinfo.sec.gov. You also may request a copy of this Brochure or any other LFA brochure by contacting LFA at (800) 237-3813 or lfaria@lfg.com.

Item 3: Table of Contents

Cover Page	1
Item 2: Summary of Material Changes.....	2
Item 4: Advisory Business	4
Third-Party Investment Advisory Programs.....	6
Solicitor Programs	7
Co-Advisory Programs.....	8
Retirement Plan Consulting Program.....	14
Item 5: Fees and Compensation.....	19
Client Advisory Fees.....	19
Other Client Fees and Expenses	24
Compensation for the Sale of Securities	29
LFA Representative Compensation.....	32
Item 6: Performance-Based Fees and Side-By-Side Management	33
Item 7: Types of Clients.....	33
Item 8: Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss	34
Item 9: Disciplinary Information	35
Item 10: Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations	35
Item 11: Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading ..	36
Item 12: Brokerage Practices	37
Step-Out Trading.....	38
Best Execution.....	39
Item 13: Review of Accounts.....	39
Item 14: Client Referrals and Other Compensation.....	40
Solicitor Relationships.....	40
Other Compensation.....	40
Item 15: Custody	40
Item 16: Investment Discretion.....	41
Item 17: Voting Client Securities	41
Item 18: Financial Information.....	41
Privacy Practice Notice	42

Item 4: Advisory Business

LFA is an investment adviser registered with the SEC. LFA was incorporated in 1968, and has been registered with the SEC as an investment adviser since 1992. LFA is wholly owned by The Lincoln National Life Insurance Company ("LNL"), which is wholly owned by Lincoln National Corporation ("LNC"). Lincoln Financial Group is the marketing name for LNC and its affiliates.

As of December 31, 2016, LFA managed approximately $16,749,654,348 billion of client assets on a non-discretionary basis and approximately $3,616,418,181 billion on a discretionary basis.

LFA offers a wide variety of investment advisory programs and services. These services are sometimes marketed using the name Sagemark Consulting, a division of LFA. Investment adviser representatives of LFA, including those who use the name Sagemark Consulting (collectively, "LFA Representatives" or "LARs"), assist clients in pursuing their financial goals by providing personalized financial planning services and investment solutions.

This Brochure provides an overview of certain investment advisory programs sponsored by third parties that are offered through LFA, as well as LFA's retirement plan consulting services and certain other services. Any information relating to the tax considerations affecting your financial arrangements or transactions is not intended to be tax advice and should not be relied on as such. Neither LFA nor the LFA Representatives provide tax, legal or accounting advice.

In addition to the advisory programs and services described in this Brochure, LFA also offers the following programs and services, which are described in separate Forms ADV, Part 2A:

- Lincoln Premier Series Wealth Management Program
- Sagemark Consulting Financial Planning
- Financial Planning

For a detailed discussion of each of LFA's other investment advisory programs and services, including the fees and compensation associated with each, you should refer to the Form ADV Part 2A for the particular program, which is available on our website at www.lfg.com/public/lfa-sagemark/home or www.lfg.com/public/individual/adv and the SEC's website at www.adviserinfo.sec.gov/. These Forms ADV, Part 2A may also be requested by contacting LFA at (800) 237-3813 or by sending us an email at lfaria@lfg.com.

When you choose to purchase products and services through LFA and work with an LFA Representative, you have the option of investing through a transaction-based account, such as a brokerage account, a fee-based investment advisory program, or both. It is important to understand the services you can expect to receive, and the costs associated with, each of these different types of accounts and relationships with LFA and your LFA Representative.

Transaction-based account, such as a brokerage account

With this type of account, you pay commissions and other charges (such as sales loads on mutual funds) at the time of each transaction, such as the purchase of a mutual fund, stock or other investment product. These commissions are the primary source of compensation for the transaction-based advice provided by your LFA Representative. When acting as your broker, your LFA Representative can make recommendations and provide guidance to you regarding the selection of investment products and services. Your LFA Representative may also provide investment education, and research, these services are considered to be incidental to the brokerage services LFA provides. This type of account may be more appropriate than a fee-based investment advisory account if you do not want ongoing investment advice on assets held in the account, or ongoing management of your account, and instead want only periodic or on-demand advice and recommendations specific to the purchase and sale of investment products. This type of account may result in lower costs for you if you expect to trade on an infrequent or occasional basis.

Fee-based investment advisory program

A fee-based investment advisory program, sometimes called a "managed account", may be more appropriate than a transaction-based account such as a brokerage account if you want ongoing investment advice and management of your account. This type of account may result in lower trading costs, particularly if the program selected does not assess transaction costs separately. LFA acts as a sponsor and introducing broker in connection with some of the investment advisory programs and services and offers a number of different investment advisory programs and managed accounts.

With this type of account, you will usually pay an ongoing investment advisory fee based on the value of the assets held in your account, in exchange for ongoing investment advice and management of your account. The asset-based fee is the primary source of compensation for the ongoing investment advice provided by your LFA Representative. You generally will not be charged commissions for each purchase or sale of an investment product, although as discussed further below in Item 5: Fees and Compensation and Item 12. Brokerage Practices, in some instances you may pay other charges and fees for executing certain transactions and trades within the account.

Transaction charges will not be used to compensate your LFA Representative for his or her services in this type of account. Fees for certain investment advisory programs may be charged as an "all-inclusive" bundled fee based on the value of the assets in your account. This bundled fee usually includes a portfolio management fee, brokerage costs, and investment advice. However, this bundled fee usually will not include costs associated with transactions that are executed at broker/dealers other than the one at which the account is held. These transactions are sometimes called "step-out" trades, and are described further in Item 5: Fees and Compensation and Item 12. Brokerage Practices below. Fees vary depending on which LFA programs and services a client uses. Fees may be billed in arrears or in advance, depending on the program and the terms of your client agreement. Fees typically are charged monthly or quarterly based on the assets held within your account for services such as ongoing investment advice, investment selection and recommendations, asset allocation, execution of transactions, custody of securities and account reporting services.

Please see the applicable client agreement for additional information. LFA's advisory fees are generally negotiable. Some programs charge separately for asset management services, ongoing investment advice, and transactions. In such programs, you may be charged brokerage costs for transactions in your account in addition to the advisory fees. Fees and other charges are described in more detail in the applicable program's client agreement and Form ADV, Part 2A.

More information about each of LFA's investment advisory programs and services is contained in the applicable LFA Form ADV, Part 2A and is available through our website at www.lfg.com/public/lfa-sagemark/home or www.lfg.com/public/individual/adv and the SEC's website at www.adviserinfo.sec.gov/. These brochures may also be requested by contacting LFA at (800) 237-3813 or by sending us an email at lfnia@lfg.com.

For additional information regarding services and fees associated with brokerage and fee-based accounts, please refer to the 'Guide to Understanding Your Brokerage and Advisory Relationships', which can be accessed in the "Brochures" section of our website at www.lfa-sagemark.com or www.lfg.com/public/individual/adv. To request a copy of the Guide, please contact your LFA Representative or LFA directly at (800) 237-3813, or email us at lfaria@lfg.com.

Third-Party Investment Advisory Programs

LFA offers access to several investment advisory and asset allocation programs sponsored by third-party asset management firms ("TAMPs"). TAMP programs allow clients to choose from a variety of professional investment managers. TAMPs offer clients choices as to different model portfolios associated with different levels of risk. LFA does not manage client accounts held in TAMP programs, as the assets are managed by the TAMP sponsor and/or one or more of the investment managers made available through the TAMP program. Client accounts in TAMP programs could be invested in a number of different investment products, including but not limited to, stocks, bonds, mutual funds, and ETFs. The specific services offered, and the fees associated with those services can be found in the applicable disclosure brochure of the TAMP sponsor firms noted below as well as the account opening paperwork a client completes prior to entering into a TAMP program (e.g., investment advisory-client agreement, etc.).

The following description provides an overview of the different third-party investment advisory programs offered through LFA. Please refer to the relevant Form ADV, Part 2A of each provider or program (other than the SEI Mutual Fund Asset Allocation Program) for a more detailed explanation of each of the different investment advisory programs offered through LFA.

In each of the programs described below, LFA provides advisory services that include assisting clients in completing a program questionnaire or similar client profiling tool to gather information about the client's financial circumstances, investment objectives and goals, risk tolerance, time horizon and other pertinent information. Based on this information, the LFA Representative will assist and provide ongoing advice to clients in selecting or replacing the appropriate program, asset allocation strategy, model portfolio or other investment strategy based on the client's specific needs and goals.

Any information collected through this process may be shared among LFA, the LFA Representative, the TAMP sponsor, the third-party investment manager selected, the custodian, and any other parties performing services relating to the client's account.

LFA researches, selects and reviews on an ongoing basis the third-party advisory programs that are offered through LFA. LFA may use information provided by the third-party advisory program sponsor and may also use independent, third-party data sources when evaluating a third-party advisory program. As with any investment strategy, asset allocation, model or investment portfolio, past performance is no guarantee of future performance. In addition, forecasts of future performance of financial markets may prove to be incorrect. Diversification may help spread risk throughout an investment portfolio. Different asset classes have different risk and potential return profiles and they perform differently in different market conditions. Diversification alone will not guarantee a profit or protect against a loss.

The LFA Representative will usually present the client with an investment strategy report, proposal or statement that summarizes the program's recommendations based on the information provided by the client. The LFA Representative may, if appropriate and permitted under the relevant program, suggest modifications to the program's recommendations to address specific client needs. The client may place reasonable restrictions on investments. The asset allocation strategy, model portfolio or investment strategy that the client selects will be implemented using the mutual funds and/or other investment products offered through the selected program. Discretionary investment advice is generally provided by the sponsor of the program or one or more investment managers available through the program. Unless otherwise agreed to by LFA and the client, LFA and the LFA Representatives will not have any responsibility or authority to buy or sell securities in client accounts held in TAMP programs, to choose the initial or ongoing allocation of client assets or to select investment advisers. The duties of all parties, including the client, LFA Representative, and TAMP sponsor are described listed in the client agreement and the investment adviser's Form ADV, Part 2A.

If the client's financial situation changes or the client would like to change the reasonable restrictions, if any, placed on their account, the client should notify the LFA Representative, who will notify the investment adviser. The third-party investment adviser selected and/or its affiliates and service providers are generally responsible for creating and sending reports to clients, including transaction reporting, performance reporting and tax reporting. LFA and the LFA Representative will not independently audit third-party advisory program performance information to determine or verify its accuracy and does not calculate or audit the performance reports that the third-party investment advisory programs send to clients. Clients are strongly encouraged to carefully review the third-party investment manager's disclosures regarding prior performance to determine the relevance of the prior performance to the client's account, and whether the prior performance includes any hypothetical or back-tested performance information. LFA also strongly encourages clients to review the account statements provided by the custodian of the client account, and compare those statements to any report or statement provided by the third-party investment advisory program.

Solicitor Programs

LFA offers some asset management programs where LFA acts as a "solicitor" and refers clients to a TAMP. LFA and the TAMP have an agreement where the TAMP compensates LFA for providing client referrals. In these cases, LFA and the LFA Representative receive referral fees for making the referral, which are generally referred to as "Solicitor Fees". In most cases the Solicitor Fees are calculated as a percentage of the client assets that the third-party investment adviser manages; however, there may be instances where the Solicitor Fees are determined in some other fashion. The Solicitor Fees are disclosed to clients and prospective clients in accordance with Rule 206(4)-3 under the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, as amended (the "Advisers Act"), which governs the payment of fees for client referrals. In most cases, LFA and the LFA Representative maintain an ongoing relationship with referred clients and may meet with clients periodically to assist the client in monitoring the account(s) managed by the third party, and to discuss other financial matters that pertain to the client. It is important to understand that when LFA acts as a solicitor by referring clients to other advisers, LFA does not provide investment advice to the client and does not act in a fiduciary capacity with respect to the referred client's account.

LFA no longer offers solicitor programs for any new accounts established as of June 9, 2017.

Co-Advisory Programs

In the past LFA has had agreements with TAMPs that offered both solicitor and co-advisory programs. Effective June 9, 2017, LFA will only offer TAMP programs that are co-advisory programs to new clients. When LFA and the TAMP have a co-advisory agreement both parties act in an investment advisory fiduciary capacity to the client. However, the TAMP (or its selected investment manager or sub-adviser) will generally be responsible for the investment and portfolio management responsibilities and functions (security selection, etc.) of the client's account.

The LFA Representative is responsible for understanding and recommending a suitable TAMP program and investment strategy for a client based on the information obtained about the client's financial situation, investment experience, investment objectives, time-horizon, risk tolerance, etc.

The TAMP is responsible for implementing the investment strategy and managing the portfolio in accordance with the selected investment strategy.

The following general brief descriptions of co-advisory programs and third-party asset managers listed below are the most significant TAMP programs currently being offered to LFA clients. For a more complete description of the services offered, the fees paid to and the compensation earned paid by these TAMPs, please refer to the TAMP sponsor's own Form ADV disclosure brochure and the account opening paperwork you complete prior to entering into these arrangements:

SEI Investments

LFA has an agreement with SEI Investments Management Corporation, SEI Investments Distribution Company and SEI Trust Company (collectively, "SEI") under which LFA offers various asset allocation and investment advisory programs sponsored by SEI.

