

WEEKLY ECONOMIC UPDATE

May 22, 2017

WEEKLY QUOTE

“You are the average of the five people you spend the most time with.”

- Jim Rohn

WEEKLY TIP

Some businesses offer their workers life insurance coverage of 1x-3x salary as part of a group benefits package. This is usually insufficient coverage for all but the youngest employees. If your company offers you no option of any additional coverage, explore buying a policy for yourself.

WEEKLY RIDDLE

What four U.S. states have names that start and end with the same vowel?

Last week's riddle:

I am an 8-letter word beginning with s and ending with g, you can make 7 more words by subtracting one letter at a time from me. What word am I?

Last week's answer:

STARTING: Starting-
Staring-String-Sting-
Sing-Sin-In-I.

CONSTRUCTION ACTIVITY SLOWED IN APRIL

Against expectations, both housing starts and building permits declined in the fourth month of the year. Newly released Census Bureau data shows a 2.5% retreat for permits and a 2.6% pullback for starts last month. The key factors: a 9.2% drop in starts for multi-family projects (which have declined for four straight months) and a 4.5% fall for single-family permits.<sup>1</sup>

INDUSTRIAL OUTPUT SURGES

Economists polled by Briefing.com expected industrial production to rise 0.3% in April, following a 0.4% advance in March. The number surprised to the upside – the Federal Reserve reported a 1.0% improvement.<sup>2</sup>

GOLD & WTI CRUDE STAGE MAJOR RALLIES

As both stocks and the dollar hit a rough patch last week, investors turned to commodities. Gold advanced 2.1% on the COMEX in five trading days, settling at $1,253.60 Friday. Oil gained a little more than 5% for the week to a Friday close of $50.33 on the belief that OPEC would extend its current production cut.<sup>3,4</sup>

STOCKS FINISH A CHOPPY WEEK LOWER

Wall Street took a plunge Wednesday on political concerns, then rebounded for two days. Still, all three major indices saw 5-day retreats. The Nasdaq Composite lost 0.61%; the Dow Jones Industrial Average, 0.44%; and the S&P 500, 0.38%.
