Thanksgiving and the Mayflower Compact

Before the Pilgrims sailed, they secured a charter to settle the Northern part of the Virginia Colony in British North America. When they arrived, 500 miles off course, they had no rights to settle the land around their anchorage.

Determined to make the most of their circumstances, the Pilgrims sowed the early seeds of Democracy by establishing the Mayflower Compact. The passengers of the Mayflower established a "civil body politic." They agreed to submit to government chosen by common consent, and obey all laws made for the common good of the colony.

These principles, including the freedom of religious expression, and the rule of "just and equal laws," would guide and inform American thinking for years to come. After the Revolutionary War, politicians looked to the Mayflower Compact for inspiration and guidance as they pondered the laws that should

GIVING THANKS

We're overwhelmed with gratitude this holiday season and want you to know that when we count our blessings, we count you.

Wishing you and your family a wonderful Thanksgiving filled with family, friends, good food and most of all -- the gift of gratitude.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

"I would maintain that thanks are the highest form of thought, and that gratitude is happiness doubled by wonder."

--G.K. Chesterton (1874-1936)

guide our new country.

John Adams said the agreement was "the first example in modern times of a social compact or system of government instituted by voluntary agreement conformable to the laws of nature, by men of equal rights and about to establish their community in a new country."

This year, we can be grateful to the Pilgrims for more than the traditions of feasting and giving thanks; we also can show appreciation for the freedom and responsibilities of democracy.

We're thankful to have the opportunity to serve you – through good times and bad. If you have questions or need assistance, please contact us.

Happy Thanksgiving!