SEI offers an investment management approach that uses actively managed asset allocation to help meet the client's objectives. SEI offers a style-specific, multi-manager investment approach to pursue less volatile long-term performance and attempt to reduce risk. In addition, SEI monitors for style drift that might generate uncompensated risk. Client portfolios are designed with a diversified asset allocation to provide flexibility to address client needs. SEI provides clients with a monthly consolidated statement, quarterly performance reports and an annual tax report. SEI's programs may use global diversification and tax-efficient strategies to attempt to reduce realized capital gains and tax liability.

The following SEI programs are offered through LFA:

SEI Mutual Fund Asset Allocation Program. This program offers clients access to actively managed asset allocation portfolios comprised exclusively of no-load mutual funds advised by SEI ("SEI Funds"). The asset allocation portfolios are constructed and maintained by SEI based on its capital market assumptions. The LFA Representatives assist clients in selecting a specific asset allocation portfolio that is appropriate for the client based on information the client supplies in response to an investment questionnaire. The client directs the LFA Representative to instruct SEI Trust Company to purchase and sell SEI Funds pursuant to the investment objectives and rebalancing parameters selected by the client.

SEI Managed Accounts and Integrated Managed Accounts Programs. This program offers clients access to actively managed asset allocation strategies that include allocations to portfolio managers hired to manage designated portfolios or individual securities based on specific investment styles (each, a "Managed Account Portfolio") and may include an allocation to SEI Funds. The client appoints SEI to manage the assets in each Managed Account Portfolio in accordance with a strategy selected by the client. SEI may delegate its responsibility for security selection to one or more portfolio managers.

This program offers a feature called Integrated Managed Accounts ("IMAP"), which is an enhancement to the standard program. In IMAP, SEI selects one portfolio manager to serve as a tax manager for the entire Managed Account Portfolio. Other portfolio managers recommend securities based on a model portfolio that corresponds to the specific asset class or investment strategy that the client has selected, and those securities recommendations are implemented in a tax sensitive manner by the tax manager. SEI will charge an additional fee called an "integration fee" to the client's account when the client selects the IMAP feature.

SEI may impose minimum account balances ranging from $50,000 to $1,000,000 depending upon the Managed Account Portfolio chosen and whether the client selects the IMAP feature. The minimum account size for each of SEI's programs is set at SEI's discretion, and may be negotiable or waived at the discretion of SEI.

GoalLink and Integrated Managed Accounts Programs. Through GoalLink, the LFA Representatives are responsible for analyzing the client's current financial situation, return expectations, risk tolerance, time horizon, and asset class preference. Using the GoalLink Presentation Tool, the LFA Representative and the client select an investment strategy ("Strategy"), which is then submitted and reviewed by a representative of SEI. The Strategy may include a combination of individual securities and SEI Funds, based upon the client's selected Strategy and account size. The account minimums are determined at the discretion of SEI and may range from $25,000 to $250,000. SEI may waive or modify the minimum account size at its discretion. SEI will have investment authority over the client's assets invested pursuant to the Strategy and will make prescribed adjustments to the Strategy weights based on market conditions. SEI's investment authority is effective until changed or revoked in writing. SEI may delegate its day-to-day responsibility for security selection to one or more portfolio managers.

The LFA Representative will explain to the client which SEI Funds are available within the client's SEI account and explain the rebalancing guidelines used in the management of the portfolio. SEI is responsible for rebalancing the SEI account pursuant to the standard variances established by SEI. SEI will notify LFA when quarterly reallocation of the model portfolio is deemed necessary by SEI. SEI will proceed with the portfolio reallocation unless otherwise instructed by LFA or the client.

The client retains the authority to change between the model portfolios, although variation from SEI's specific asset allocation within each model may subject the client agreement and/or account to termination. All dividends and capital gain distributions paid by the SEI Funds in the client's SEI account will automatically be reinvested unless client provides written instructions to SEI not to reinvest dividends and/or other distributions.

AssetMark, Inc.

LFA offers asset allocation and advisory services sponsored by AssetMark, Inc. ("AssetMark"). For accounts established up to and including June 9, 2017, LFA offered these services under a solicitor model or an adviser model through the programs listed below. For accounts established after June 9, 2017, LFA offers the AssetMark services only through an adviser model. Under the solicitor model, LFA Representatives solicit clients for AssetMark's asset allocation and advisory services. Under the adviser model, LFA and the LFA Representatives provide ongoing investment advice to clients in recommending AssetMark's asset allocation system, in which clients are introduced to investment managers who provide discretionary management of individual portfolios of equity and/or fixed income securities. Clients may also invest in model portfolios of mutual funds, exchange traded funds ("ETFs") and variable annuity sub-accounts created and maintained by institutional investment strategists.

LFA and the LFA Representatives do not have any responsibility or authority to determine the investment managers made available in the AssetMark platform, or to add or remove investment managers from that platform. In addition, LFA and the LFA Representatives have no responsibility to determine how AssetMark or the investment managers allocate client assets, to buy or sell securities or other investments for client accounts, or to select broker-dealers with which transactions will be effected. All decisions with respect to the availability of investment managers and other service providers will be made by AssetMark. The selection of specific investment managers and broker-dealers used in connection with a specific client account will be made by the client during the account opening process or subsequently by providing authorization of any such selection to LFA, the LFA Representative and/or AssetMark. Trading authorization will be granted by client to AssetMark or another portfolio strategist under the terms of the investment advisory agreement governing the AssetMark program.

The following AssetMark investment advisory programs and services are currently offered through

LFA:

Privately Managed Portfolios Service (the "PMP Service"). Under the PMP Service, AssetMark manages client assets in a portfolio of securities on a fully discretionary basis. These portfolios are offered in a variety of equity styles with various risk management strategies and levels, which the client selects with assistance from the LFA Representative. The account minimum is $250,000, although smaller accounts may be accepted at AssetMark's discretion. AssetMark will use one or more investment advisers ("Portfolio Advisers") to recommend securities for purchase and sale within the client's account.

GMS Portfolio Service. Under the GMS Portfolio Service, AssetMark manages client assets in a portfolio of securities on a fully discretionary basis. These portfolios are offered in five equity styles with various risk levels, which the client selects with the assistance of the LFA Representative. The account minimum is $50,000, although smaller accounts may be accepted at AssetMark's discretion. AssetMark will use one or more Portfolio Advisers to recommend securities for purchase and sale within the client's account.

Actively Managed Protection Service (the "AMP Service"). AssetMark's AMP Service is available with certain GMS and PMP Services and is included in some mutual fund services. The AMP Service is designed to allow client accounts to participate in the growth of equity markets while also providing risk management protection during periods of sustained and severe equity market decline. The AMP Service should in no way be regarded as a guarantee against losses or a guarantee as to a limitation of losses. AssetMark may or may not be successful in achieving the investment objective of loss mitigation for any client in any given year. Election of the AMP Service will likely have the result of reducing the ability of a portfolio to benefit from the rise in the broad-based stock market.

Mutual Fund, Exchange Traded Fund and Variable Annuity Accounts. AssetMark has contracted with several institutional investment management firms ("Strategists") to create a variety of asset allocation model portfolios ("Models") using open-end mutual funds, ETFs or variable annuity sub-accounts from certain variable annuity companies. The LFA Representative will help the client choose the Model(s) and the Strategist(s) for its account. The ultimate decision regarding choice of Strategist(s) and Model(s), as well as the mutual funds, ETFs or variable annuity sub-accounts is made by the client. The minimum investment required is generally $50,000 for mutual fund and variable annuity accounts and $100,000 for ETF accounts, but smaller accounts may be accepted at AssetMark's discretion.

Privately Managed Accounts. AssetMark has contracted with several institutional investment management firms ("Investment Managers") to provide discretionary management services to clients. AssetMark has also contracted with Callan Associates to select and monitor certain Investment Managers which Callan has designated as "Best of Class" managers. The LFA Representative will assist the client in selecting one or more Investment Managers and/or mutual funds based on their investment objectives. The standard minimum investment per Investment Manager generally is between $100,000 and $250,000, and will depend on the custodian and Investment Manager(s) selected for the account. AssetMark may accept certain investments below these minimums at its discretion. Certain Investment Managers may also require minimum investments greater than $250,000.

Morningstar Investment Services

LFA offers clients the Morningstar® Managed Portfolios Program sponsored by Morningstar Investment Services, LLC ("MIS"). This investment advisory program includes access to mutual fund asset allocation and focused strategy portfolios ("Mutual Fund Portfolios"), ETF strategy portfolios ("ETF Strategy"), and select stock basket strategy portfolios ("Stock Baskets"). The minimum initial investment to open an account is $50,000 for the Mutual Fund Portfolios and $100,000 for the ETF Strategy and Stock Baskets. Some Stock Baskets have a $250,000 minimum investment requirement. Minimum investment requirements may be modified, waived or negotiated at MIS's discretion.

Clients will sign an investment management agreement giving MIS discretionary authority to buy and sell mutual funds, ETFs, and other securities, as appropriate, to invest and manage the client's assets based on the client's selected portfolio and any restrictions. Rebalancing will typically occur quarterly and reallocation will occur as frequently as MIS considers necessary.

Brinker Capital

Brinker Capital ("Brinker") provides discretionary and non-discretionary investment management services to meet the needs of individual clients. Investment services include model portfolios that are comprised of mutual funds and/or exchange traded funds created and maintained by Brinker, and/or Brinker's separately managed accounts. Additional information as to the services offered and fees associated with those services may be found in Brinker's ADV disclosure brochure www.lfg.com/wcs-static/pdf/Brinker%20Capital,%20Inc..pdf and/or client services agreement.

Mount Yale Asset Management LLC

Mount Yale Asset Management, LLC ("Mt. Yale") provides discretionary investment management services to meet the needs of individual clients and offers Investment management services including strategies comprised of mutual funds, exchange traded funds, exchange traded notes, and/or individual securities. Additional information as to the services offered and fees associated with those services may be found in Mt. Yale's ADV disclosure brochure.

www.lfg.com/wcs-static/pdf/MOUNT%20YALE%20ASSET%20MANAGEMENT%20LLC.pdf

Hanlon Investment Management

Hanlon Investment Management ("Hanlon") provides discretionary investment management services to meet the needs of individual clients. Hanlon utilizes stocks, bonds, mutual funds, exchange traded funds, and/or variable annuity subaccounts to create an investment strategy for each client. Additional information as to the services offered and fees associated with those services may be found in Hanlon's ADV disclosure brochure.

www.lfg.com/wcs-static/pdf/Hanlon%20Investment%20Management,%20Inc..pdf

Symmetry Partners

Symmetry Partners LLC ("Symmetry") provides discretionary investment management services to meet the needs of individual clients. Symmetry creates model portfolios constructed and maintained by Symmetry using open-ended mutual funds and/or exchange traded funds. Additional information as to the services offered and fees associated with those services may be found in Symmetry's ADV disclosure brochure.

www.lfg.com/wcs-static/pdf/Symmetry%20Partners,%20LLC.pdf

CLS Investments LLC

CLS Investments LLC ("CLS") provides discretionary and non-discretionary investment management services to meet the needs of individual clients. CLS offers model-based strategies that utilize stocks, bonds, mutual funds, exchange traded funds, and/or variable annuity subaccounts. Additional information as to the services offered and fees associated with those services may be found in CLS's ADV disclosure brochure.

www.lfg.com/wcs-static/pdf/CLS%20Investments,%20LLC.pdf

City National Rochdale

City National Rochdale ("Rochdale") provides discretionary investment management services to meet the needs of individual clients with portfolios of $1M and above. Rochdale creates model portfolios or individualized management services utilizing stocks, bonds, mutual funds, and exchange traded funds. Additional information as to the services offered and fees associated with those services may be found in Rochdale's ADV disclosure brochure.

www.lfg.com/wcs-static/pdf/City%20National%20Rochdale,%20LLC..pdf

Flexible Plan Investments LTD

Flexible Plan Investment LTD ("Flexible Plan") provides discretionary investment management services to meet the needs of individual clients. Flexible Plan's services encompass various strategies with differing objectives to enable clients to receive personalized investment and utilizing mutual funds, exchange traded funds, and/or variable annuity subaccounts. Additional information as to the services offered and fees associated with those services may be found in Flexible Plan's ADV disclosure brochure.

www.lfg.com/wcs-static/pdf/Flexible%20Plan%20Investments,%20Ltd.pdf

Pacific Financial Group Inc.

Pacific Financial Group Inc. ("Pacific") provides discretionary and non-discretionary investment management services to meet the needs of individual clients. Pacific offers model portfolios created and maintained by Pacific containing mutual fund and exchange traded funds, and/or Pacific's separately managed accounts. Additional information as to the services offered and fees associated with those services may be found in Pacific's ADV disclosure brochure.

www.lfg.com/wcs-static/pdf/The%20Pacific%20Financial%20Group.pdf

Limited Arrangements

LFA may offer other TAMP or asset management programs in addition to those listed above on a limited basis. This may occur when a representative joins LFA and is using another firm for asset management services, or where there is another unique need that isn't met by the other programs that LFA offers. This may also occur based on historical or legacy arrangements LFA had in place with TAMPs or asset managers for existing accounts in which LFA has not yet closed these programs and required client's to move to a new TAMP or other investment advisory program. These programs follow the same general format and fee structure as the programs described above.

