

STUDENT OF INTEGRITY

CHRISTIAN FRANCISCO

ROGERS HIGH SCHOOL

Christian Francisco moved with his family to Rogers, Ark., from the suburbs of Chicago when he was in third grade. During his time at Rogers High School, Francisco has taken a rigorous schedule, including 11 AP courses, filled with his favorite subjects, math and science. In addition to recently making National Merit Semifinalist and being named an AP Scholar with Distinction, Francisco also scored a 35 on his ACT with a super score of 36 and a 1500 on the SAT.

It is what Francisco does outside of his schoolwork, however, that is just as impressive. He is the captain of the varsity football team, a member of the varsity baseball team, president of the Regions Bank Student Bank Board, vice president of Rogers High School DECA, and the vice president of Rogers High School FCA, in addition to serving as a member of Fellowship Bible Church and a student-leader for 5th grade boys.

Francisco says his priorities include first, his ministry and relationship with Christ — from worship services to Wednesday night youth group to leading an elementary group. Second, education. He plans to major in engineering to one day build sustainable housing, create new vaccines, and design advanced transportation solutions. And last, football. “Football has been a refuge for me throughout high school,” he explains. Francisco has been offered the opportunity to play football at several colleges, and was named the NWA Democrat-Gazette Player of the Week earlier this season.

As for what integrity means to him, Francisco says, “Holistically, integrity means always doing what you can to help others or make the world a better place. Even if you are not facing any consequences, integrity means always putting yourself second and doing the right thing.” ■
