

Lawrence S. LoRusso, MBA

Investment Advisor Representative

Larry has been an associate with JHFN/Lighthouse Financial Network, LLC for over 40 years after receiving his M.B.A. from Fordham University. His professional accomplishments to date are truly remarkable by any standards.

He has qualified for 17 consecutive Presidents Cabinets which is one of the highest honors in the JHFN system and for 14 years he was recognized as the National Sales Leader for Health Insurance Sales.

Larry was inducted into the coveted “John Hancock Hall of Fame”, at the early age of 37, one of the youngest inductees of all time. He works exclusively in the medical market and counts as his clients some of the most prominent and renowned physicians in the country. He focuses on all aspects of Estate and Business Planning Strategies which allows his clients to focus on their practice. Larry’s focus on Physicians has resulted in numerous speaking engagements before many medical groups over his career. He has also been a sought after speaker for other financial professional groups and often speaks at their conferences.

Larry has been married for over four decades to his wife Frances and has two married, successful daughters and twin granddaughters. Larry served with distinction in the United States Marine Corp and Marine Reserves. Among his numerous hobbies, he is an avid equestrian, who keeps his four horses on his Long Island property.

He is also an active supporter and fundraiser for numerous humanitarian and animal causes.