For additional information, please see the ADV disclosure brochures for the specific program.

For more information on these programs, please refer to the Form ADV, Part 2A and related disclosure documents for the investment adviser and program in question. These documents can be found on the SEC's website at www.adviserinfo.sec.gov and on the applicable program sponsor's website.

Retirement Plan Consulting Program

LFA offers consulting and advisory services for employer-sponsored retirement plans that are designed to assist plan sponsors of employee benefit plans ("Sponsors"). LFA may also assist Sponsors with enrollment and/or providing investment education to plan participants and beneficiaries. LFA provides these retirement plan services ("Retirement Plan Services") through the LFA Representatives, and may charge a fee for the Retirement Plan Services, as described in this Brochure and the Retirement Plan Consulting Agreement ("Agreement").

Retirement Plan Services include services that would be considered fiduciary services or non-fiduciary services under the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended ("ERISA"), or comparable state laws, rules and regulations. When delivering fiduciary services, LFA will act in good faith and with the degree of diligence, care and skill that a prudent person rendering similar services would exercise under similar circumstances. When providing any fiduciary services to a Sponsor, LFA will solely be making recommendations to Sponsor and Sponsor retains full discretionary authority and control over assets of the plan. When providing any fiduciary services to a retirement plan participant in connection with Retirement Plan Services, LFA will solely be making recommendations to participant and participant retains full discretionary authority and control over assets of participant's account. Sponsor may engage LFA to perform the Retirement Plan Services by providing information about the plan, including the plan design, plan objectives, investment objectives, investment risk tolerance, demographics about plan participants, and third-party service providers, and by executing an Agreement. LFA will provide Sponsor a copy of this Brochure or a comparable brochure and the Agreement for review. The Agreement describes the terms of the arrangement between LFA and Sponsor, including a description of the Retirement Plan Services and the fees to be charged by LFA. By signing the Agreement, Sponsor represents that Sponsor has received sufficient information and determined that the Retirement Plan Services selected are: (i) necessary for the operation of the plan and (ii) reasonable and appropriate based upon the compensation to be paid for the Retirement Plan Services. Sponsor must sign and submit the Agreement to LFA before LFA performs any Retirement Plan Services. A description of the Retirement Plan Services is as follows.

Plan Sponsor Services -Advice and Recommendations

Advice Regarding the Plan's Investment Policy Statement ("IPS") IAR will review the Plan's investment objectives, risk tolerance and goals with the Plan Fiduciary, and educate the Plan Fiduciary about investment theories including investment objectives, risk return characteristics, historical return and prospectus information on investment alternatives available through the Plan's provider. If the Plan does not have an IPS, the Representative will provide recommendations to the Plan Fiduciary to assist with establishing an IPS. If the Plan has an IPS, Representative will review it for consistency with the Plan's objectives. If the IPS does not represent the objectives of the Plan, Representative will make recommendations to align the IPS with the Plan's objectives. The Plan Fiduciary retains decision-making authority with respect to the terms and conditions of the IPS.

Advice Regarding the Plan's Designated Investment Alternatives ("DIAs") and Qualified Default Investment Alternative ("QDIA") Based on the Plan's IPS or other guidelines established by the Plan, IAR will review the investment options available to the Plan and will make recommendations to assist the Plan Fiduciary with respect to selecting the DIAs to be offered to Plan participants, and with respect to selecting or replacing the QDIA. Once the Plan Fiduciary selects the DIAs and QDIA, IAR will, on a periodic basis and/or upon reasonable request, provide reports, information and recommendations to assist the Plan Fiduciary in fulfilling the Plan Fiduciary's duty to monitor the Plan's investments. If the Plan Fiduciary elects to remove a DIA, IAR will provide information, analysis and recommendations to assist the Plan Fiduciary with the evaluation of replacement investment alternatives. The Plan Fiduciary retains decision-making authority to select, remove and/or replace Plan investments.

Advice Regarding Third Party Investment Managers Based on the Plan's IPS or other investment guidelines established by the Plan, IAR will review the potential investment managers available to the Plan and will make recommendations to assist the Plan Fiduciary in selecting one or more investment managers to advise on and/or manage some or all of the Plan's investments. Once the Plan Fiduciary approves an investment manager, IAR will provide reports, information and recommendations, on a periodic basis or upon reasonable request, to assist the Plan Fiduciary in fulfilling its duty to monitor the Plan's investment managers. If the Plan Fiduciary elects to remove an investment manager, IAR will provide information, analysis and recommendations to assist the Plan Fiduciary with the evaluation of replacement investment managers. The Plan Fiduciary retains decision-making authority with respect to the investment managers used in connection with the Plan.

Plan Sponsor Services -Evaluation, Education and Training

Educating and Supporting Plan Fiduciary I Committee IAR will assist the Plan Fiduciary with the establishment of the Plan committee and protocols designed to help the Plan Fiduciary establish processes and governance to prudently manage and administer the Plan. The Plan Fiduciary is solely responsible for appointing and removing Plan committee members. IAR may provide education and training to Plan committee members about their fiduciary duties and assist the Plan committee with the coordination of regular meetings. Upon reasonable request, IAR may also educate the Plan Fiduciary and Plan committee members regarding the Plan's structure, metrics, services and expenses as compared to similar retirement plans (e.g. participation rates, employer contributions, vesting time frames, loan availability, etc.). The Plan Fiduciary will retain decision-making authority with respect to the structure and features of the Plan. IAR may also update the Plan Fiduciary about current and proposed legislative and regulatory initiatives.

Assisting With Plan Service Provider Evaluation Process and Oversight IAR may assist the Plan Fiduciary with establishing a process to evaluate, select and monitor the Plan's service providers. IAR may use third-party tools and publicly available data to assist the Plan Fiduciary with benchmarking the fees charged by a service provider. The Plan Fiduciary retains decision-making authority with respect to the selection, removal and/or replacement of the Plan's service providers. These services may include one or more of the following:

- IAR may recommend procedures to track the receipt and evaluation of disclosures provided by "covered" service providers under Section 408(b)(2) of ERISA;
- IAR may assist the Plan Fiduciary with creating formal requests for proposals from prospective service providers; the collection and evaluation of information received in response to such requests; and coordinating final interviews and presentations;
- IAR may assist Sponsor with converting or merging Plans; and/or
- IAR may act as a liaison with the Plan's third-party service providers on behalf of Sponsor.

Participant Services -Evaluation, Education and Training

Facilitate Group Enrollment Meetings and Participant Investment Education. IAR will conduct periodic group enrollment and education meetings with employees and educational meetings with Plan participants and beneficiaries. IAR may provide information and materials that inform a participant or beneficiary about the benefits of Plan participation, the benefits of increasing Plan contributions, the impact of preretirement withdrawals on retirement income, the terms of the Plan including the Plan's fees and expenses, or the operation of the Plan. IAR may also provide educational information concerning the Plan's DIAs (e.g., general asset classes, investment objectives and philosophies, risk and return characteristics, historical return information, and/or related prospectuses of the Plan's DIAs).

IAR may also provide information and materials that inform a participant or beneficiary about: (i) general financial and investment concepts, such as risk and return, diversification, dollar cost averaging, compounded return, and tax deferred investment; (ii) historical differences in rates of return between different asset classes (e.g., equities, bonds, or cash) based on standard market indices; (iii) the effects of inflation; (iv) estimating future retirement income needs; (v) determining investment time horizons; and (vi) assessing risk tolerance. The information and materials described above relate to the Plan and Plan participation, without reference to the appropriateness of any individual DIA for a particular participant or beneficiary under the Plan, or are general financial and investment information that have no direct relationship to the Plan's DIAs. In conducting this service, the LFA Representative will not provide the Plan Participant with "investment advice" as that term is defined under ERISA.

Assist Participants with Financial Wellness Education, Retirement Readiness, and/or Gap Analysis. IAR may conduct group meetings with Plan participants and beneficiaries to provide education on assessing retirement income needs. Using tools available through the Plan or approved third parties, IAR will assist Plan participants and beneficiaries in conducting "gap" analyses to determine whether their current investment objectives and savings rates are sufficient to provide for future income needs during retirement. IAR may provide assistance to Plan participants and beneficiaries in creating retirement income plans.

The information and materials described above relate to the Plan and Plan participation, without reference to the appropriateness of any individual DIA for a particular participant or beneficiary under the Plan or are general financial and investment information that have no direct relationship to the Plan's DIAs. In conducting this service, the LFA Representative will not provide the Plan Participant with "investment advice" as that term is defined under ERISA.

Participant Investment Advice. IAR will meet with Plan participants periodically or upon reasonable request to collect information necessary to identify the participant's investment objectives, risk tolerance, time horizon and other pertinent information. IAR will provide recommendations to assist the participant with investing the participant's assets held in the Plan, using the Plan's DIAs, model portfolios available in the Plan, if any, or in selecting one or more investment managers. Unless the participant grants trading authority to IAR, and investment manager or another party through a separate written document, participant will retain sole discretion over the investment of participant's account.

Potential Additional Retirement Services Provided Outside of the Agreement with the Plan Sponsor

In providing Retirement Plan Services, LFA and its IARs may establish a client relationship with one or more plan participants or beneficiaries. Such client relationships develop in various ways, including, without limitation: (i) as a result of a decision by the participant or beneficiary to purchase services from LFA not involving the use of plan assets; (ii) as part of an individual or family financial plan for which any specific recommendations concerning the allocation of assets or investment recommendations relate exclusively to assets held outside of the plan; or (iii) through an individual retirement account rollover ("IRA Rollover"). LFA IARs will not, however, solicit services from plan participants or beneficiaries when providing Retirement Plan Services. If LFA is providing Retirement Plan Services to a plan, IARs may, when requested by a plan participant or beneficiary, arrange to provide services to that participant or beneficiary through a separate agreement that excludes any investment advice on plan assets (but may consider the participant's or beneficiary's interest in the plan in providing that service). If a plan participant or beneficiary desires to affect an IRA Rollover, LFA may provide the participant or beneficiary with a written explanation of the options available to the plan participant or beneficiary. Any decision to affect the rollover or about what to do with the rollover assets remains that of the participant or beneficiary alone. LFA and its affiliates may provide securities brokerage, recordkeeping and other Retirement Plan Services to plans and receive variable compensation for those services. A conflict of interest arises where LFA recommends its Retirement Plan Services or those of its affiliates. LFA, its employees, and its IARs benefit from the compensation paid to LFA, and may directly or indirectly receive a portion of the fees and other compensation paid by Retirement Plan Services clients. Those clients may also use other products or services available from or through LFA and in such case pay additional compensation. This practice creates a conflict of interest that gives LFA and its IARs an incentive to recommend Retirement Plan Services based on the compensation received. Additionally, fees and commissions may also be higher for some brokerage products, services or Retirement Plan Services, and the remuneration and profitability to LFA, its IARs and affiliates resulting from transactions involving some accounts may be greater than the remuneration and profitability resulting from other accounts, products or Retirement Plan Services. LFA addresses these conflicts through disclosure in this Brochure and additional disclosures concerning compensation we may receive, directly or indirectly. LFA will offset or refund additional compensation when required by law.

As part of LFA's service of providing recommendations regarding the selection and monitoring of investment managers, QDIAs or DIAs, LFA may provide Sponsor a list of investments, including mutual funds, to consider as options for the plan, and may provide a list of investment managers to manage the assets of the plan. Sponsor retains full authority to select all plan investments. LFA will consider information provided by Sponsor about the plan when assisting with or making recommendations about the plan's IPS. It is important that that information be accurate and current. Changes in the information will impact what assistance or recommendations may be made so it is important that LFA be accurately informed.

All investments involve risk and investment performance can never be predicted or guaranteed. The values of the account will fluctuate (perhaps significantly) due to market conditions, manager performance and other factors. Using any benchmark or index in connection with the Retirement Plan Services is no promise that the performance of the plan's particular investments will experience the same results, including the results shown on the various reports that are delivered as part of the Retirement Plan Services. Sponsor or the plan participants and beneficiaries retain all investment discretion over plan assets provided to them by the plan. Each is free to make his or her own investment decisions. No one is required to accept any assistance or follow any recommendations provided as part of the Retirement Plan Services. If the plan adopts LFA's recommendations regarding the allocation or rebalancing among model portfolios or recommendation of investment managers, the responsible Sponsor or participant or beneficiary can freely change allocations or managers. LFA may use or provide to Sponsor data or information provided by third parties when providing Retirement Plan Services. While LFA reasonably believes that the information or data is reliable, it does not promise that it is accurate, current or consistently available. Sponsor is responsible for all the tax liabilities arising from any transactions, including any liabilities arising from the failure to maintain the qualified status of a retirement plan receiving the Retirement Plan Services.

Any report containing a proposed asset allocation model is based upon several factors which may include the demographics of plan participants, current asset allocations and the value of the assets. LFA may change asset allocations and investment options within the model portfolios and has no obligation to revise the report or otherwise advise Sponsor if a model or any of LFA's assumptions change in the future. The analyses and suggested asset allocations contained in the reports may be based on historical financial data, assumptions about future financial trends (including market appreciation or decline, rates of return and risks for various asset classes), assumptions about applicable laws and regulations, and appropriate financial planning strategies. Any projections, analyses or other information contained in or with the reports regarding various investment outcomes are hypothetical in nature, do not reflect actual investment results and are not guarantees of future results. The reports do not provide advice regarding the plan's specific securities investments. Therefore, it is important for Sponsor to monitor current events, such as changes in tax laws or in the financial markets, which may affect Sponsor's decisions about the plan. The return rates and dollar figures contained in the report may not include all investment expenses; thus, any results shown may be reduced by such costs. Also, where applicable (and only as indicated) assumptions as to federal income tax rates, state income tax rates, and estate taxes reflected in the report would only be general estimates.

Item 5: Fees and Compensation

Client Advisory Fees

Some of the investment advisory fees for the third-party programs described in this Brochure are charged as an "all-inclusive" bundled fee based on assets under management. This generally includes a portfolio management fee, brokerage costs, and fees for investment advice. However, this bundled fee usually will not include costs associated with transactions that are executed at broker/dealers other than the one at which the account is held. These transactions are sometimes called "step-out" trades, and are described further below. Fees vary depending on which programs and/or services a client uses. Fees may be billed in arrears or in advance. Fees are typically charged monthly or quarterly based on the assets held within your account for services such as ongoing investment advice, investment selection and recommendations, asset allocation, execution of transactions, custody of securities and account reporting services. Please see the applicable client agreement for additional information. LFA's advisory fees are generally negotiable. Some programs charge an "unbundled" fee, in which case the client may pay a separate fee for asset management services, brokerage services, and investment advice. Depending on the program, the client may also be charged brokerage commissions and/or related costs for transactions in the client's account in addition to the investment advisory fees. Fees are described in more detail in the applicable program's Form ADV, Part 2A and in the applicable client agreement.

In programs that use portfolio managers, a portion of the total fee up to 1.50% of assets under management may be paid to the portfolio manager for their services. The amount varies by program and by manager, and is described in more detail in the Form ADV, Part 2A of the applicable program and/or portfolio manager.

A client agreement to which LFA is a party may generally be terminated at any time, by either party, for any reason on 30 days written notice. Any prepaid, unearned fees will be refunded to the client, and any unpaid fees will be due to LFA and/or the other parties to the agreement.

In some programs, the client will pay a quarterly account fee in advance, based upon the market value of the assets held in the client's account as of the last business day of the preceding calendar quarter. Depending on the program, investment advisory fees may be negotiable and will be debited from the client's account by the program's custodian. If the client terminates participation in a program for which fees are charged in advance, the client will be entitled to a pro rata refund of any prepaid quarterly fees based upon the number of days remaining in the quarter after the date upon which the notice of termination is received. The applicable client agreement contains a more detailed description of the methodology used in calculating account fees and applicable reimbursements.

Fees charged vary by office and by LFA Representative. Certain LFA Representatives provide comparable services for fees that are different from those charged by other LFA Representatives. In all instances, LFA Representatives are only permitted to charge fees within a range set by LFA.

The following is fee information specific to the LFA programs and services discussed in this Brochure

SEI Program Fees and Compensation

SEI Managed Accounts and Integrated Managed Accounts Programs

The maximum annual integration fee charged by SEI is 0.15%. The fee will cover the integration of the equity managers, which helps result in increased coordination across the equity account, increased tax efficiency and additional features such as wash sale prevention. These additional fees only apply to the equity portion of a client's account that is allocated to the integrated equities portfolio; the fees do not apply to the fixed income or funds portion of the client's account, if applicable.

Goa/Link and Integrated Managed Accounts Programs

The advisory fees that an advisor may charge on any of the SEI programs and strategies are flexible, and are based on the schedule below established by LFA. In no event may all asset-based fees and charges to the client (including those charged by LFA, SEI, or specific managers, but excluding internal expenses of mutual funds) exceed 3% per annum.

Portfolio Value	Maximum LFA Advisory Fee
Up to $500,000	2.00%
Next $500,000	1.75%
Next $1 million	1.50%
Over $2 million	1.25%

The advisory fee is negotiable and is payable monthly or quarterly in arrears, as described in the investment advisory agreement. All advisory fees will be deducted from the account pursuant to the SEI client agreement unless other arrangements have been made in writing. All such fees and charges will be clearly noted on client statements issued by SEI.

LFA and LFA Representatives, in connection with the performance of their respective services, shall be entitled to and will share in the advisory fees payable by the client. LFA may assess an administrative fee of up to 0.05% (5 basis points) on program assets. In the event such an administrative fee is assessed, it will be separately disclosed in the fee schedule attached to the client agreement, and will not be shared with or paid to the LFA Representative. LFA, in performance of its duties, may receive additional compensation from SEI. Any such compensation shall be paid from the assets of SEI and will not be charged to the client. This compensation may vary by the amount of assets under management or other factors, and will generally range from 0% to 0.25% of assets. This presents a conflict of interest for LFA to recommend the SEI program due to the potential for additional compensation. We mitigate this conflict by disclosing it to you, not sharing any revenue from such payments with the LFA Representative that recommends transactions or strategies, and by requiring that there be a review of your account at account-opening and periodically to ensure that it is suitable for you in light of matters such as your investment objectives and financial circumstances.

SEI may assess a maximum annual charge of 15 basis points (0.15%) to all accounts utilizing the IMAP program, excluding the Time Focused Strategy. This applies whether or not the GoalLink system is utilized.

Clients utilizing the Managed Account and IMAP programs, either within the GoalLink system or independently will incur additional charges from the money managers selected for investment management implementation. These charges vary by investment manager, asset class, and account size, and generally range from 0.30% to 1.20% of assets under management. Please review the account opening paperwork provided by SEI for manager-specific fees.

The client agreement may be terminated by any of the parties to the agreement by provision of written notice to the other parties. Upon termination, any unearned fees will be refunded to the client. Any fees accrued but not yet assessed to the account will be assessed prior to the termination of the agreement.

Each mutual fund has its own fees and charges, including management fees, which are disclosed in the prospectus of each fund. In addition, each fund will incur portfolio management costs, primarily in the form of brokerage commissions, as it buys and sells securities within the fund's portfolio. These costs are generally described in each fund's prospectus or statement of additional information. Although these fees are not liquidated from the client accounts and therefore may be less "visible", it is important to recognize that these fees represent costs incurred by the client.

The client may also incur certain charges imposed by third parties other than LFA Representatives and third-party investment advisers, such as SEI, in connection with investments made through a program account. These charges include the following types of charges: SEI Fund management fees and administrative servicing fees, SEI account maintenance fees, transaction fees and other fees charged by SEI, and IRA and qualified retirement plan fees. LFA does not determine, administer, or retain any portion of these fees. Further information regarding charges and fees assessed by an SEI Fund are described in the applicable prospectus. The charges which may be imposed by SEI are described in the SEI client agreement.

The client may make additions to, or withdrawals from, the SEI account upon notice to the LFA Representative and subject to the terms of the client agreement. If at any time the account assets are less than the minimum account size originally specified, that the Client Agreement may be subject to termination. The SEI account is designed as a long-term investment vehicle and asset withdrawals may impair the achievement of the client's investment objectives.

AssetMark Program Fees and Compensation

For AssetMark programs, the client will pay an ongoing investment management fee ("Management Fee") that varies by program, which includes a maximum fee of 1.35% payable to LFA. AssetMark's fees are negotiable under certain conditions, and may vary due to different factors, including the type of program, portfolio, and/or asset allocation, as well as the size of the account and/or overall client relationship. LFA's portion of the fee is negotiable, and varies among clients.

The Management Fee is calculated and billed quarterly in advance based on the value of the assets in the client's account on the last day of the previous calendar quarter. For new accounts, the Management Fee is prorated when the account is opened for the rest of the quarter. The custodian bills the client's account for the Management Fee, keeps its portion for custodial services, and pays the rest of the Management Fee to AssetMark, who then pays LFA and any Portfolio Advisers and service providers. LFA will keep part of the Management Fee, and pays a portion to the LFA Representative. LFA may also receive additional compensation from AssetMark and its affiliates for providing administrative services to AssetMark clients and accounts, and for its efforts in advising clients on their accounts on the AssetMark platform. For additional information, please see the Compensation for the Sale of Securities section of this Brochure found below. LFA may also receive cash and non-cash payments from AssetMark and its affiliates for meetings, training, and support of education and marketing initiatives. This presents a conflict of interest for LFA to recommend this program due to the potential for additional compensation. We address this conflict by disclosing it to you and by requiring that there be a review of your account at account-opening and periodically to ensure that it is suitable for you in light of matters such as your investment objectives and financial circumstances.

Clients may pay more or less for services in AssetMark's asset management programs than if they purchased similar services separately. The fees for these programs may be higher or lower than investment advisory fees charged by AssetMark or LFA to other clients for similar services. The amount of compensation received by LFA may be more or less than what it would receive if the client used other programs or paid separately for AssetMark's services. Therefore, LFA has a conflict of interest due to the financial incentive to recommend AssetMark over other programs or services. We address this conflict by disclosing it to you and by requiring that there be a review of your account at account-opening and periodically to ensure that it is suitable for you in light of matters such as your investment objectives and financial circumstances. For the specific fees applicable to each AssetMark program, please consult the Form ADV, Part 2A for the particular program.

Morningstar Program Fees and Compensation

In the MIS Mutual Fund Portfolios, the client will pay a maximum annual fee of 1.50%. The maximum client fee for the ETF Strategy is 1.41% and is 1.65% for Stock Baskets, not including the clearing and custody fees assessed by the broker/dealer and/or custodian of the account. The account fee is paid quarterly in arrears based on the average account value during the quarter. MIS will be paid for their investment advisory services as a percentage of assets. In addition, MIS will delegate certain services to LFA, such as assisting each client in completing a questionnaire and other account opening forms, determining suitability, contacting the client at least annually to identify any changes in their financial situation, and acting as liaison between MIS and the client. For these services, LFA will receive a portion of the fee paid by the client. LFA's portion of the fee will not be more than 1.10% annually.

The clearing and custody charges associated with the account will be disclosed to the client by the applicable broker-dealer. Please refer to MIS's Form ADV, Part 2A and the applicable custodial paperwork for more details on clearing and custody charges.

Solicitor Program Fees and Compensation

As part of the solicitation services LFA has provided in the past, LFA and the LFA Representative receive referral fees for making the referral, which are generally referred to as "Solicitor Fees." In most cases the Solicitor Fees are calculated as a percentage of the client assets that the third-party investment adviser manages; however, there may be instances where the Solicitor Fees are determined in some other fashion. LFA's Solicitor Fee usually is negotiable, and typically ranges between 25% and 100% of the total investment advisory fee paid by the client. The Solicitor Fees are disclosed to clients and prospective clients in accordance with Rule 206(4)-3 under the Advisers Act, which governs the payment of fees for client referrals.

LFA no longer offers solicitor programs for any new accounts as of June 9, 2017; however, LFA receives Solicitor Fees and provides solicitation services for accounts that were referred to under solicitation arrangements prior to June 9, 2017

Retirement Plan Consulting Services

Fees for the Retirement Plan Services are negotiable. Sponsor may be charged a fee based on a percentage of plan assets, an hourly rate or a flat dollar amount. Sponsor may decide whether to pay the fees directly or may authorize the plan's record keeper or custodian to pay LFA from plan assets. If fees are to be charged on an ongoing basis, they will be billed monthly or quarterly in arrears. If the fee is not hourly, the initial fee will be prorated based upon the number of days remaining in the initial monthly or quarterly period from the date of execution of the Agreement, unless other arrangements are agreed to by Sponsor. If the fee is based on a percentage of plan assets, the initial fee will be based upon the market value of the plan assets at the close of business on the last business day of the initial monthly or quarterly period, or as otherwise calculated by the record keeper used by the plan.

Thereafter, the monthly or quarterly portion of any annual asset-based fees will be based upon the market value of the plan assets at the close of business on the last business day of the previous calendar month or quarter (without adjustment for anticipated withdrawals by plan participants or beneficiaries or other anticipated or scheduled transfers or distributions of assets), or as otherwise calculated by the record keeper. If the Agreement is terminated prior to the end of a period, LFA will be entitled to a fee, prorated for the number of days in the period prior to the effective date of termination, and for asset-based fees, based on the market value of the plan assets at the close of business on the effective date of termination, or as otherwise calculated by the recordkeeper. Sponsors receiving Retirement Plan Services may pay more or less than a client might otherwise pay if purchasing the Retirement Plan Services separately or through another service provider. There are several factors that determine whether the costs would be more or less, including, but not limited to, the size of the plan, the specific investments made by the plan, the number of locations of participants, the Retirement Plan Services offered by another service provider, and the actual costs of Retirement Plan Services purchased elsewhere. In light of the specific Retirement Plan Services offered by LFA, the fees charged may be more or less than those of other similar service providers. All fees paid to LFA for Retirement Plan Services are separate and distinct from the fees and expenses charged by mutual funds, ETFs, and other investment vehicles to their shareholders. Those fees and expenses are described in each investment's prospectus, and will generally include a management fee, other expenses, and possible distribution fees. If the investment also imposes sales charges, a client may pay an initial or deferred sales charge. The Retirement Plan Services provided by LFA are designed to, and among other things, assist the client in determining which investment managers are most appropriate to each client's financial condition and objectives and to provide other administrative assistance as selected by the client. Accordingly, the client should review both the fees charged by the funds, the investment manager, the plan's other service providers and the fees charged by LFA to fully understand the total amount of fees to be paid by the client and to evaluate the Retirement Plan Services being provided.

Other Client Fees and Expenses

In addition to the program fees and transaction charges noted previously, based upon the investments selected, clients also may incur certain charges imposed by third parties in connection with the investments made through program accounts. These include, but are not limited to, the following: mutual fund or money market 12b-1 and sub-transfer agency fees, mutual fund networking fees, mutual fund or money market management fees and administrative expenses, certain deferred sales charges on previously purchased mutual fund shares transferred into a program account, other transaction charges and service fees, and other charges permitted or required by law.

LFA may receive a portion of these fees and, as such, LFA has a conflict of interest as it is incented to recommend a product or strategy that provides LFA higher compensation. We mitigate this conflict by disclosing it to you, not sharing any of these revenues with the LFA Representative that recommends transactions or strategies crediting any 12b-1 fees LFA receives back to the client account from which it was generated, and by requiring that there be a review of your account at account-opening and periodically to ensure that it is suitable for you in light of matters such as your investment objectives and financial circumstances. Further information regarding costs and fees charged by a mutual fund, ETF, variable annuity or similar investment vehicle is available in the applicable prospectus.

A client could invest in mutual funds and other investment products directly, without the services of LFA or an LFA Representative. In that case, the client would not receive the services provided by LFA or the LFA Representative, which are designed, among other things, to assist the client in determining which mutual funds or other investments are most appropriate given each client's financial condition and objectives. Accordingly, the client should review both the fees charged by the mutual funds and other investment products and the fees charged and services provided by LFA and the LFA Representatives to understand the total amount of fees to be paid by the client and thereby evaluate the services being provided.

In addition to program fees, a client also may be subject to other fees and expenses, if applicable, including dealer mark-ups, costs associated with the purchase and sale of certain mutual funds, odd-lot differentials, exchange or auction fees, transfer taxes, costs for transactions executed other than by the custodian, electronic fund and wire transfers, SEC fees, other charges mandated by law, and any record keeping and reporting fees charged to IRA and other retirement plan accounts.

Transaction fees, mark-ups or mark-downs, and other charges to cover execution, brokerage and custodial costs may apply to certain mutual funds, stocks, bonds, alternative investments, and other securities purchased in certain programs. These additional transaction fees are further detailed and described in your investment advisory account opening application and/or your advisory services agreement.

Investment managers who have the discretion to trade away from the broker-dealer associated with the investment advisory program or wrap fee program may do so for a variety of reasons consistent with obtaining an optimal combination of price and service for the client. In some cases, the investment manager may purchase certain fixed-income securities directly from the broker or dealer selling the securities in order to achieve a more favorable price, with a lower mark-up or mark-down, or because the particular security is not available through the broker-dealer associated with the investment advisory program or wrap fee program.

In other instances, the investment manager may "step-out" trades for investment advisory or wrap program clients in a "block" with the manager's other clients and execute that block with another broker-dealer to buy or sell a security in a large quantity and/or at an attractive price, to obtain specialized services offered by that broker-dealer, or for other reasons listed in such investment manager's Form ADV Part 2A disclosure brochure. When including investment advisory program or wrap program clients in such a block, depending on the arrangement agreed to with the third-party manager, the executing broker-dealer may elect to not impose any commission or separate charge for the transaction, or may add a separate commission on the transaction that will be borne by investment advisory or wrap program clients that is in addition to the program fee paid by the client. The additional commission may appear as a separate commission on the client's custodial statement or may be embedded in the listed price of the security on the client's statement. In this situation the client will incur trading costs in addition to the program fee described above.

When step-out trading occurs through broker-dealers whose commissions or other fees are not assumed within the program fee, the client incurs this additional commission or fees in addition to any program fees. Any additional trading costs may negatively impact the investment performance. However, the decision to execute a step-out trades may also potentially allow the manager to achieve a better price execution.

In some instances, stepped-out trades are executed by the other firm without any additional commission or markup or markdown, but in other instances, the executing firm may impose a commission or a markup or markdown on the trade. If trades are placed with a firm that imposes a commission or equivalent fee on the trade, including a commission that may be imbedded in the price of the security, the client will incur trading costs in addition to the program fee the client pays and described above. Please see Item 12. Brokerage Practices in this Brochure below for further information regarding these practices.

Further information regarding investment managers utilizing step-out trades and a general description of the additional costs can be found on our website www.lfg.com/public/individual/adv.

Where LFA is the introducing broker-dealer on program accounts, LFA will act as a broker for transactions in program accounts and will assess a transaction charge for certain transactions unless transaction costs are included in the asset-based fee. The transaction-based charges assessed by LFA are not shared with the LFA Representative providing services to the program accounts. The receipt of transaction charges by LFA may be viewed as a conflict of interest. We mitigate this conflict by disclosing it to you, disclosing to you the amount of commission-trading cost there will be for the products or securities being invested in, not sharing any transaction fee revenue with the LFA Representative that recommends transactions or strategies and by requiring that there be a review of your account at account-opening and periodically to ensure that it is suitable for you in light of matters such as your investment objectives and financial circumstances. LFA, as the broker-dealer on such program accounts, also has a duty to ensure such transaction charges are reasonable in light of its best execution responsibilities. LFA utilizes National Financial Services, LLC ("NFS") for several services, including clearance and execution services, through a fully-disclosed clearing agreement. The transaction charges assessed by LFA and disclosed in the Fee and Commission Schedule you receive as part of your account opening paperwork are generally higher than the fees that LFA pays to NFS for clearance and execution of transactions. When acting as the broker-dealer of record on your account, LFA is responsible for and performs a number of broker-dealer functions and services with respect to your account and any securities transactions. LFA's responsibilities include, but are not limited to, collecting, verifying and maintaining documentation about you and your account, approval and acceptance of your account, reviewing and supervising activities, including trading activities, within your account, reviewing and either accepting or rejecting any transactions within the account, transmission of all orders with respect to the account, supervision of all orders and accounts, including maintaining compliance with fiduciary standards and suitability requirements, as applicable, and ensuring that any mutual fund orders are in compliance with the terms of the applicable prospectus. LFA maintains substantial operational, compliance and technology resources in support of its broker-dealer operations necessary to provide these and other services in connection with your account and any transactions effected in your account.

LFA may offer advisor-directed portfolios as an account where no separate transaction charges apply to the client, and such charges are instead absorbed by the LFA Representative. In cases where the LFA Representative pays the transaction charges, the LFA Representative has an incentive to trade less frequently and/or to use securities that do not incur transaction charges, such as no transaction fee ("NTF") mutual funds, resulting in lower transaction charges to the LFA Representative. We mitigate this conflict by monitoring activity in client accounts and requiring that LFA Representatives document the account reviews they conduct with clients, and other ongoing advice that may not result in transactions in a specific client account. LFA also offer advisor-directed portfolios with separate advisory fees and transaction charges assessed to the client. In that case, in addition to the fee you pay for investment advice, you will also pay separate per-trade transaction charges. However, the separate per-trade transaction charges are not payable to the LFA Representative.

For certain advisory programs, through its clearing relationship with the custodian, LFA receives certain revenue related to assets held, transactions, and activity in program accounts. Such revenue may include all or a portion of any transaction charge assessed to a client or LFA Representative, asset-based revenue from mutual funds designated by the custodian as NTF mutual funds, revenue from cash balances held in certain money market mutual funds designated as "cash sweep" vehicles, a portion of the networking fees the custodian receives from the mutual fund company, and other revenue from mutual funds pursuant to Rule 12b-1 under the Investment Company Act of 1940. LFA, custodian, program sponsors and/or service providers, and each of their respective affiliates, may share in these fees. The availability of these fees may be a factor in negotiating the client's annual account fee, and presents a conflict of interest for LFA due to the potential to receive higher compensation for some products and strategies, and due to the potential to receive higher compensation based on the custodian selected. We mitigate this conflict by disclosing it to you and by requiring that there be a review of your account at account-opening and periodically to ensure that it is suitable for you in light of matters such as your investment objectives and financial circumstances. We further mitigate this conflict by ensuring the compensation or revenue LFA receives related to assets held, transactions, and activity in program accounts described above is not shared with the LFA Representatives providing investment advisory services and investment recommendations to you and your account. The receipt by LFA of these types of asset-based revenue from the clearing and custodial firm arrangements will support and defray the costs LFA has related to the ongoing maintenance of the advisory programs we offer and sponsor to LFA Representatives and clients. As such, advisory program platform costs incurred by LFA Representatives and clients may differ depending on the program being utilized and the products being recommended and selected for clients. Again, we mitigate this conflict by disclosing it to you and ensuring the compensation and revenue LFA receives related to any assets held, transactions and activity in program accounts is not shared with the LFA Representatives providing investment advisory services and investment recommendations to you and your account.

LFA does not retain 12b-1 fees paid by mutual funds on investment advisory accounts on which it is the broker-dealer of record, and LFA will credit these amounts that it would otherwise receive back to the client account from which the 12b-1 fee was generated. The receipt of any 12b-1 revenue by LFA in our fee-based programs is not paid to or shared with the LFA Representative. For complete fee details, including account fee schedules and a list of transaction charges, please see your client agreement and supporting documentation that you receive in connection with the program, including the mutual fund prospectuses.

As mentioned, LFA receives 12b-1 fees from the clearing and custodian firms for certain mutual fund share classes that you may own through your LFA fee-based investment advisory account (typically accounts that may own load-waived A or non-institutional share class mutual funds, sometimes also referred to as no-transaction fee (NTF) Funds). The mutual funds share classes that pay these 12b-1 fees typically have higher internal expenses, but in many cases these mutual fund share classes do not incur transaction fee charges (or commissions) when executing a trade at the clearing firm. Other mutual fund share classes that may have lower internal expenses and do not pay 12b-1 fees may be available, however, those share classes may incur transaction fees (or commissions) with any purchase or sale. Each share class has eligibility standards, including potentially a minimum investment requirement to purchase such share classes. Clients should not assume that they are always invested in the share class with the lowest internal expenses or costs. Please contact your LFA Representative for more information about share class eligibility and transaction costs, and please review the applicable mutual fund prospectus for further information related to the fund's expenses. LFA's receipt of 12b-1 compensation defrays the cost we would otherwise incur in distributing and making these products available, but also creates a conflict of interest given the financial incentive to receive such amounts from the mutual fund companies through the clearing and custodian firms. We mitigate this conflict by disclosing it to you and by not sharing the 12b-1 fees received with your LFA Representative. In addition, and as mentioned above, LFA does not retain 12b-1s fees paid by mutual funds on investment advisory accounts on which it is the broker-dealer of record and LFA will credit these amounts that it would otherwise receive back to the client account for which the 12b-1 fee was generated.

Many mutual funds offer multiple share classes available for investment based upon certain eligibility and/or purchase requirements. For instance, in addition to the more commonly offered retail share classes (typically, Class A (including load-waived A shares), B and C shares), some mutual funds offer institutional share classes or other share classes that are specifically designed for purchase in an account enrolled in fee-based investment advisory programs. Institutional share classes or classes of shares designed for purchase in an investment advisory program usually have lower expense ratios than other shares classes. However, these share classes may also have higher transaction costs and may have minimum purchase criteria that limit availability to larger transactions. Clients should not assume that their assets will be invested in the share class with the lowest possible expense ratio.

Your LFA Representative's assessment of the appropriate share class is based on a range of different considerations, including, but not limited to: whether transaction charges are applied to the purchase or sale of mutual funds; the asset based advisory fee charged to the client; the overall cost structure of the advisory program; operational considerations associated with accessing or offering particular share classes (including the presence of selling agreements with the mutual fund sponsors and the ability to access particular share classes through the custodian); and share class eligibility requirements. The factors considered, and the weighting of the importance of each of these factors, will vary among LFA Representatives. The transaction costs and advisory program cost structure is determined by the custodian and LFA, respectively, and is determined based on factors such as the availability of cost sharing, distribution fees, shareholder servicing fees or other compensation associated with offering a particular class of shares. In selecting or recommending particular mutual fund share classes, LFA Representatives may (but are not required to) consider the overall profitability of the account or client relationship, including the compensation available to the LFA Representative and the expenses associated with providing ongoing advice and service to the client. Accordingly, the advisory fees that are charged on an account or in the aggregate at the client relationship level may take into consideration the mutual fund share classes in which the clients are invested. Clients that are invested in institutional share classes may have higher advisory fees, and may be assessed higher transaction charges for the purchase and sale of mutual funds. Similarly, clients that are invested in retail share classes may be charged lower advisory fees, have lower transaction charges, and may receive 12b-1 credits or other fee offsets to reduce the impact of being invested in a share class with higher internal expenses. Clients that prefer or request that transaction charges be minimized or avoided may be invested in share classes with higher internal expenses but lower transaction-based charges. Please contact your LFA Representative for more information about share class eligibility and transaction costs.

LFA has a financial incentive to select or recommend a particular custodian based on other compensation that the custodian provides to LFA and its affiliates. For example, under the agreement between LFA and its clearing firm, LFA is entitled to receive certain non-recurring business development credits, which are cash payments intended to reimburse LFA and its affiliates for a portion of the technology, training and development costs associated with transitioning to a new clearing platform. Although the dollar value of the business development credits is significant, these credits are not tied to the amount of investment advisory client assets custodied with the clearing firm or to particular transactions effected on behalf of advisory clients. LFA and its affiliates also receive additional retention payments during the term of the clearing relationship as well as reimbursement for account transfer costs associated with client account transfers into the custodian and clearing firm that represent new assets for the custodian and clearing firm. These account transfer cost reimbursements may not be offered or available to all new clients transferring their assets to the custodian and clearing firm. This creates a conflict of interest for the LFA Representative because he or she could select which clients receive the transfer cost reimbursement. We attempt to mitigate this conflict by disclosing it to you and attempting to ensure that any transfer cost reimbursement provided to a client account is directly proportional to the actual costs incurred by the client in transferring his or her account to the custodian and clearing firm. This further ensures that the LFA Representative does not benefit himself or herself at the expense of the client in terms of these transfer cost reimbursements that are made available to clients.

Compensation for the Sale of Securities

Financial planning and consulting clients have the option to purchase investment products recommended by LFA and the LFA Representatives through other brokers or agents that are not affiliated with LFA. Generally speaking, and not specific to the third-party advisory programs and Retirement Plan Services described in this Brochure, commissions and other compensation for the sale of investment products provide the primary compensation for LFA and many of the LFA Representatives. LFA generally does not reduce its advisory fees to offset any applicable commissions, transaction costs or markups. Should a client choose to implement any of the suggestions made in the recommended financial plan through LFA, we will be acting in our capacity as broker-dealer, not as an investment adviser (unless otherwise agreed in writing), in executing transactions for your account.

If any of the Lincoln Financial Group companies or an unaffiliated company acts as an issuer, underwriter, distributor or adviser with respect to a product or program sold to clients, LFA earns compensation from such sale. In addition, these products and programs contain charges and commissions payable to the LFA Representatives involved. LFA and the LFA Representatives may also receive incentive awards for the recommendation of investment products, and LFA may receive 12b-1 distribution fees from investment companies in connection with the investment of client assets.

Depending on which product and/or service you purchase, you will receive materials which disclose important information, such as product prospectuses, applications, and disclosure brochures. You should read and evaluate this information carefully, and contact your LFA Representative with any questions.

LFA has agreements with certain mutual fund companies, insurance companies, broker-dealers, investment advisers, and sponsors and custodians of advisory programs in which they provide compensation and expense reimbursements to LFA in support of the training, education and marketing support required of these products. In addition, LFA may impose certain administrative costs in connection with these programs. The method, timing and amount of payments vary by program and sponsor, and typically will be paid using one or more methodologies such as: a direct reimbursement of certain expenses; payment of a specified dollar amount to participate in certain conferences; payment of a fee or service charge for a transaction; payment of a fee based on sales volume; or a payment of a percentage of assets under management. Depending on the methodology, these payments may include fees in connection with securities transactions, transaction or account-based administrative or service charges, and may include payments of 12b-1 fees or other asset-based fees from money market funds and other mutual funds. Payments calculated as a percentage of assets under management range from 0% to 0.25%. Administrative charges, if applicable, range from 0.05% to 0.25% of assets under management. LFA also provides a variety of distribution and marketing support services to mutual fund companies. The services provided to companies participating in these arrangements include, but are not limited to: opportunities to provide training and education regarding their funds, advisors and other firm personnel through office visits, educational events or conferences; review, approval and distribution of mutual fund marketing materials to advisors and existing and prospective LFA clients; business planning and other communication and support from home office, field, sales, and specialist personnel; opportunities to provide content for internal communications; and sales related reports and other information and participation in sales campaigns. While these arrangements with each fund family may vary, each fund family may pay up to 0.25% of the gross amount of each sale, and/or up to 0.20% annually of the assets of the fund family held by LFA clients in order to support and share in the distribution and marketing costs incurred by LFA. For example, for a $10,000 transaction with a participating fund family, LFA may receive up to a one-time $25 payment, and/or a $20 annual payment for the period during which the assets remain at the fund family. Certain participating fund families also make additional payments to LFA for attendance at various educational meetings hosted by LFA throughout the year.

In addition to the mutual fund families that have formal distribution and marketing support agreements, other mutual fund families make flat dollar payments to LFA from time to time. These payments are not made as part of any formalized sales-based or asset-based agreement, but rather for specific activities including, but not limited to, exhibit booth space or presentation opportunities at LFA meetings.

Certain sponsors of these programs may also directly pay for certain educational and training costs of LFA Representatives, and send their employees to meetings to provide education and training on these programs. LFA has a conflict of interest to recommend products, services, and strategies on which it receives higher compensation. We mitigate this conflict by disclosing it to you, not sharing any of these revenues with the LFA Representative that recommends transactions or strategies and by requiring that there be a review of your account at account-opening and periodically to ensure that it is suitable for you in light of matters such as your investment objectives and financial circumstances. The advisory services sponsors and other companies that provide payments to LFA as described above can be found on LFA's website at www.lfa-sagemark.com.

LFA has agreements with custodians of advisory programs under which LFA provides the custodians with certain services, which vary by custodian. These services generally include, but are not limited to, (i) clerical assistance in completing account opening paperwork and opening client accounts, (ii) clerical assistance in maintaining client accounts, processing asset transfers and money movement, (iii) reconciling and assisting in updating client account information, (iv) clerical assistance in connection with client questions and account information research, (v) helping clients with using brokerage and account services such as periodic investment programs and check writing services, (vi) notifying custodian of certain customer complaints, and (vii) monitoring activity in client accounts. Under such agreements, LFA receives compensation from the custodians for its performance of such services, including payments based on assets held in the custodians' NTF mutual fund programs. Under the custodians' NTF mutual fund programs, participating mutual fund sponsors pay a fee to the custodians to participate in the programs. A portion of those fees are shared with LFA. Such payments vary by custodian, and may be up to 0.25% of assets held in NTF mutual funds. Because LFA receives fees based upon the amount of client assets held in the custodians' NTF mutual fund programs, LFA has a conflict of interest and is incited to recommend the custodians' NTF mutual funds over other investments to receive these custodial service payments. LFA may also receive a portion of any transaction fees charged to clients or LFA Representatives, a portion of any custodial fees charged to qualified plans and IRAs, compensation for any mutual fund positions held at the custodian, and other types of compensation from the custodian related to assets held or transactions placed through that custodian. LFA may also have a conflict of interest due to the financial incentive to recommend a particular custodian based on the amount or level of NTF custodial service payments and other compensation that custodian provides. We mitigate these conflicts by disclosing them to you, not sharing any of these revenues with the LFA Representative that recommends transactions or strategies and by requiring that there be a review of your account at account-opening and periodically to ensure that it is suitable for you in light of matters such as your investment objectives and financial circumstances. LFA has a financial incentive to select or recommend a particular custodian based on other compensation that the custodian provides to LFA and its affiliates. For example, under the agreement between LFA and its clearing firm, LFA is entitled to receive certain non-recurring business development credits, which are cash payments intended to reimburse LFA and its affiliates for a portion of the technology, training and development costs associated with transitioning to a new clearing platform. Although the dollar value of the business development credits is significant, these credits are not tied to the amount of client assets custodied with the clearing firm or to particular transactions effected on behalf of advisory clients. LFA and its affiliates also receive additional retention payments during the term of the clearing relationship as well as reimbursement for account transfer costs associated with client account transfers into the custodian and clearing firm that represent new assets for the custodian and clearing firm. These account transfer cost reimbursements may not be offered or available to all new clients transferring their assets to the custodian and clearing firm. This creates a conflict of interest for the LFA Representative because he or she selects which clients receive the transfer cost reimbursement. We attempt to mitigate this conflict by disclosing it to you and also attempting to ensure that any transfer cost reimbursements provided to a client account is directly proportional to the actual costs incurred by the client in transferring his or her account to the custodian and clearing firm. This further ensures that the LFA Representative does not benefit himself or herself at the expense of the client in terms of these transfer cost reimbursements that are made available to clients.

LFA, the LFA Representatives, and clients also receive the benefit of certain services provided by program sponsors and custodians. These services may include performance reporting, statement creation and delivery, technology systems including online access to account information, fee liquidation, notification and payment services, marketing material and other services related to the management of investment advisory accounts. Some of these services may involve additional charges to LFA, the LFA Representatives, or to clients, while others are packaged and available as part of an investment advisory program without itemization of the cost of each product or service.

Further, LFA has relationships with both affiliated and non-affiliated companies that may provide additional revenue and marketing support to LFA as well as education and training to LFA Representatives for the sale of various mutual fund, annuity, life insurance and alternative investment products. This revenue and marketing support received by LFA is not paid to or shared with any LFA Representative or manager. For current information regarding specific revenue and marketing support, including a list of product sponsors, please go to LFA's website at www.lfa-sagemark.com.

LFA Representative Compensation

Some LFA Representatives receive additional compensation and/or incentive awards for reaching certain levels of assets under management in the investment advisory programs, or generating a certain amount of revenue (in fees, commissions, or a combination of both) within a certain period. The client will not be charged any additional fees due to these circumstances. However, the receipt of additional compensation presents a conflict of interest that may affect the judgment of the LFA Representative. We mitigate this conflict by disclosing it to you and by requiring that there be a review of your account at account-opening and periodically to ensure that it is suitable for you in light of matters such as your investment objectives and financial circumstances.

Most LFA Representatives are registered representatives of LFA in its capacity as a broker-dealer, and generally are licensed agents of LNL. In most cases, the LFA Representative can recommend products that are managed and/or sold by Lincoln Financial Group companies provided that the recommendations are suitable given the client's investment objectives and other pertinent factors. When such recommendations are made, the LFA Representative receives additional compensation on these products. Lincoln Financial Group companies will profit from any sales of Lincoln Financial Group products to clients of LFA. LFA Representatives may be compensated by LFA and/or the product manufacturer via commissions, asset-based fees, and/or other compensation which is built into the costs and charges of the product. This presents a conflict of interest as LFA and the LFA Representatives have an incentive to recommend products on which they receive higher compensation. This presents a conflict of interest and gives LFA and the LFA Representatives an incentive to recommend investment products based on the compensation received, rather than on a client's needs. We mitigate this conflict by disclosing it to you and by requiring that there be a review of your account at account-opening and periodically to ensure that it is suitable for you in light of matters such as your investment objectives and financial circumstances.

In some cases, LFA Representatives receive more compensation when placing Lincoln Financial Group manufactured products, and qualify for additional compensation based on the volume of those sales over time. LFA Representatives are also eligible for additional compensation and/or other incentives based on factors such as sales volume of certain Lincoln Financial Group products, the length of time that clients keep assets in the products, and/or the profitability of the products. LFA Representatives may also receive compensation based on the sales of Lincoln Financial Group products by other representatives. Many LFA Representatives participate in benefit programs whose costs are partially reimbursed by Lincoln Financial Group affiliates, and/or which are based on sales volume of Lincoln Financial Group products. LFA-affiliated companies will also benefit financially from the sale of Lincoln Financial Group life insurance, annuity, mutual fund and asset management products offered by LFA Representatives. These instances present conflicts of interest as these situations create a financial incentive for LFA Representatives to recommend products with higher compensation. We mitigate this conflict by disclosing it to you and by requiring that there be a review of your account at account-opening and periodically to ensure that it is suitable for you in light of matters such as your investment objectives and financial circumstances.

Because of the way products are priced and marketed, in certain circumstances, LFA Representatives may receive higher compensation for the sales of products offered by companies not affiliated with Lincoln Financial Group.

Some new experienced LFA Representatives moving their practices to LFA have received loans based on future sales of products and services offered by LFA, including both Lincoln Financial Group and non-Lincoln Financial Group products and services. In the past, some loans were offered based on Lincoln Financial Group products alone. Depending on the arrangement between LFA and the LFA Representative, the repayment of certain of these loans may be fully or partly waived based on reaching certain sales levels or revenues generated by the LFA Representative or the LFA Representative's time spent affiliated with LFA, or may be funded by additional compensation for these sales. This arrangement creates a conflict of interest for the LFA Representative in that he or she has an additional financial incentive to achieve specified levels of sales or revenue generation, which could impact the recommendations made to customers. In mid-2017, LFA revised the production-based forgivable loan program with new required controls and policies in place. These controls attempt to ensure that the loan amount provided to an advisor is not disproportionate to the advisor's overall production and compensation amounts earned historically and the amount that may be forgiven in any one year of the term of the loan is also capped, unless an exception is granted. This structure and approach attempts to avoid unduly influencing an advisor to have significant disproportionate production or compensation earned in any given year to attempt to receive a large windfall in having large outstanding loan amounts forgiven.

The potential conflicts of interest arising from the LFA Representative compensation arrangements described above are mitigated by the fact that LFA, LNL and their affiliated companies have suitability requirements and fiduciary obligations in certain circumstances, such as when LFA and the LFA Representatives are acting in an investment advisory capacity, as well as regulatory and compliance rules and procedures which must be followed. In addition, LFA maintains a supervisory system that includes conducting periodic supervisory and compliance inspections and audits. In most instances, LFA Representatives may only recommend products offered through LFA where LFA has a selling agreement with the product sponsors. This limitation may not apply in all cases to certain "no-load" mutual funds, ETFs, other securities and non-registered insurance and annuity products.

Item 6: Performance-Based Fees and Side-By-Side Management

LFA and the LFA Representatives do not charge fees based on a share of capital gains or capital appreciation of client assets.

Item 7: Types of Clients

LFA generally provides investment advice to individuals, high net worth individuals, pension and profit sharing plans, charitable organizations, corporations and other businesses, and state or municipal government entities.

Requirements for opening and maintaining an account, such as minimum account size, are listed above in the description for each advisory program or service, if applicable.

Item 8: Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

LFA Representatives perform analyses for asset management programs, which are provided to clients. These analyses rely on research reports and information provided by third parties who are contracted to provide such information. LFA Representatives consult with their clients to develop an investment strategy for the client. The methods of analysis and investment strategies will vary based upon the individual LFA Representative providing the advice. Where applicable, LFA Representatives may use a holistic approach in managing multiple accounts to a client's objectives and risk tolerance and for tax efficiency. LFA has tools that may be utilized in this regard or LFA Representatives may use their own expertise in making recommendations to address those concerns.

Each LFA Representative may develop specific investment strategies that may include investing in multiple or single asset classes, model portfolios or some other distinct investment strategy. Other LFA Representatives may take a more customized approach to management of client accounts. Each LFA Representative is primarily responsible for making and implementing recommendations for investment managers, strategies, and in some cases security selection for a client account within the investment guidelines of the particular program through which the client invests. At LFA's discretion, certain LFA Representatives have greater latitude in selecting and recommending securities and diversification. Therefore, the availability of investment strategies and securities and the applicability of investment limitations vary depending on a client's particular LFA Representative.

LFA researches, selects and reviews on an ongoing basis the third-party advisory programs that are offered through LFA. LFA may use information provided by the third-party advisory program sponsor and may also use independent, third-party data sources when evaluating a third-party advisory program. As with any investment strategy, asset allocation, model or investment portfolio, past performance is no guarantee of future performance. In addition, forecasts of future performance of financial markets may prove to be incorrect. Diversification helps you spread risk throughout your investment portfolio. Different asset classes have different risk and potential return profiles and they perform differently in different market conditions. Diversification alone will not guarantee a profit or protect against a loss. LFA does not independently audit the historical performance published by third-party investment managers. Clients are strongly encouraged to carefully review the third-party investment manager's disclosures regarding prior performance to determine the relevance of the prior performance to the client's account, and whether the prior performance includes any hypothetical or backtested performance information.

For all asset management programs used by LFA, the specific security analysis methods, sources of information and investment strategies depend upon and are determined by the applicable third-party asset managers. For additional information regarding the methods of analysis or investment strategies of particular third-party managers, please refer to the Form ADV, Part 2A for the particular manager.

Investments made, and the actions taken, for your account will be subject to various market, liquidity, currency, economic and political risks, among others, and will not necessarily be profitable. Investing in securities involves risk of loss that clients should be prepared to bear. Clients should understand that all investments involve risk, that investment performance can never be predicted or guaranteed and that the value of client accounts will fluctuate due to market conditions and other factors. Clients are assuming the risks involved with investing in securities, and could lose all or a portion of the amount held in their account. In addition, as noted above, certain LFA Representatives have greater latitude in selecting securities and diversification for a client's account. As such, the performance of accounts managed by different LFA Representatives may vary greatly. Past performance is not a guarantee of future results.

In addition to the risks listed above, there may be material risks associated with the types of products in which your account invests, including mutual funds and ETFs. Clients should refer to the prospectus or other applicable offering documents of those products for a discussion of applicable risk factors for that particular investment.

Item 9: Disciplinary Information

LFA is a registered broker-dealer and investment adviser. This section contains information about certain disciplinary matters that LFA believes are material to a client's evaluation of its advisory business or the integrity of its management. LFA has also been subject to disciplinary events relating to its brokerage business which LFA does not view as material to a client's evaluation of its advisory business or the integrity of its management. Additional disciplinary information regarding LFA's brokerage business can be found in Part 1 of LFA's Form ADV.

- On February 16, 2011, the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority ("FINRA") notified LFA of its acceptance of a Letter of Acceptance, Waiver and Consent (the "AWC") signed and submitted to FINRA by LFA on December 21, 2010. The AWC noted that between 2007 and 2009 LFA failed to adequately protect customer records and information in the firm's client portfolio management system and allowed certain employees to access its web-based customer account system by using shared log-on credentials without establishing adequate procedures and without controlling or monitoring who had access to the common log-on credentials. As a result of the foregoing, LFA violated Rule 30 of Regulation S-P, NASD Rules 3010 and 2110 and FINRA Rule 2010. LFA was censured and fined $150,000, and the fine was paid in full on February 23, 2011.

Item 10: Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

LFA is a registered broker-dealer and its investment adviser representatives are also generally registered representatives of LFA.

LFA's principal business is as a broker-dealer selling investment products and services, including stocks, bonds, mutual funds, annuities, insurance products and options. LFA and its executive officers spend the majority of their time with these business activities. Some of LFA's executive officers are also officers of The Lincoln National Life Insurance Company and Lincoln Life & Annuity Company of New York. The proportion of time spent on each of these activities cannot be readily determined.

LFA is affiliated with the following companies due to common ownership by LNC:

- The Lincoln National Life Insurance Company (insurance company)

- Lincoln Life & Annuity of New York (insurance company)
- LFA, Limited Liability Company (insurance company)
- Lincoln Financial Distributors, Inc. (broker-dealer)
- Lincoln Financial Securities Corporation (broker-dealer, investment adviser, and insurance agency)
- Lincoln Financial Investment Services Corporation (broker-dealer)
- First Penn-Pacific Life Insurance Company (insurance company)
- JPSC Insurance Services, Inc. (insurance agency)
- California Fringe Benefit and Insurance Marketing Corporation (insurance Agency)
- LFD Insurance Agency, LLC (insurance agency)
- Lincoln Financial Group Trust Company, LLC (trust company)
- Lincoln Investment Management Company (investment adviser)
- Westfield Assigned Benefits Company (insurance agency)

Conflicts of interest are created by financial incentives and/or compensation arrangements between LFA and its affiliates. These conflicts of interest and the steps taken by LFA to address them are described above in the section on "Fees and Compensation."

LFA may recommend or select other investment advisers for clients and receive compensation directly or indirectly from those advisers. This creates a conflict of interest in that LFA and the LFA Representatives have a financial incentive to recommend advisers based on compensation paid. These conflicts of interest and the steps taken by LFA to address them are described above in the section on "Fees and Compensation."

LFA and your LFA Representative may earn more compensation if you invest in a program described in this Brochure than if you open a brokerage account to buy individual securities or mutual funds. However, in a brokerage account, you would not receive all the benefits of the programs described in this Brochure, such as ongoing investment advice and portfolio management. For additional information regarding services and fees associated with brokerage and fee-based accounts, please refer to the 'Guide to Understanding Your Brokerage and Advisory Relationships', which can be accessed in the "Brochures" section of our website at www.lfa-sagemark.com or www.lfg.com/public/individual/adv. To request a copy of the Guide, please contact your LFA Representative or LFA directly at (800) 237-3813, or email us at lfaria@lfg.com. Therefore, LFA Representatives and LFA may have a financial incentive to recommend one of these programs described in this Brochure. The decision to invest in an advisory program is solely that of the client. Clients are provided a full description of the services and relevant fees provided under each advisory program. We also require that there be a review of your account at account-opening and periodically to ensure that it is suitable for you in light of matters such as your investment objectives and financial circumstances.

Item 11: Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading

LFA has adopted an Investment Adviser Code of Ethics (the "Code"), and all LFA Representatives and "access persons" (as defined under the Advisers Act) are required to understand and follow its provisions. Through the Code, LFA strives to ensure high standards of professional excellence and ethical conduct among its associates. The Code is aligned with Lincoln Financial Group's long standing shared values of: Integrity, Commitment of Excellence, Responsibility, Respect, Fairness, Diversity and Employee Ownership. LFA will provide a copy of the Code to any client or prospective client on request. If you would like a copy of LFA's Investment Adviser Code of Ethics, please call (800) 237-3813, extension 3056, or send an email request to lfaria@lfg.com.

LFA may engage in principal transactions mainly involving debt securities. When doing so, these securities are recommended to LFA's clients on a fully disclosed basis, and are conducted on a "riskless transaction" basis. Under these circumstances, LFA may buy or sell securities it recommends to its clients as a principal. All of this information is fully disclosed to clients through trade confirmations.

LFA, the LFA Representatives and other associated persons may buy or sell securities identical to those recommended to clients for their personal accounts. In addition, any related person may have an interest or position in certain securities which may also be recommended to clients. This creates a conflict of interest in that LFA Representatives have an incentive to put their own interests ahead of clients. Personal securities transactions by LFA Representatives are recorded and monitored by LFA.

Item 12: Brokerage Practices

The brokerage practices for the advisory services discussed in this Brochure vary depending on the particular program or service. Because LFA and the LFA Representatives generally do not have the discretion or authority to select broker-dealers or execute transactions for the advisory services and programs discussed in this Brochure, LFA does not have the opportunity to aggregate orders for the purchase or sale of securities for various client accounts.

Although LFA and the LFA Representatives may recommend or assist clients in selecting particular advisory programs, neither LFA nor the LFA Representatives have the discretion or authority to select broker-dealers for the third-party investment advisory programs discussed in this Brochure. The brokerage practices that are applicable to a particular third-party advisory program will be established by the sponsor of that program. In general, the third-party managers will have the discretion to select brokers through which to execute transactions in client accounts. In many cases, such third-party managers will require that client accounts trade through a particular broker-dealer, and those broker-dealers will frequently be affiliated with the sponsor of the program. In other cases, these third-party managers may permit clients to direct that the manager place all client transactions through a particular broker-dealer of the client's choosing.

By directing brokerage to a particular broker, clients may be unable to achieve the most favorable execution of transactions because the third-party investment manager will not be responsible for negotiating commission rates or selecting broker-dealers. In addition, transactions for the client's advisory account may not be "bunched" or aggregated with orders for other accounts managed by the third-party investment manager. As a result, directed brokerage may result in higher commissions or less favorable net prices that will cost the client more money. In addition, if the cost of brokerage commissions is included in the applicable program fee, clients that direct trades to another broker-dealer may incur a separate brokerage charge that is in addition to the program fee. For more information about the brokerage practices of a particular third-party manager or program, clients should refer to the Form ADV, Part 2A for the particular adviser.

Brokerage arrangements for the solicitor and referral programs discussed above will also vary by program or service. Please refer to the Form ADV, Part 2A for each referred adviser for details.

Step-Out Trading

As discussed in Item 5: Fees and Compensation, third-party managers that have the discretion to execute "step-out" trades with a non-associated broker-dealer will incur additional commissions or fees that the client will pay as a result of a step-out trade. Any additional trading costs may negatively impact the investment performance. However, the decision to execute a step-out trades may allow the manager to achieve a better price execution. Some managers do not pass the additional fee on to the client. Some investment advisory fees for third-party investment advisory programs described in this Brochure are charged as an "all-inclusive" bundled fee based on the assets under management. Any all-inclusive bundled or wrap fee amounts charged by the third-party manager or sponsor will cover brokerage execution at no additional charge for trades executed with that third-party manager's clearing firm. The "all-inclusive" bundled wrap fees do not cover charges resulting from "step-out" trades effected with a non-associated broker-dealers for that third-party manager.

The third-party managers and sponsors described in this Brochure are generally free to consider their own clearing firm's trading capability versus other brokers' trading capability as part of their own best-execution responsibilities and obligations as an investment adviser and sponsor to these investment advisory programs. A "step-out" trade occurs in some instances when a third-party manager purchases fixed-income or equity securities from a different broker-dealer or the broker or dealer selling the securities to obtain a more favorable price or because the particular security is not available through the associated broker-dealer.

In other instances a "step-out" trade occurs when the third-party manager executes a single trade for multiple clients by aggregating orders into a single "block". A "block" trade can provide the client with a better overall price and/or return because a single order could result in better execution versus placing multiple separate orders. When a third-party manager executes a "block" order, that manager is seeking to obtain the best-execution and best price. Aggregating transactions into a single trade may afford the investment manager more control over the execution of the trade, including potentially avoiding an adverse effect on the price of the security that could result from effecting a series of separate, successive and/or competing small trades with multiple broker-dealers or clearing firms.

When step-out trading occurs through broker-dealers whose commissions or other fees are not assumed within the program fee, the client incurs this additional commissions or fees in addition to any program fees. Any additional trading costs may negatively impact the investment performance. However, the decision to execute a step-out trade may allow the manager to achieve a better price execution.

Further information regarding investment managers utilizing step-out trades and a general description of the additional costs can be found on our website at www.lfg.com/public/individual/adv.

Clients should also review a list of the third-party managers at LFA that engage in step-out trading on the Client Disclosure Page for LFA at: www.lfg.com/public/individual/adv.

LFA anticipates that most trades will be placed through the relevant third-party investment manager's own clearing firm for execution because of their execution capabilities and because the all-inclusive bundled wrap fee charged by the third-party investment manager in certain programs covers trade charges only when trades are executed through their own clearing firm. Some third-party investment managers believe they are able to obtain better execution and utilize step-out security transactions. As noted in Item 4: Advisory Business, investment managers that have the discretion to utilize a step-out trade including but not limited to the following circumstances, equity securities, fixed income securities, certain, thinly traded securities, illiquid securities and/or ETF trades. Trades can be "stepped-out" to gain best execution and minimize the market impact of trades at a broker/dealer that is not the investment manager's associated broker-dealer. Investment managers may decide to "step-out" for a variety of reasons, such as obtaining an optimal combination of price and service to the client along with satisfying the investment manager's best execution obligation.

Best Execution

In placing orders for purchase and sale of securities and directing brokerage to effect these transactions, an investment manager's primary objective is to obtain best qualitative execution for clients in each client transaction so that the client's cost per transaction is the optimal combination of price and service considering all relevant factors including but not limited to the type of security, timeliness of execution, efficiency of execution, and any other relevant consideration. As such, an investment manager may choose to execute "step-outs" trades as discussed above and as noted above and in Item 5: Fees and Compensation.

Further information regarding the third-party investment advisers utilizing step-out trades and a general description of the additional costs can be found on our website at www.lfg.com/public/individual/adv.

LFA and the LFA Representatives have no discretion or authority with respect to the selection of broker-dealers for its Retirement Plan Consulting Program.

For additional information on conflicts of interest created by the recommendation of a particular advisory program and the resulting broker-dealer or custodian, including compensation arrangements between LFA and the other broker-dealer or custodian, please see the section on "Fees and Compensation" above.

Item 13: Review of Accounts

Accounts in asset management programs are reviewed periodically as agreed upon by the LFA

Representative and client, as transactions occur, or as requested by the client. LFA Representatives usually receive quarterly reports of client accounts. These reports are reviewed periodically by LFA and/or the LFA Representative, and are reviewed with the client during annual reviews or as part of other meetings or discussions between the LFA Representative and the client. Clients in asset management programs receive confirmations from the broker/dealer holding the accounts as activity occurs and/or monthly statements of account activity. The custodians for asset management programs provide written reports directly to clients at least quarterly.

When acting in a solicitor capacity, neither LFA nor the LFA Representatives are responsible for evaluating, monitoring or overseeing a third-party adviser's management of a client account once a referral has been made. In addition, LFA does not provide ongoing monitoring of clients participating in its Retirement Plan Consulting Program.

Item 14: Client Referrals and Other Compensation

For a description of the economic benefits received by LFA and the LFA Representatives from entities who are not clients, as well as conflicts of interest created by those benefits and how they are addressed, please see the section on "Fees and Compensation" above.

Solicitor Relationships

Clients are obtained primarily through the efforts of LFA's Representatives. At times, a third-party may refer a client to LFA. Pursuant to Rule 206(4)-3 under the Advisers Act, LFA may pay a referral fee to unaffiliated third parties as compensation for such referral. Rule 206(4)-3 under the Advisers Act requires that LFA document this arrangement pursuant to a written agreement between the parties. In addition, the agreement requires that the solicitor deliver to each solicited client a copy of LFA's Form ADV, Part 2A, as well as a separate disclosure letter that describes the relationship between LFA and the solicitor, and the compensation that the solicitor is being paid to refer the client to LFA. The fee that is paid to the solicitor is generally a stated percentage of the annual advisory fee that the client pays to LFA. The amount of the solicitor fee varies based on different factors, such as the types of services performed by the solicitor. Any advisory fees paid by a client are agreed to by the client and the investment adviser and fully disclosed in the related account opening paperwork, client agreement and related disclosures regardless of any solicitation fees that may be paid by a third-party investment adviser (solicitor) to LFA.

Other Compensation

If a client needs certain types of products or services that are not offered by LFA, LFA may refer the client to various third-party entities that provide these products or services. LFA may be paid referral fees by these third parties depending on the arrangement between LFA and the third party. Examples of these types of products and/or services may include business valuation, foundation formation, tax strategies, and other services.

Item 15: Custody

LFA generally does not provide custodial services for client assets and all client accounts are required to be held with a qualified custodian. Clients will receive account statements from the broker-dealer or other qualified custodian that holds their accounts, and clients should carefully review these statements. It is important to compare the information on these statements with reports you receive from LFA and your LFA Representative. Please note that there may be minor variations in these reports due to calculation methods. If you have any questions, please contact your LFA Representative.

LFA and the LFA Representatives generally do not take possession of client funds or securities. However, in certain asset management programs, clients have authorized LFA to deduct advisory fees from their accounts. In addition, under very limited circumstances, certain LFA Representatives provide services that require access to client accounts to perform functions such as bill paying. While LFA and the LFA Representatives do not accept authority to take possession of client assets, this level of account access is considered "custody" under Advisers Act rules. Additionally, LFA allows clients to grant authority to their LFA Representatives to initiate transfers of funds and securities transfers on the client's behalf, including transfers to third parties, through standing written authorizations. The SEC has determined that this capability is considered "custody" under the Advisers Act rules.

Item 16: Investment Discretion

LFA generally provides investment management services on a non-discretionary basis, meaning that LFA obtains client authorization before entering any buy or sell orders in client accounts. In some investment management programs offered by LFA, including the Lincoln Premier Series Wealth Management program, certain LFA Representatives are authorized by LFA to have discretion on client accounts in the form of a limited trading authorization, where written permission of trading authorization is provided by the client.

LFA does not accept discretionary authority in connection with its retirement consulting or financial planning services.

Item 17: Voting Client Securities

LFA does not accept authority to vote client securities or proxies. Clients will receive their proxies or other solicitations directly from their custodian, unless the client has provided proxy voting authority to a third party such as an investment manager. Clients should address any questions regarding a particular solicitation to their LFA Representative.

Item 18: Financial Information

LFA does not have any financial condition that is reasonably likely to impair its ability to meet its contractual commitments to clients.

Privacy Practice Notice

Lincoln Financial Advisors Corporation and Lincoln Financial Securities Corporation (both a part of Lincoln Financial Network or LFN) are committed to protecting your privacy. To provide the products and services you expect from a financial services leader, we must collect personal information about you. We do not sell your personal information to third parties. We share your personal information with third parties as necessary to provide you with the products or services you request and to administer your business with us. This Notice describes our current privacy practices. While your relationship with us continues, we will update and send our Privacy Practices Notice as required by law. Even after that relationship ends, we will continue to protect your personal information. This Notice explains our information sharing arrangement and provides information on how to contact us if you have questions regarding our privacy practices.

Information We May Collect And Use

We collect personal information about you to help us identify you as our customer or our former customer; to process your requests and transactions; to offer investment or insurance services to you; to pay your claim; to analyze in order to enhance our products and services; or to tell you about our products or services we believe you may want and use. The type of personal information we collect depends on the products or services you request and may include the following:

Information from you: When you submit your application or other forms, you give us information such as your name; address; Social Security number; and your financial; health; and employment history.

Information about your transactions: We keep information about your transactions with us, such as the products you buy from us; the amount you paid for those products; your account balances; and your payment history.

Information from outside our family of companies: If you are purchasing insurance products, we may collect information from consumer reporting agencies such as your credit history; credit scores; and driving and employment records. With your authorization, we may also collect information, such as medical information from other individuals or businesses.

Information from your employer: If your employer purchases group products from us, we may obtain information about you from your employer in order to enroll you in the plan.

How We Use Your Personal Information

We may share your personal information within our companies and with certain service providers as allowed by law. They use this information to process transactions you have requested; provide customer service; to analyze in order to enhance our products and services; and inform you of products or services we offer that you may find useful. Our service providers may or may not be affiliated with us. They include financial service providers (for example, third party administrators; broker-dealers; insurance agents and brokers, registered representatives; reinsurers and other financial services companies with whom we have joint marketing agreements). Our service providers also include non-financial companies and individuals (for example, consultants; vendors; and companies that perform marketing services on our behalf). Information we obtain from a report prepared by a service provider may be kept by the service provider and shared with other persons; however, we require our service providers to protect your personal information and to use or disclose it only for the work they are performing for us, or as permitted by law.

When you apply for one of our products, we may share information about your application with credit bureaus. We also may provide information to group policy owners, regulatory authorities and law enforcement officials and to others when we believe in good faith that the law requires disclosure. In the event of a sale of all or part of our businesses, we may share customer information as part of the sale. We do not sell or share your information with outside marketers who may want to offer you their own products and services; nor do we share information we receive about you from a consumer reporting agency. You do not need to take any action for this benefit.

Security of Information

We have an important responsibility to keep your information safe. We use safeguards to protect your information from unauthorized disclosure. Our employees are authorized to access your information only when they need it to provide you with products, services, or to maintain your accounts. Employees who have access to your personal information are required to keep it confidential. Employees are trained on the importance of data privacy.

Your Rights Regarding Your Personal Information

Access: We want to make sure we have accurate information about you. Upon written request we will tell you, within 30 business days, what personal information we have about you. You may see a copy of your personal information in person or receive a copy by mail, whichever you prefer. We will share with you who provided the information. In some cases we may provide your medical information to your personal physician. We will not provide you with information we have collected in connection with, or in anticipation of, a claim or legal proceeding. If you request a copy of the information, we may charge you a fee for copying and mailing costs. In very limited circumstances, your request may be denied. You may then request that the denial be reviewed.

Accuracy of Information: If you feel the personal information we have about you is inaccurate or incomplete, you may ask us to amend the information. Your request must be in writing and must include the reason you are requesting the change. We will respond within 30 business days. If we make changes to your records as a result of your request, we will notify you in writing and we will send the updated information, at your request, to any person who may have received the information within the prior two years. We will also send the updated information to any insurance support organization that gave us the information, and any service provider that received the information within the prior 7 years. If your requested change is denied, we will provide you with reasons for the denial. You may write to request the denial be reviewed. A copy of your request will be kept on file with your personal information so anyone reviewing your information in the future will be aware of your request.

Accounting of Disclosures: If applicable, you may request an accounting of disclosures made of your medical information, except for disclosures:

- For purposes of payment activities or company operations;
- To the individual who is the subject of the personal information or to that individual's personal representative;
- To persons involved in your health care;
- For notification for disaster relief purposes;
- For national security or intelligence purposes;
- To law enforcement officials or correctional institutions; or
- For which an authorization is required.

You may request an accounting of disclosures for a time period of less than two years from the date of your request. You may ask in writing for the specific reasons for an adverse underwriting decision. An adverse underwriting decision is where we decline your application for insurance, offer to insure you at a higher than standard rate, or terminate your coverage. Your state may provide for additional privacy protections under applicable laws. We will protect your information in accordance with these additional protections.

When Registered Representatives Leave Lincoln Financial Network

We understand that the relationship you have with your registered representative is important to you. If your registered representative's affiliation with Lincoln Financial Network ends and he or she chooses to move to a different broker-dealer, or if your registered representative's relationship with LFN is terminated, your LFN registered representative may be allowed to take with him or her copies of all client and account documentation (including but not limited to: account applications; customer statements; and other pertinent forms related to your account), so your registered representative is able to continue the relationship with you and service your account through his or her new firm. LFN will also retain copies of your client and account documentation. You do not need to take action if it is your choice to allow your LFN registered representative to keep copies of your confidential information should he or she leave our firm.

If you do not want your registered representative to keep copies of your confidential information should he or she decide to end the relationship with Lincoln Financial Network in the future, you have the right to opt out*. If your account with us is a joint account, we will treat the opt out request by a joint account owner as applying to all owners on the account. If you choose to opt out now; at any time in the future; or wish to withdraw your opt out request, contact us by phone at 800-248-2285. If it is your choice to opt out there will be a 30-day period before your opt out will take effect.

If you have questions about your personal information we have on file, your request should be directed to:

Lincoln Financial Network
Attn: Enterprise Compliance and Ethics
1300 S. Clinton St.
Fort Wayne, IN 46802

Please include all account numbers you maintain with LFN with your correspondence.

*Lincoln adheres to all applicable state and federal privacy regulations. Residents of Arizona, California, Georgia, Maine, Massachusetts, Minnesota, Montana, Nevada, New Jersey, North Carolina, Ohio, Oregon, Vermont, and Virginia will be provided an opportunity to opt in for information sharing per applicable state law

This information applies to the following Lincoln Financial Network companies:

Lincoln Financial Advisors Corporation
Lincoln Financial Securities Corporation
JPSC Insurance Services, Inc.
LFA, Limited Liability Company